70 Years!

The editor of Paddock Publications had two surprises this week.

No. 1 — A birthday party he knew nothing about.

No. 2 — He learned a man can be 70 years old and still feel as young as ever.

Seventy years old is not young, and now that this editor has reached three score and ten, he admits he is in the old men's category. And folks, it's not bad at all.

We wonder when a "young man" is no longer "young." This editor realizes he has been placing himself in that class about 30 years—no, 40 years too long. But then, how can a "young" fellow of 60 or 70, wearing fancy sport shirts, ankle length sox and slacks realize according to his years he should be decrepit. He is only keeping up with the times—the same as the grandma of today who may wear shorts and a halter.

WE WERE asked at our birthday party this week, "What was the most outstanding event in your life?"

The answer given to the questioner was, of course, "The day I met my wife."

When a man reaches 70 he can be excused to do a little reminiscing with a typewriter. Of the early events that stand out uppermost in the 70 years I have been on this earth, the last 30 years are too recent to be included.

I WAS A youngster of 8 or 9 when Sitting Bull caused disturbances among the dissatisfied Indians in the Dakotas from 1889-90. I was very fearful the Indians would defeat the soldiers and reach my home town.

When I attempted to play hooky from school, I felt very much disgraced when I was forced to go to school an hour late.

It was about that time that a man equipped his arms with manual wings, leaped from the roof of a building and attempted to fly. My elders told me that such an attempt against God's law of gravity could never be accomplished.

I GOT MY FIRST smell of printers' ink when I was placed on a stool before a type case, handed a composition stick and told to set type. My copy was my second reader.

I don't remember anything outstanding during the years I was a printer's devil except when I put so much fuel in the boiler of a steam engine that operated the presses that the occupants of the printing office ran outdoors expecting the boiler to blow up.

I can remember more about the buildings and exhibits of the World's Columbian exposition held in Chicago in 1893, than I can about the Century of Progress in 1933.

MY YOUNGER brother and I were allowed to make the trip by train to the world's fair alone. Even half fare tickets were not in the budget for members of the editor's family. The trip to Chicago and the Columbian Exposition was delayed two weeks waiting for the arrival of R. R. passes.

The only attractions on the Midway we could visit were the ones for which we had press admission tickets, and they were the least interesting ones, except the Igorrote village of pygmy people from the Philippine islands, whom we were told in their own country wore no clothes and we were surprised that those at the fair did.

I HAD TO WAIT until the St. Louis Exposition, ten years later, before I had the opportunity to ride on the ferris wheel, which had been moved there from Chicago.

THE DEPRESSION of the early 1890's did not mean much to me because families of editors were always poor.

The Spanish-American war and the Dewey victory at Manila stand out, as do Teddy Roosevelt's Rough Riders.

I was 9 years old when the first safety (present style) bicycle, a Waverly, arrived in town. It cost $85, and only the son of the banker owned one. We were all envious because it had pneumtic tires.

None of us boys owned swim suits. We just used the old swimming hole in the Des Plaines river.

THE OWNERS of the first automobiles took a lot of pleasure in giving their friends rides on a Sunday afternoon. Of course they were all open cars designed for summer time driving. The driver wore goggles, and the passengers, dusters. Everyone needed a bath when they returned from a breathtaking, dusty trip of a hundred miles. Thirty-five miles an hour was considered dangerous speeding.

I thought it was a privilege when I was a passenger in a Buick which made the trip from Palatine to Lake Zurich in 20 minutes at the tremendous speed of 35 miles an hour.

SUNDAY BASEBALL was taboo. A boy recognized as one of the best catchers in this area played under an assumed name two summers. Today I wonder if his parents were so blind that they did not know what was taking place.

Sunday afternoons the young people thought it was tops to walk down the railroad track.

I did not really become an editor until 1899 when I wrote my first story, about a school party held on the first floor of the old Palatine Masonic building. It was about the time I was strong enough to pull the lever of a Washington hand press, printing two pages of the Palatine Enterprise at a "pull."

IN THOSE DAYS Arlington Heights was a good hour of horse and buggy travel from Palatine. In order to show the people of Arlington the editor's family was interested in their home town my dad suggested I attend Sunday school at the Arlington Presbyterian church. It meant riding a bike over the dusty roads—a good five miles via Palatine and State rds.

Although my name appeared in the masthead of the Enterprise, I was only a teenager at heart and nothing could be more exciting than riding "blind baggage" on the front of the 5:12 p. m. mail train to Arlington, where we would again try "blind baggage" to get back home on the Janesville mail train a half hour later.

Double and even triple dating was about the extent of the social life of the boys and girls of high school age. Vehicles used were horses and buggies, and the two livery stables in Palatine did a big business. We would reserve a surrey and team of horses for the July 4 celebration at Barrington or Lake Zurich three months in advance.

THERE WAS ONLY one rubber tired buggy in town and competition for it was heavy. Horse drawn buses took the crowd to Plum Grove picnics and Highland Grove dances held on the second floor of a barn on Algonquin rd.

Dances given by the Long Grove social club were popular. Some of us fellows thought our parents and our regular girl friends, who were too much Methodist to go to public dances, did not know we were stepping out such evenings with "non-Methodist" girls. We always had a good time.

The height of fashion required the correctly dressed young man to wear a 2½ inch or 3 inch high collar.

THE NEXT few years sped swiftly. World War I came. A special train carrying inductees from Palatine and Arlington Heights carried off the majority of the young men who today are staid members of the American Legion. They were given an ovation on their departure.

We do not know if the citizens of 1918 were more patriotically minded than were those of 1945 at the close of World War II, but there never was a more spontaneous celebration in which all religious creeds participated than was the Arlington Heights community celebration when the boys came back home.

As stated before, the last thirty years are too recent to be included in these memories.

During this 70 years we have seen the reaper and binder replaced by the combine; the telephone become a daily necessity; gas lights replaced by electricity; steam power replaced by gas and electricity; the automobile transportation, the flying machine, the radio, the coming atomic age, and the countless other things that make life easy for even a 70-year-older.

PERHAPS the greatest wisdom we have gained during those years is the realization that even an editor has no license to tell the other fellow how to live his life.

Begin new welcome program in Arlington Heights

Community Camera

Something new came to Arlington Heights last week when the Chamber of Commerce inaugurated its welcome program. Under the new plan, Mrs. Almon Conger (at left in picture) will call on all newcomers to the village to present them with a booklet describing the village, and with a coupon book redeemable at local stores.

The program was undertaken, according to Mr. Knaack, because "The Chamber in order to emphasize the 'City of Good Neighbors,' felt the need of establishing a program whereby all new residents could be personally acquainted with and greeted in Arlington Heights. As a result the welcome program was inntiated."

Under the arrangement, all new residents are personally called upon by Mrs. Conger, official representative of the Chamber. They are given the booklet, "Introducing . . . Arlington Heights," which contains pertinent information about the community, such as an explanation of the village government, its officials, location of offices, services of the community, organizations, churches and their locations, times of services, educational system, and a history of the village.

They also receive a map of the city and a book of 35 coupons redeemable at local stores for merchandise and gifts. These coupons are offered by member firms of the Chamber of Commerce as a token of welcome.

Local clergy will be given the names of all new families who

Plan Commission and Dist. 25 agree; village says O. K., but -

Elementary School District No. 25, Arlington Heights Plan Commission and the village board have all agreed on the streets that should be established to provide proper access to the new school for which the school board recently purchased a site east of Scarsdale Estates.

The "but" to the situation is that while the village is agreeing to the plan it is not pledging iself to condemnation proceedings if necessary to secure the right-of-way.

The village will ask property owners facing Dryden street to donate the 33 feet required to make it a full width street, which in turn would prmit pupils attending the school from Central road to reach the school without traveling around Scarsdale Estates.

The opening of Lincoln Lane, an east and west street, through Scarsdale Estates, is part of the plan. It is hoped that it can be secured by free dedication without condemnation proceedings.

AGREEMENTS were reached on other matters. Changes have been made by the builder in a house to be erected on Drury Lane, Stonegate, that removes objections of neighbors.

Architect Klopp was given the ok to proceed with his plans for the Lutheran activity building that may not meet the building code, but which have been approved by the state fire marshall's office.

Approval was also given on two homes the plans of which were near the border line of the code.

Building permits for July included 21 single family residents, valued at $266,173, 15 garages for $12,950 and $5,350 for alterations.

First polio case in Arlington

Mrs. Roy Skibbe of 844 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, is the victim of the first case of polio in Arlington. She was taken ill August 1, and is undergoing treatment for paralytic polio at Evanston hospital.

Although she is in a weakened condition, Dr. John B. Hall, county health director, told Paddock Publications her case was not too serious.

Mrs. Doris Schultz of Des Plaines contracted polio August 2, and is also undergoing treatment at Evanston hospital.

MRS. THELMA CARROLL, Arlington Heights community nurse, gives the following do's and don'ts regarding polio:

DO—allow children to play with friends they have been with right along. Keep them away from new people, especially in the close daily living of a home.

DO—wash hands carefully before eating and always after using the toilet—especially important when polio is around. Also keep food clean and covered.

DO—watch for signs of sickness, such as headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, sore muscles, stiff neck or back, extreme tiredness or nervousness, trouble in breathing or swallowing.

DO—put a sick person to bed at once, away from others, and call the doctor. Quick action may lessen crippling.

DO—telephone your local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, if you need help. Locate through telephone book or health department. No patient need go without care for lack of money. Your chapter will pay what you cannot afford.

DO—remember—at least half of all polio patients get well without any crippling.

DON'T—get over-tired by hard play, exercise, work or travel. This means men, women or children.

DON'T—get chilled. Don't bathe or swim long in cold water, or sit around in wet clothes.

DON'T—have mouth or throat operations during a polio outbreak.

DON'T—use another person's towels, dishes, tableware or the like.

DON'T—take children to places where there is polio. Ask your health department.

DON'T—take your child out of camp or playground, where there is good health supervision.

Completing plans for $1,000,000 new home for Lutheran Home for Aged

Architect plans are being completed for the new Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, at Arlington Heights which action was recently authorized at a meeting held in the present home. Actual construction may not start until early next year but contracts are expected to be awarded this fall.

The building will cost in the neighborhood of a million dollars.

It will comprise three units with provision for future expansion. It will double the present capacity. There will be incorporated in the new structure all of the modern facilities, including an elevator.

The present building is nearly 60 years old, although an addition was built about 15 years ago.

Five cars given away at local village festivals

Five 1951 cars found new owners this past week. The cars were given away at festivals in Arlington Heights, Prospect Hts., Northbrook, Park Ridge, and Palatine.

G. B. Webber of 421 Bobolink, Prospect Meadows, received the Ford V8 given away at Prospect Heights Tuesday night. The deluxe Kaiser offered at the Palatine Fireman's festival was taken home by Mrs. E. Lipke of Blue Island. A Plymouth highlighted at Northbrook Days now belongs to Marlow Anderson of Glenview.

The Ford car offered at the St. James Parish party in Arlington Heights went to an Arlington woman, Mrs. Steve Mukahirn, 109 S. Dunton. A shiny new Cadillac shown at the Park Ridge Legion festival is now owned by A. Seipp, 122 Gillick, Park Ridge.

DEATHS AND ACCIDENTS CONTINUE ON HIGHWAYS

Bensenville man burns to death after collision

Robert Graham, 30-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus W. Graham of Bensenville, burned to death Monday morning in a collision with a truck at Mannheim road bridge over the Milwaukee road tracks.

Graham, operational engineer for the county highway department, was on his way to work when the collision with the Pipe Line Service corporation truck occured at 5:30 a. m. A heavy downpour, causing poor visibility, was blamed for the accident.

Graham, living at 630 N. Parkside in Chicago, is survived by his wife, Doris, daughter, Gwendolyn, and two younger brothers, Richard and William.

The parents live at Route 83 and Wood street, Bensenville.

MRS. ANNA ROHDE, 44, of 1422 Henry st., Des Plaines, died last Thursday at Elmhurst hospital from a heart attack, following an accident that occurred the previous evening at Higgins and Mannheim road when the auto in which she was riding collided with a truck.

Police reported Mrs. Rohde was riding in an auto driven by her husband, Fred L. Rohde, 58. Driver of the truck was Herbert Gustafson, 57, of Route 1, Arlington Heights.

According to police, both vehicles were traveling northwest on Higgins rd. and the accodent occurred shortly after Rohdle had started his car moving forward after stopping at a traffic signal. The Gustafson truck rammed the rear of the car, police said.

An ambulance from O'Hare field under the direction of Lt. G. M. Wolferton removed Mrs. Rohde to Elmhurst hospital where she died seven hours later.

Surviving are her husband; two sons, Frederick, a sergeant with the army, and John, of the home; her mother, Mrs. Johanna Kleinsmith.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Christ Evangelical church at Des Plaines with Rev. R. K. Wobbe officiating. Burial will be in Ridgewood.

Fifteen persons were injured Sunday afternoon in a three-car crash on Route 12, two miles south of Lake Zurich in Lake county.

Lake county deputies said the crash tied up traffic for several hours. Southbound cars were bottle-necked as far north as Delavan, Wis.

Deputy Albert Weinberger reported the accident occurred when a station-wagon driven by Bruno W. Wehlman of Chicago, going north collided head-on with a car operated by Arthur V. Sweeney of Chicago.

THE IMPACT hurled the Sweeney car into the path of a machine being driven by Frank Addesso, 31, also of Chicago.

Twenty persons were riding in the three vehicles with most of them thrown onto the highway. One of the cars burst into flame and the Lake Zurich fire department was summoned. No one was burned.

Ambulances from Palatine, Libertyville, Barrington and Wauconda were rushed to the scene with 13 persons removed to hospitals.

GARRY MURPHY, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Murphy, Rand rd., is in the Northwestern hospital, Des Plaines, with a broken leg. He was riding a Whizzer bike, on the south shoulder of Rand rd. near Route 53, when he was hit by an automobile.

The driver of the car was Mary Ann Rudisell, Wauconda. She told the county police that she was traveling south and saw the boy, but when she made a right turn to a vegetable stand the right fender of her car hit the bike.

Tharp ambulance took Garry to Dr. C. A. Starck, Palatine, who had him taken to the Des Plaines hospital where he set the bone.

Spectators say that Garry bore the pain stoically. No tears came to his eyes at the time of the accident or afterwards. His mother, at the time of the accident, was in Chicago meeting her mother who was arriving from California.

A THREE CAR collison involving Loren Hollenback of Mt. Prospect, Bruno Pacyga of Chicago, and Laurance Calufetti of Johnson City, Ill., occurred at the junction of routes 83 and 68 (Dundee road) Sunday afternoon with three injured.

Calufetti, stopped for the stop sign, was struck in the rear by Pacyga, who in turn was hit by Hollenback, driving the car of John Randag of Arlington Hts.

Those injured were Martin Polek, 5035 S. Hermitage and Thomas Pacyga, same address, who were in the car driven by Bruno Pacyga, who suffered head injuries and were treated by Dr. Larson, of Wheeling.

THREE PERSONS were injured, none seriously, in an auto accident Sunday at Rand and Elmhurst rds.

Injured were: Rose Hurwitz, 53; Shirley Hurwitz, 23, and Melvin Hurwitz, 28, all of Chicago.

Police said the injured were riding in an auto driven by Leon Hurwitz, 53, also of Chicago, which collided with a car driven by Leonard A. Sturm, 55, of Rockford.

MRS. INGA ROE, 63, of River Grove, was injured Thursday August 1, in a hit-run accident at State rd. and Northwest highway in Arlington Heights.

She was taken to Northwestern hospital at Des Plaines for treatment, and later dismissed

Mrs. Roe was riding in an automobile driven by her husband, Ole, 58, a painter.

Roe told police he was driving east on Northwest highway when an automobile, traveling in the opposite direction, forced his car off the highway and it overturned.

AN AUTOMOBILE driven by Nicholas Bernick, 43, of 43 E. Wood st., Palatine, was involved in a two-way crash Thursday, August 2, in which Mrs. Marie Hansen, 56, of Skokie was injured.

Mrs. Hansen was riding in a car operated by her husband, Hobert, 63.

HOLD UP APPROVAL OF SEWER-WATER PLANS

Village dads say they haven't had time to study engineer's plans

The people of Arlington Heights at a recent election gave their ok to the proposed sewer and water improvement. The engineers have done their best. The state of Illinois through the State Board of Public Health has approved the plans. Clarence W. Klassen, of the state sanitary board, which gave the sewage ultimatum to the village of Arlington Heights two years ago, as well as Roland R. Cross of the state health department, have given their approval.

Monday night the village was asked to pass a resolution certifying its approval to the plans. The village dads were not ready to act that fast. They will meet in special session Monday night to discuss the matter.

Attorney Thal told the board Monday night that the enacting ordinance is nearly ready for passage. If the village board makes any major changes Monday night the projects will probably suffer a two months further delay.

The sewage treatment project seems to be a hoodoo. It has been on the fire nearly two years, almost as long as the Dunton street widening, for which contracts will probably be let within the next sixty days.

With a million dollars involved the public can understand the hesitancy of the village trustees. The citizens advisory committee spent several months "checking."

Paddock Publications suggests that when Mayor Goedke calls the meeting to order Monday night that the doors be locked until definite action is taken even if it is the next morning.

Stolen automobile destroyed by fire

A stolen automobile was destroyed by fire early Friday after thieves abandoned it near Arlington Heights.

County sheriff's deputies E. Balle and Joe Lewis said the car had been doused with gasoline after the motor number had been defaced and the serial plate ripped from the engine.

Police traced ownership to Frank Czerwinski of Chicago. The auto was stolen July 6.

The car was abandoned on McDonald road behind Old Orchard golf course. Employees of the course discovered the burning car and notified police.

Palatine boy badly burned; bottled gas explosion injures man

Jerry Dilks, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Dilks, Freeman Court, Palatine, is in a serious condition from burns at St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin, where he was taken Sunday afternoon.

Blood transfusions and skin grafting may be necessary to save the boy's life.

His elders had been burning some rubbish and had left the bonfire to burn out. Jerry drew some gasoline from a tank and went to the fire. When he partially emptied the can, the resulting "puff" caused him to step backward. In doing so, the gasoline remaining in the can was thrown over him. His clothing was practically burned off.

GAS FUMES from unlighted gas water heater is blamed for the burns suffered Tuesday evening by Harold DeBerg, track supervisor of the North Western who resides on Franklin rd., Palatine.

The pilot light had gone out. The burner is in a basement room. DeBerg waited what he thought was a sufficient time for the fumes to evaporate. When he struck a match, there was an explosion.

He automaticallly covered his face with his hands and arms, which resulted in only one degree burns there, but third degree burns resulted to his hands and arms. The injured man was able to use a hose and extinguished a fire which had started overhead.

Dr. Fleishman was called and was on the scene within a few minutes. He rushed DeBerg to St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin, where he will remain a few days.

4-h program August 10-12

As this paper goes to press there is a lot of activity at Arlington Park Race Track in preparation for the opening of the 4-H Club Fair Friday. The women and girls in 4-H Club work have joined whole-heartedly in this year's event.

There is no admission charge. There is a new program each night.

Probably no local event was ever held under more auspicious conditions. There will be no bingo games, and no way to spend money except for refreshments. Entire families can attend without stretching the pocketbook. The following program tells the story:

Lions to stage Olympics for local children Wednesday

Boys and girls of Arlington Heights are invited to participate next Wednesday in a field day, called the Lions Olympics, open to all and held at Recreation park.

Advance registration of entrants is accepted by Russ Attis, park recreation director, but in most classifications boys and girls who go to the park Wednesday morning may still enter.

Festivities will get under way with a parade at 9:30 a. m. Termed "anything on wheels," the parade will feature contestants with decorated bikes, wagons, scooters, etc., with prizes being awarded, three each to boys and girls.

Following the parade there will be four athletic contests, each run off in three age groups. The 40-yard dash and base running competition will be run separately for boys and girls, while in the broad jump and baseball throw they will compete together.

The afternoon will see the finals of contests in which the contestants have already qualified. Tennis finals will be played and the Cubs and Sox — midget boys' teams — will play the final game of their volleyball tournament. The Cubs have won the softball tournament and will receive their emblems.

OTHER CONTESTS include the following: Shuffleboard with these youngsters competing, L. Moore, W. Meyer, R. Meyer, Rohner and B. Edelblute in the midgets; Hutchinson, Tischer, Fox, Nickelsen and Lockwood in the intermediates, and La Bojko, Boeger, Holznagel, Baker, Stocking, Taillon and Randag in the juniors.

Horseshoes. J. Meehan, W. Meyer, Simpson, Tagtmeier, and J. Grosby, midgets; Hammerl. Koceja, Cooper, Lockwood and Fox, intermediates, and Boeger, LaBojko, Baker, Stocking, Holznagel, Gore and Lynk, juniors.

Free throw, Hollander, Meehan, Thomas, W. Meyer and Spoomer, midgets; R. Holznagel, Tischer, Cooper, Hammerl and Sanders, intermediates; and Boeger, Swanson, Johnson, Randag and Taillon, juniors.

Swimming competition, for which preliminaries were held this week, will take place at 7:30 p. m. At this time also handicraft exhibits will be on display.

There will be five prizes of medals and ribbons in each event, with two trophies in addition, the latter awarded by VFW. All awards are on display at Flaherty jewelers.

The Lions Olympics is under the sponsorship of the Park board, with the help of the Lions club. H. L. Schlichenmyer is chairman of the Lions committee, and all members of the summer staff at the park are aiding with the program. Everything in the olympics is free, with no charges of any kind.

Big value days this week-end at Mt. Prospect

Mt. Prospect will be a wide open town for bargains Friday and Saturday. The merchants, through the Chamber of Commerce, are staging a big sale that extends to the four corners of the business district. Nearly three pages of advertising in this paper tell the good news to the budget minded shopper.

"We are going to forget the inflation for these two days," says Fred Meeske. "The Value Days sale is a sort of an experiment to find out if the average housewife appreciates bargains." Store owners will have the answer when the stores close Saturday night.

70 Years!

The editor of Paddock Publications had two surprises this week.

No. 1 — A birthday party he knew nothing about.

No. 2 — He learned a man can be 70 years old and still feel as young as ever.

Seventy years old is not young, and now that this editor has reached three score and ten, he admits he is in the old men's category. And folks, it's not bad at all.

We wonder when a "young man" is no longer "young." This editor realizes he has been placing himself in that class about 30 years—no, 40 years too long. But then, how can a "young" fellow of 60 or 70, wearing fancy sport shirts, ankle length sox and slacks realize according to his years he should be decrepit. He is only keeping up with the times—the same as the grandma of today who may wear shorts and a halter.

WE WERE asked at our birthday party this week, "What was the most outstanding event in your life?"

The answer given to the questioner was, of course, "The day I met my wife."

When a man reaches 70 he can be excused to do a little reminiscing with a typewriter. Of the early events that stand out uppermost in the 70 years I have been on this earth, the last 30 years are too recent to be included.

I WAS A youngster of 8 or 9 when Sitting Bull caused disturbances among the dissatisfied Indians in the Dakotas from 1889-90. I was very fearful the Indians would defeat the soldiers and reach my home town.

When I attempted to play hooky from school, I felt very much disgraced when I was forced to go to school an hour late.

It was about that time that a man equipped his arms with manual wings, leaped from the roof of a building and attempted to fly. My elders told me that such an attempt against God's law of gravity could never be accomplished.

I GOT MY FIRST smell of printers' ink when I was placed on a stool before a type case, handed a composition stick and told to set type. My copy was my second reader.

I don't remember anything outstanding during the years I was a printer's devil except when I put so much fuel in the boiler of a steam engine that operated the presses that the occupants of the printing office ran outdoors expecting the boiler to blow up.

I can remember more about the buildings and exhibits of the World's Columbian exposition held in Chicago in 1893, than I can about the Century of Progress in 1933.

MY YOUNGER brother and I were allowed to make the trip by train to the world's fair alone. Even half fare tickets were not in the budget for members of the editor's family. The trip to Chicago and the Columbian Exposition was delayed two weeks waiting for the arrival of R. R. passes.

The only attractions on the Midway we could visit were the ones for which we had press admission tickets, and they were the least interesting ones, except the Igorrote village of pygmy people from the Philippine islands, whom we were told in their own country wore no clothes and we were surprised that those at the fair did.

I HAD TO WAIT until the St. Louis Exposition, ten years later, before I had the opportunity to ride on the ferris wheel, which had been moved there from Chicago.

THE DEPRESSION of the early 1890's did not mean much to me because families of editors were always poor.

The Spanish-American war and the Dewey victory at Manila stand out, as do Teddy Roosevelt's Rough Riders.

I was 9 years old when the first safety (present style) bicycle, a Waverly, arrived in town. It cost $85, and only the son of the banker owned one. We were all envious because it had pneumtic tires.

None of us boys owned swim suits. We just used the old swimming hole in the Des Plaines river.

THE OWNERS of the first automobiles took a lot of pleasure in giving their friends rides on a Sunday afternoon. Of course they were all open cars designed for summer time driving. The driver wore goggles, and the passengers, dusters. Everyone needed a bath when they returned from a breathtaking, dusty trip of a hundred miles. Thirty-five miles an hour was considered dangerous speeding.

I thought it was a privilege when I was a passenger in a Buick which made the trip from Palatine to Lake Zurich in 20 minutes at the tremendous speed of 35 miles an hour.

SUNDAY BASEBALL was taboo. A boy recognized as one of the best catchers in this area played under an assumed name two summers. Today I wonder if his parents were so blind that they did not know what was taking place.

Sunday afternoons the young people thought it was tops to walk down the railroad track.

I did not really become an editor until 1899 when I wrote my first story, about a school party held on the first floor of the old Palatine Masonic building. It was about the time I was strong enough to pull the lever of a Washington hand press, printing two pages of the Palatine Enterprise at a "pull."

IN THOSE DAYS Arlington Heights was a good hour of horse and buggy travel from Palatine. In order to show the people of Arlington the editor's family was interested in their home town my dad suggested I attend Sunday school at the Arlington Presbyterian church. It meant riding a bike over the dusty roads—a good five miles via Palatine and State rds.

Although my name appeared in the masthead of the Enterprise, I was only a teenager at heart and nothing could be more exciting than riding "blind baggage" on the front of the 5:12 p. m. mail train to Arlington, where we would again try "blind baggage" to get back home on the Janesville mail train a half hour later.

Double and even triple dating was about the extent of the social life of the boys and girls of high school age. Vehicles used were horses and buggies, and the two livery stables in Palatine did a big business. We would reserve a surrey and team of horses for the July 4 celebration at Barrington or Lake Zurich three months in advance.

THERE WAS ONLY one rubber tired buggy in town and competition for it was heavy. Horse drawn buses took the crowd to Plum Grove picnics and Highland Grove dances held on the second floor of a barn on Algonquin rd.

Dances given by the Long Grove social club were popular. Some of us fellows thought our parents and our regular girl friends, who were too much Methodist to go to public dances, did not know we were stepping out such evenings with "non-Methodist" girls. We always had a good time.

The height of fashion required the correctly dressed young man to wear a 2½ inch or 3 inch high collar.

THE NEXT few years sped swiftly. World War I came. A special train carrying inductees from Palatine and Arlington Heights carried off the majority of the young men who today are staid members of the American Legion. They were given an ovation on their departure.

We do not know if the citizens of 1918 were more patriotically minded than were those of 1945 at the close of World War II, but there never was a more spontaneous celebration in which all religious creeds participated than was the Arlington Heights community celebration when the boys came back home.

As stated before, the last thirty years are too recent to be included in these memories.

During this 70 years we have seen the reaper and binder replaced by the combine; the telephone become a daily necessity; gas lights replaced by electricity; steam power replaced by gas and electricity; the automobile transportation, the flying machine, the radio, the coming atomic age, and the countless other things that make life easy for even a 70-year-older.

PERHAPS the greatest wisdom we have gained during those years is the realization that even an editor has no license to tell the other fellow how to live his life.

Begin new welcome program in Arlington Heights

Community Camera

Something new came to Arlington Heights last week when the Chamber of Commerce inaugurated its welcome program. Under the new plan, Mrs. Almon Conger (at left in picture) will call on all newcomers to the village to present them with a booklet describing the village, and with a coupon book redeemable at local stores.

The program was undertaken, according to Mr. Knaack, because "The Chamber in order to emphasize the 'City of Good Neighbors,' felt the need of establishing a program whereby all new residents could be personally acquainted with and greeted in Arlington Heights. As a result the welcome program was inntiated."

Under the arrangement, all new residents are personally called upon by Mrs. Conger, official representative of the Chamber. They are given the booklet, "Introducing . . . Arlington Heights," which contains pertinent information about the community, such as an explanation of the village government, its officials, location of offices, services of the community, organizations, churches and their locations, times of services, educational system, and a history of the village.

They also receive a map of the city and a book of 35 coupons redeemable at local stores for merchandise and gifts. These coupons are offered by member firms of the Chamber of Commerce as a token of welcome.

Local clergy will be given the names of all new families who

Plan Commission and Dist. 25 agree; village says O. K., but -

Elementary School District No. 25, Arlington Heights Plan Commission and the village board have all agreed on the streets that should be established to provide proper access to the new school for which the school board recently purchased a site east of Scarsdale Estates.

The "but" to the situation is that while the village is agreeing to the plan it is not pledging iself to condemnation proceedings if necessary to secure the right-of-way.

The village will ask property owners facing Dryden street to donate the 33 feet required to make it a full width street, which in turn would prmit pupils attending the school from Central road to reach the school without traveling around Scarsdale Estates.

The opening of Lincoln Lane, an east and west street, through Scarsdale Estates, is part of the plan. It is hoped that it can be secured by free dedication without condemnation proceedings.

AGREEMENTS were reached on other matters. Changes have been made by the builder in a house to be erected on Drury Lane, Stonegate, that removes objections of neighbors.

Architect Klopp was given the ok to proceed with his plans for the Lutheran activity building that may not meet the building code, but which have been approved by the state fire marshall's office.

Approval was also given on two homes the plans of which were near the border line of the code.

Building permits for July included 21 single family residents, valued at $266,173, 15 garages for $12,950 and $5,350 for alterations.

First polio case in Arlington

Mrs. Roy Skibbe of 844 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, is the victim of the first case of polio in Arlington. She was taken ill August 1, and is undergoing treatment for paralytic polio at Evanston hospital.

Although she is in a weakened condition, Dr. John B. Hall, county health director, told Paddock Publications her case was not too serious.

Mrs. Doris Schultz of Des Plaines contracted polio August 2, and is also undergoing treatment at Evanston hospital.

MRS. THELMA CARROLL, Arlington Heights community nurse, gives the following do's and don'ts regarding polio:

DO—allow children to play with friends they have been with right along. Keep them away from new people, especially in the close daily living of a home.

DO—wash hands carefully before eating and always after using the toilet—especially important when polio is around. Also keep food clean and covered.

DO—watch for signs of sickness, such as headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, sore muscles, stiff neck or back, extreme tiredness or nervousness, trouble in breathing or swallowing.

DO—put a sick person to bed at once, away from others, and call the doctor. Quick action may lessen crippling.

DO—telephone your local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, if you need help. Locate through telephone book or health department. No patient need go without care for lack of money. Your chapter will pay what you cannot afford.

DO—remember—at least half of all polio patients get well without any crippling.

DON'T—get over-tired by hard play, exercise, work or travel. This means men, women or children.

DON'T—get chilled. Don't bathe or swim long in cold water, or sit around in wet clothes.

DON'T—have mouth or throat operations during a polio outbreak.

DON'T—use another person's towels, dishes, tableware or the like.

DON'T—take children to places where there is polio. Ask your health department.

DON'T—take your child out of camp or playground, where there is good health supervision.

Completing plans for $1,000,000 new home for Lutheran Home for Aged

Architect plans are being completed for the new Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, at Arlington Heights which action was recently authorized at a meeting held in the present home. Actual construction may not start until early next year but contracts are expected to be awarded this fall.

The building will cost in the neighborhood of a million dollars.

It will comprise three units with provision for future expansion. It will double the present capacity. There will be incorporated in the new structure all of the modern facilities, including an elevator.

The present building is nearly 60 years old, although an addition was built about 15 years ago.

Five cars given away at local village festivals

Five 1951 cars found new owners this past week. The cars were given away at festivals in Arlington Heights, Prospect Hts., Northbrook, Park Ridge, and Palatine.

G. B. Webber of 421 Bobolink, Prospect Meadows, received the Ford V8 given away at Prospect Heights Tuesday night. The deluxe Kaiser offered at the Palatine Fireman's festival was taken home by Mrs. E. Lipke of Blue Island. A Plymouth highlighted at Northbrook Days now belongs to Marlow Anderson of Glenview.

DEATHS AND ACCIDENTS CONTINUE ON HIGHWAYS

Bensenville man burns to death after collision

Robert Graham, 30-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus W. Graham of Bensenville, burned to death Monday morning in a collision with a truck at Mannheim road bridge over the Milwaukee road tracks.

Graham, operational engineer for the county highway department, was on his way to work when the collision with the Pipe Line Service corporation truck occured at 5:30 a. m. A heavy downpour, causing poor visibility, was blamed for the accident.

Graham, living at 630 N. Parkside in Chicago, is survived by his wife, Doris, daughter, Gwendolyn, and two younger brothers, Richard and William.

The parents live at Route 83 and Wood street. Bensenville.

MRS. ANNA ROHDE, 44, of 1422 Henry st., Des Plaines, died last Thursday at Elmhurst hospital from a heart attack, following an accident that occurred the previous evening at Higgins and Mannheim road when the auto in which she was riding collided with a truck.

Police reported Mrs. Rohde was riding in an auto driven by her husband, Fred L. Rohde, 58. Driver of the truck was Herbert Gustafson, 57, of Route 1, Arlington Heights.

According to police, both vehicles were traveling northwest on Higgins rd. and the accodent occurred shortly after Rohdle had started his car moving forward after stopping at a traffic signal. The Gustafson truck rammed the rear of the car, police said.

An ambulance from O'Hare field under the direction of Lt. G. M. Wolferton removed Mrs. Rohde to Elmhurst hospital where she died seven hours later.

Surviving are her husband; two sons, Frederick, a sergeant with the army, and John, of the home; her mother, Mrs. Johanna Kleinsmith.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Christ Evangelical church at Des Plaines with Rev. R. K. Wobbe officiating. Burial will be in Ridgewood.

Fifteen persons were injured Sunday afternoon in a three-car crash on Route 12, two miles south of Lake Zurich in Lake county.

Lake county deputies said the crash tied up traffic for several hours. Southbound cars were bottle-necked as far north as Delavan, Wis.

Deputy Albert Weinberger reported the accident occurred when a station-wagon driven by Bruno W. Wehlman of Chicago, going north collided head-on with a car operated by Arthur V. Sweeney of Chicago.

THE IMPACT hurled the Sweeney car into the path of a machine being driven by Frank Addesso, 31, also of Chicago.

Twenty persons were riding in the three vehicles with most of them thrown onto the highway. One of the cars burst into flame and the Lake Zurich fire department was summoned. No one was burned.

Ambulances from Palatine, Libertyville, Barrington and Wauconda were rushed to the scene with 13 persons removed to hospitals.

GARRY MURPHY, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Murphy, Rand rd., is in the Northwestern hospital, Des Plaines, with a broken leg. He was riding a Whizzer bike, on the south shoulder of Rand rd. near Route 53, when he was hit by an automobile.

The driver of the car was Mary Ann Rudisell, Wauconda. She told the county police that she was traveling south and saw the boy, but when she made a right turn to a vegetable stand the right fender of her car hit the bike.

Tharp ambulance took Garry to Dr. C. A. Starck, Palatine, who had him taken to the Des Plaines hospital where he set the bone.

Spectators say that Garry bore the pain stoically. No tears came to his eyes at the time of the accident or afterwards. His mother, at the time of the accident, was in Chicago meeting her mother who was arriving from California.

A THREE CAR collison involving Loren Hollenback of Mt. Prospect, Bruno Pacyga of Chicago, and Laurance Calufetti of Johnson City, Ill., occurred at the junction of routes 83 and 68 (Dundee road) Sunday afternoon with three injured.

Calufetti, stopped for the stop sign, was struck in the rear by Pacyga, who in turn was hit by Hollenback, driving the car of John Randag of Arlington Hts.

Those injured were Martin Polek, 5035 S. Hermitage and Thomas Pacyga, same address, who were in the car driven by Bruno Pacyga, who suffered head injuries and were treated by Dr. Larson, of Wheeling.

THREE PERSONS were injured, none seriously, in an auto accident Sunday at Rand and Elmhurst rds.

Injured were: Rose Hurwitz, 53; Shirley Hurwitz, 23, and Melvin Hurwitz, 28, all of Chicago.

Police said the injured were riding in an auto driven by Leon Hurwitz, 53, also of Chicago, which collided with a car driven by Leonard A. Sturm, 55, of Rockford.

MRS. INGA ROE, 63, of River Grove, was injured Thursday August 1, in a hit-run accident at State rd. and Northwest highway in Arlington Heights.

She was taken to Northwestern hospital at Des Plaines for treatment, and later dismissed

Mrs. Roe was riding in an automobile driven by her husband, Ole, 58, a painter.

Roe told police he was driving east on Northwest highway when an automobile, traveling in the opposite direction, forced his car off the highway and it overturned.

AN AUTOMOBILE driven by Nicholas Bernick, 43, of 43 E. Wood st., Palatine, was involved in a two-way crash Thursday, August 2, in which Mrs. Marie Hansen, 56, of Skokie was injured.

Mrs. Hansen was riding in a car operated by her husband, Hobert, 63.

The accident occurred at Higgins rd. and Route 83.

HOLD UP APPROVAL OF SEWER-WATER PLANS

Village dads say they haven't had time to study engineer's plans

The people of Arlington Heights at a recent election gave their ok to the proposed sewer and water improvement. The engineers have done their best. The state of Illinois through the State Board of Public Health has approved the plans. Clarence W. Klassen, of the state sanitary board, which gave the sewage ultimatum to the village of Arlington Heights two years ago, as well as Roland R. Cross of the state health department, have given their approval.

Monday night the village was asked to pass a resolution certifying its approval to the plans. The village dads were not ready to act that fast. They will meet in special session Monday night to discuss the matter.

Attorney Thal told the board Monday night that the enacting ordinance is nearly ready for passage. If the village board makes any major changes Monday night the projects will probably suffer a two months further delay.

The sewage treatment project seems to be a hoodoo. It has been on the fire nearly two years, almost as long as the Dunton street widening, for which contracts will probably be let within the next sixty days.

With a million dollars involved the public can understand the hesitancy of the village trustees. The citizens advisory committee spent several months "checking."

Paddock Publications suggests that when Mayor Goedke calls the meeting to order Monday night that the doors be locked until definite action is taken even if it is the next morning.

Stolen automobile destroyed by fire

A stolen automobile was destroyed by fire early Friday after thieves abandoned it near Arlington Heights.

County sheriff's deputies E. Balle and Joe Lewis said the car had been doused with gasoline after the motor number had been defaced and the serial plate ripped from the engine.

Police traced ownership to Frank Czerwinski of Chicago. The auto was stolen July 6.

The car was abandoned on McDonald road behind Old Orchard golf course. Employees of the course discovered the burning car and notified police.

Palatine boy badly burned; bottled gas explosion injures man

Jerry Dilks, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Dilks, Freeman Court, Palatine, is in a serious condition from burns at St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin, where he was taken Sunday afternoon.

Blood transfusions and skin grafting may be necessary to save the boy's life.

His elders had been burning some rubbish and had left the bonfire to burn out. Jerry drew some gasoline from a tank and went to the fire. When he partially emptied the can, the resulting "puff" caused him to step backward. In doing so, the gasoline remaining in the can was thrown over him. His clothing was practically burned off.

GAS FUMES from unlighted gas water heater is blamed for the burns suffered Tuesday evening by Harold DeBerg, track supervisor of the North Western who resides on Franklin rd., Palatine.

The pilot light had gone out. The burner is in a basement room. DeBerg waited what he thought was a sufficient time for the fumes to evaporate. When he struck a match, there was an explosion.

He automaticallly covered his face with his hands and arms, which resulted in only one degree burns there, but third degree burns resulted to his hands and arms. The injured man was able to use a hose and extinguished a fire which had started overhead.

Dr. Fleishman was called and was on the scene within a few minutes. He rushed DeBerg to St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin, where he will remain a few days.

Lions to stage Olympics for local children Wednesday

Boys and girls of Arlington Heights are invited to participate next Wednesday in a field day, called the Lions Olympics, open to all and held at Recreation park.

Advance registration of entrants is accepted by Russ Attis, park recreation director, but in most classifications boys and girls who go to the park Wednesday morning may still enter.

Festivities will get under way with a parade at 9:30 a. m. Termed "anything on wheels," the parade will feature contestants with decorated bikes, wagons, scooters, etc., with prizes being awarded, three each to boys and girls.

Following the parade there will be four athletic contests, each run off in three age groups. The 40-yard dash and base running competition will be run separately for boys and girls, while in the broad jump and baseball throw they will compete together.

The afternoon will see the finals of contests in which the contestants have already qualified. Tennis finals will be played and the Cubs and Sox — midget boys' teams — will play the final game of their volleyball tournament. The Cubs have won the softball tournament and will receive their emblems.

OTHER CONTESTS include the following: Shuffleboard with these youngsters competing, L. Moore, W. Meyer, R. Meyer, Rohner and B. Edelblute in the midgets; Hutchinson, Tischer, Fox, Nickelsen and Lockwood in the intermediates, and La Bojko, Boeger, Holznagel, Baker, Stocking, Taillon and Randag in the juniors.

Horseshoes. J. Meehan, W. Meyer, Simpson, Tagtmeier, and J. Grosby, midgets; Hammerl. Koceja, Cooper, Lockwood and Fox, intermediates, and Boeger, LaBojko, Baker, Stocking, Holznagel, Gore and Lynk, juniors.

Free throw, Hollander, Meehan, Thomas, W. Meyer and Spoomer, midgets; R. Holznagel, Tischer, Cooper, Hammerl and Sanders, intermediates; and Boeger, Swanson, Johnson, Randag and Taillon, juniors.

Swimming competition, for which preliminaries were held this week, will take place at 7:30 p. m. At this time also handicraft exhibits will be on display.

There will be five prizes of medals and ribbons in each event, with two trophies in addition, the latter awarded by VFW. All awards are on display at Flaherty jewelers.

The Lions Olympics is under the sponsorship of the Park board, with the help of the Lions club. H. L. Schlichenmyer is chairman of the Lions committee, and all members of the summer staff at the park are aiding with the program. Everything in the olympics is free, with no charges of any kind.

Big value days this week-end at Mt. Prospect

Mt. Prospect will be a wide open town for bargains Friday and Saturday. The merchants, through the Chamber of Commerce, are staging a big sale that extends to the four corners of the business district. Nearly three pages of advertising in this paper tell the good news to the budget minded shopper.

"We are going to forget the inflation for these two days," says Fred Meeske. "The Value Days sale is a sort of an experiment to find out if the average housewife appreciates bargains." Store owners will have the answer when the stores close Saturday night.

IT'S HEATING MAGIC WITH THE NEW BLEND-AIR by CENTRAL HEATING
Coleman

This floor plan shows how you can completely and scientifically heat a five-room home with only six magic Blenders.

EVEN COMFORT FLOOR TO CEILING—LESS HEAT WASTE WITH NEW 3½" DUCT SYSTEM

BLEND-AIR circulates and RE-circulates warm air in each room! The magic Blender in each room automatically sucks cool air out of the room, heats it with fresh warm air from furnace, RE-circulates it through the room. No packing of hot air at ceiling. Constant circulation keeps room temperature uniform from floor to ceiling. Automatically controlled! It means more comfort—a better heated home!

THE MAGIC BLENDER

NEW! Money-saving advance in automatic heating! It's the new scientific way to heat every room evenly! Big savings in (1) new low-cost ducts, (2) new standardized fittings that save on installation. BLEND-AIR fits any home—old or new, big or little, with or without basement. All parts factory-made to assemble easier and cost you less!

NEW! Saves space, saves work, saves cost! Put the space-saving BLEND-AIR furnace anywhere—basement, kitchen, or utility room. It's tidy, quiet, automatic. Made by Coleman, world's largest manufacturer of home heating equipment. A new way to give your home even circulated warmth!

No money down.... Pays for itself in comfort and economy

3½" WARM AIR DUCTS

Heating magic takes place in the Blender. Hot air from furnace blends with room air, then circulates it through room.

Modumatic Furnace takes fresh filtered air from outside; heats it and forces it through individual 3½" air ducts to Blenders.

Arrive in the States

Last week Pvt. Robert Lamping, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lamping of 227 Williams ave., arrived in Seattle on the ship General Meigs. During his three years with the army, 11 months were spent in Korea with the 65th engineers. He will be stationed at Ft. Sheridan pending further orders.

House guests

Visiting the Joseph Ransdell home over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell of Champaign, Ill.

Mrs. John M. Huskey of Chicago arrived Sunday for a week's stay at the home of her son, John Huskey and family.

Guests of the John E. Flodins Friday and Saturday were Mrs. Flodin's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shirk, Mary Jane and Jody of Chicago.

Miss Mary Kay Beachler of Grand Island, Neb., arrived Monday evening to spend a few days with the Earle Petersen family. Miss Beachler is a former pupil of Mr. Petersen who taught school in Grand Island a few years ago.

Week end guests of the Herbert Ratcliffes of Indianapolis, Ind., were his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schmalfeldt and their two children, Jo San and Roddy, also of Indianapolis.

Over the week end the Robert Balfours motored to North Lake, near Elkhorn, Wis., where they were the guests of Mr. Balfour's grandmother, Mrs. John Balfour, and his aunt, Miss Helen Balfour, who maintain a summer home there.

Entertaining

Visitors Sunday at the Arnold Sider home were Mr. Sider's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Sider of Chicago. Jackie Sider and his little brother, Jimmy, returned home with their grandparents for a visit. While there they will attend ball games and visit the zoo.

Sunday the Richard Yeltons entertained Mr. and Mrs. Michael Finn and their dauughter, Janet, of Chicago for the day.

Home from hospital

Mrs. Elizabeth Milani is recuperating at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jack Burke, after spending a week in St. Anne's hospital.

Trips

Mr. and Mrs. William Frost and family recently returned from a motor trip which took them through northern Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota. They spent a few days in Duluth as guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Burgdorf, who have a summer home on one of the lakes. The Frosts also spent some time in Villa Arbor, Wis. The weather was very favorable for swimming and fishing which the family enjoyed, especially Bill Jr., who can boast of catching quite a few northerns.

Last week Mrs. Stephen Murphy and son, Dennis, returned from a month's vacation in New Suffolk, Long Island, where they were the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Corwin. During part of Mrs. Murphy's stay her mother was hospitalized for observation. She is home now and feeling better.

Mr. and Mrs. David Coffman and family returned home Friday evening after spending three weeks in Crystal Lake, Mich., visiting Mr. Coffman's mother, Mrs. H. A. Coffman, who has a summer cottage there. They spent many happy hours swimming and also baited a few hooks.

New arrival

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cronin are parents of a baby girl, Cathy Ann, who was born July 25, at St. Francis hospital. Cathy Ann has a sister, Patty, and a brother, Jimmy.

Subdivision picnic

Sunday Arlington Crest held a subdivision picnic at Snug Harbor in Wauconda. Although it rained part of the day, it didn't stop the picnickers from swimming and playing ball. The children played games for prizes. Everyone who attended had a very enjoyable time.

New Neighbors .... IN THE CITY OF GOOD NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Henry
834 N. Hickory Street

"Everybody cannot be a banker, but a banker appreciates a good bargain." Those were the words of Harold T. Henry, 834 N. Hickory street, Arlington Heights, when he brought to the publication office the coupon left at his house by the Chamber of Commerce Welcoming Lady, Mrs. A. M. Conger. Mr. Henry is in the commercial department of City National Bank.

Mrs. Conger started on her round of calls at the homes of newcomers last week. One of the early ones she visited was the Henrys. The family numbers three, of which a five year old son will enter the north side kindergarten this fall.

The "bargain" Mr. Henry received is three months introductory subscription to the Arlington Heights Herald. He added, I" know how good a bargain it is because two of my fellow employees are residents of Arlington and they frequently brought me copies."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Henry expect to enjoy living in the country after 22 years of city life. Their original home was in Nebraska. Harold not only handles coins in his job, but his hobby in "coins" particularly foreign.

He says that Arlington seems to have everything a family could ask, except one — a water softening plant. He was told "stay with us awhile and maybe that'll be forthcoming."

June Leick new vocal instructor at Arlington

Miss June Leick has been secured to teach vocal music at Arlington Heights township high school beginning with the fall term, 1951-52. Miss Leick has been director of music at Carthage community high school, Carthage, Ill., the past 12 years. Miss Leick received her B. A. in 1937 from Western Illinois state teachers college, Macomb, and her M. A. from the University of Denver in 1948.

Miss Leick has been active in Delta Kappa Gamma, Sigma Alpha Iota, and Kappa Delta Pi. She is a member of the national music teachers and the Illinois music educators association. She is also a member of the P.E.O.

Frédrick Schmoyer is head of the music department. Another member of the music staff is Robert Meredith. James Cockrum, another member of the music staff is on leave, having been recalled to active duty with the air force. Miss Leick will take over the duties performed by Mr. Cockrum.

Mt. Prospect man director of Jaycees

A resident of Mt. Prospect, John D. Weber was recently elected a director of the Chicago junior association of commerce and industry.

Weber, married with one child, has been a member of the Jaycees since 1948. In addition he is a member of the Mt. Prospect civil defense unit and the American Legion.

Weber, residing at 218 South Elmhurst avenue, is employed by Commonwealth Edison as State street representative.

Former Arlington man V-P of Pyramid Life

The association of B. Russell Thomas with the Pyramid Life Insurance company as vice president and actuary was announced last week by Eddie S. Jones, president of the company.

Mr. Thomas, who has been engaged in consulting actuarial work for the last three years, is a graduate of the actuarial course at the University of Iowa. His experience includes a period with the Insurance Department of Iowa, first as an examiner and later as actuary and deputy commissioner. In the second World war, he was on active duty as a lieutenant in the U. S. Naval Reserve for almost three years. Upon his release to inactive duty, he was actuary of the North Carolina Insurance department for a year and then was associate actuary in the pension department of Marsh and McLennan, Inc., in Chicago immediately prior to entering the consulting field.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas are living at 3024 Pinehurst Place, Charlotte, North Carolina. They formerly lived at 726 South Dunton, Arlington Heights.

May we suggest a Sitting?

No doubt about it—you'll make a mighty handsome picture in a strapping new '51 Buick.

But it isn't the way you look, but the way you feel that's really important.

We'd like you to discover a Buick's ease and comfort, a Buick's power and performance, a Buick's steadiness and control—just to see if maybe you have been missing a travel treat.

We'd like you to discover what a valve-in-head engine, as Buick builds it—gingered with Fireball combustion—can mean in pulse-pounding thrill and in big miles-per-gallon figures.

We'd like you to learn what coil springs on all four wheels—not just in front—can do in the matter of smoothing a rough road and keeping you on an ever-level keel.

We'd like you to see what generous roadweight and a rigid torque-tube mean in solid steadiness of ride—what Dynaflow Drive* does for you in downright comfort and convenience—what a breeze it is to handle so big and roomy and impressive a car.

Most of all, we'd like you to note the easy-to-take price tags our cars wear—what a whale of a lot more automobile you get for your money in today's Buicks than you'll get elsewhere.

So—come in for a sitting soon, won't you? Whether you try a SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER, you'll find it the top buy in its field—and a beauty from any angle.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

IT'S HEATING MAGIC
WITH THE NEW BLEND-AIR by CENTRAL HEATING
Coleman

This floor plan shows how you can completely and scientifically heat a five-room home with only six magic Blenders.

EVEN COMFORT FLOOR TO CEILING—LESS HEAT WASTE WITH NEW 3½" DUCT SYSTEM

THE MAGIC BLENDER

BLEND-AIR circulates and RE-circulates warm air in each room! The magic Blender in each room automatically sucks cool air out of the room, heats it with fresh warm air from furnace, RE-circulates it through the room. No packing of hot air at ceiling. Constant circulation keeps room temperature uniform from floor to ceiling. Automatically controlled! It means more comfort—a better heated home!

NEW! Money-saving advance in automatic heating! It's the new scientific way to heat every room evenly! Big savings in (1) new low-cost ducts, (2) new standardized fittings that save on installation. BLEND-AIR fits any home—old or new, big or little, with or without basement. All parts factory-made to assemble easier and cost you less!

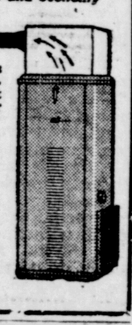

NEW! Saves space, saves work, saves cost! Put the space-saving BLEND-AIR furnace anywhere—basement, kitchen, or utility room. It's tidy, quiet, automatic. Made by Coleman, world's largest manufacturer of home heating equipment. A new way to give your home even circulated warmth!

No money down.... Pays for itself in comfort and economy

3½" WARM AIR DUCTS

Heating magic takes place in the Blender. Hot air from furnace blends with room air, then circulates it through room.

Modumatic Furnace takes fresh filtered air from outside; heats it and forces it through individual 3½" air ducts to Blenders.

Arrive in the States

Last week Pvt. Robert Lamping, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lamping of 227 Williams ave., arrived in Seattle on the ship General Meigs. During his three years with the army, 11 months were spent in Korea with the 65th engineers. He will be stationed at Ft. Sheridan pending further orders.

House guests

Visiting the Joseph Ransdell home over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell of Champaign, Ill.

Mrs. John M. Huskey of Chicago arrived Sunday for a week's stay at the home of her son, John Huskey and family.

Guests of the John E. Flodins Friday and Saturday were Mrs. Flodin's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shirk, Mary Jane and Jody of Chicago.

Miss Mary Kay Beachler of Grand Island, Neb., arrived Monday evening to spend a few days with the Earle Petersen family. Miss Beachler is a former pupil of Mr. Petersen who taught school in Grand Island a few years ago.

Week end guests of the Herbert Ratcliffes of Indianapolis, Ind., were his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schmalfeldt and their two children, Jo San and Roddy, also of Indianapolis.

Over the week end the Robert Balfours motored to North Lake, near Elkhorn, Wis., where they were the guests of Mr. Balfour's grandmother, Mrs. John Balfour, and his aunt, Miss Helen Balfour, who maintain a summer home there.

Entertaining

Visitors Sunday at the Arnold Sider home were Mr. Sider's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Sider of Chicago. Jackie Sider and his little brother, Jimmy, returned home with their grandparents for a visit. While there they will attend ball games and visit the zoo.

Sunday the Richard Yeltons entertained Mr. and Mrs. Michael Finn and their dauughter, Janet, of Chicago for the day.

Home from hospital

Mrs. Elizabeth Milani is recuperating at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jack Burke, after spending a week in St. Anne's hospital.

Trips

Mr. and Mrs. William Frost and family recently returned from a motor trip which took them through northern Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota. They spent a few days in Duluth as guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Burgdorf, who have a summer home on one of the lakes. The Frosts also spent some time in Villa Arbor, Wis. The weather was very favorable for swimming and fishing which the family enjoyed, especially Bill Jr., who can boast of catching quite a few northerns.

Last week Mrs. Stephen Murphy and son, Dennis, returned from a month's vacation in New Suffolk, Long Island, where they were the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Corwin. During part of Mrs. Murphy's stay her mother was hospitalized for observation. She is home now and feeling better.

Mr. and Mrs. David Coffman and family returned home Friday evening after spending three weeks in Crystal Lake, Mich., visiting Mr. Coffman's mother, Mrs. H. A. Coffman, who has a summer cottage there. They spent many happy hours swimming and also baited a few hooks.

New arrival

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cronin are parents of a baby girl, Cathy Ann, who was born July 25, at St. Francis hospital. Cathy Ann has a sister, Patty, and a brother, Jimmy.

Subdivision picnic

Sunday Arlington Crest held a subdivision picnic at Snug Harbor in Wauconda. Although it rained part of the day, it didn't stop the picnickers from swimming and playing ball. The children played games for prizes. Everyone who attended had a very enjoyable time.

NEW NEIGHBORS .... IN THE CITY OF GOOD NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Henry
834 N. Hickory Street

"Everybody cannot be a banker, but a banker appreciates a good bargain." Those were the words of Harold T. Henry, 834 N. Hickory street, Arlington Heights, when he brought to the publication office the coupon left at his house by the Chamber of Commerce Welcoming Lady, Mrs. A. M. Conger. Mr. Henry is in the commercial department of City National Bank.

Mrs. Conger started on her round of calls at the homes of newcomers last week. One of the early ones she visited was the Henrys. The family numbers three, of which a five year old son will enter the north side kindergarten this fall.

The "bargain" Mr. Henry received is three months introductory subscription to the Arlington Heights Herald. He added, I" know how good a bargain it is because two of my fellow employees are residents of Arlington and they frequently brought me copies."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Henry expect to enjoy living in the country after 22 years of city life. Their original home was in Nebraska. Harold not only handles coins in his job, but his hobby in "coins" particularly foreign.

He says that Arlington seems to have everything a family could ask, except one — a water softening plant. He was told "stay with us awhile and maybe that'll be forthcoming."

June Leick new vocal instructor at Arlington

Miss June Leick has been secured to teach vocal music at Arlington Heights township high school beginning with the fall term, 1951-52. Miss Leick has been director of music at Carthage community high school, Carthage, Ill., the past 12 years. Miss Leick received her B. A. in 1937 from Western Illinois state teachers college, Macomb, and her M. A. from the University of Denver in 1948.

Miss Leick has been active in Delta Kappa Gamma, Sigma Alpha Iota, and Kappa Delta Pi. She is a member of the national music teachers and the Illinois music educators association. She is also a member of the P.E.O.

Frédrick Schmoyer is head of the music department. Another member of the music staff is Robert Meredith. James Cockrum, another member of the music staff is on leave, having been recalled to active duty with the air force. Miss Leick will take over the duties performed by Mr. Cockrum.

Mt. Prospect man director of Jaycees

A resident of Mt. Prospect, John D. Weber was recently elected a director of the Chicago junior association of commerce and industry.

Weber, married with one child, has been a member of the Jaycees since 1948. In addition he is a member of the Mt. Prospect civil defense unit and the American Legion.

state their particular religious denomination. The local school boards will also receive a listing of these people as well as the names and dates of birth of their children, for use in determining the approximate number of children expected to enter our schools.

Arlington Heights is ready to welcome big as well as small families, but it is doubtful if it ever welcomed a more happy family than that of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Heiden and six children, who are residing at 626 N. Harvard.

Impressed with the view of Arlington Heights while commuting from Lake Geneva to Chicago for five years, Mr. Heiden picked Arlington as the ideal place to build his home. The Heidens built their own home, an expandable home shown in Parents' Magazine and featured at the Chicago Fair last summer, in Arlingdale.

Mr. Heiden is a consulting engineer with the Robert E. Hattis co. "When an entire family likes to fish, it is bound to be a happy one," Mrs. Heiden told the welcome lady last Thursday.

It is a busy family. Robert Jr. will be a senior in high school this fall. Sherrill and Mary Beth will be members of the sophomore and freshman classes respectively this fall. Sandra, 11, will be in sixth grade, while Timothy, 4, and Rodney, 2, will remain at home with their mother.

When visiting the Richter home at 1108 E. Northwest hwy., guests are frequently met by Bonnie, thoroughbred Sealyham with better manners than many children. Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Richter will be right behind Bonnie.

The Richters moved here from Cincinnati via Minnesota, when Dr. Richter, who is not practicing, formed a business partnership in a management engineering firm.

Their daughter, Paula, will be a senior at Principia college, Elsa, Ill., this fall.

Mrs. Richter enjoys sewing as a hobby, and he is an organist.

Bonnie likes to show off before guests. She will roll over on either side, beg, sneeze, jump, say her prayers and go up stairs at her master's command.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Kilburn are the newcomers residing at 1106 E. Northwest hwy. Their previous home was in Havertown, a suburb of Philadelphia, Pa. Mr. Kilburn is with the Firemen's Fund Indemnity Co.

They have three children, whose education si being divided between the University of Illinois to be attended this year by Lois Anne, who will be a freshman and plans to major in music; Arlington Heights high school of which Barbara will be a member of the freshman class, and Jim, who will be in second grade.

Mrs. Kilburn, with three children to be educated, has always been interested in the Parent Teacher Association.

Tin Cans Not Tin

Tin cans are not tin at all, but sheet steel coated with a thin film of tin. This coating is only about 1½ per cent of the total weight of the can.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

Mrs. A. M. Conger is quickly getting the reputation of Arlington's friendliest caller, for she is the new welcome hostess of the village. The Chamber of Commerce has inaugurated a program of visits to every newcomer to town, with Mrs. Conger extending the hand of welcome.

"The people are lovely — I'm mighty impressed with the new neighbors," says the hostess, who is an ideal choice for this job. Her husband was principal of the high school some years ago, and she herself has been active in club and church work. In this way Mrs. Conger knows a lot about the village, and, being such a friendly person, she encourages questions from those on whom she calls.

In addition to simply calling on newcomers to welcome them, Mrs. Conger presents them with a booklet describing our town and coupons offering considerable discounts and inaugural gifts from the merchants.

Similar welcome programs have been underway for some years in many other suburbs including, for instance, Evanston and Elmhurst. With Mrs. Conger at the helm, this latest project of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce is sure to succeed, with the result that newcomers will find themselves quickly integrated into the life of the community.

In the swim

Those bathing beauties who appeared on the front page of the Herald last week showed they could swim as well as look glamorous in their performance Tuesday night in the Arlington pool.

Trained by Mrs. Dorothy Hull, the 20-some girls demonstrated intircate swimming patterns and formations. Members also demonstrated their diving ability, and their sense of humor in a comedy act.

Art Holland, director of the pool program, obtained a group of professional divers for the occasion. The audience who filled the bleachers and crowded the fence surrounding the pool saw a program which both entertained and showed the skill of the local teen-agers.

Fair play

Those who remember last year's successful 4-H club Fair at Arlington Park will be sure to make tracks to the track this week end when it will again be held there.

The vast covered area of the grandstand makes it possible not only for all exhibits to have a roof over them, but it still gives plenty of room for the visitors to browse through and look everything over.

Besides exhibits of handwork, farm products and livestock, there'll be a nightly program, the Arlington Summer band on Friday, and "Red" Blanchard and 4-H demonstrations, livestock parade and home talent show on Saturday. Sunday there will be both afternoon and evening programs, featuring the crowning of the 4-H king and queen to succeed last year's, Elaine Hagenow and Arthur Kuhlman.

Best of all, everything is free — there's no admission charge to either the exhibits or the shows. Of course, if a visitor is hungry, he'll find refreshments plentiful and inexpensive.

Women of the Moose form bowling league

The Des Plaines chapter of the Women of the Moose Bowling league, now being formed, will bowl every Thursday afternoon at 1:15 p. m. at the Des Plaines bowling alleys, beginning September 6. Those wishing to bowl should contact Catherine Dean or Eileen Deithloff.

The executive o...rs will meet today, Thursday, at 1 p. m. at the home of Edith Peterson.

The Sewing circle will meet the first and third Tuesday of each month at 10 a. m. at the Moose hall. A potluck lunch will b eserved.

Congratulations to Mrs. F. Brunner and Mrs. G. Granzen on the birth of their new babies.

All members of the Women of the Moose are asked to dress western for Frontier Days. Anyone wishing to help with serving food at the festival should contact Katherine Richter.

Conservation Will Pay

A soil conservation farm plan in Colorado can pay for itself in five to eight years through extra earnings per acre, experts say.

The Only Modern Freezer is the Amana Upright

HOME FREEZER Today!

It's wonderful what the Amana Home Freezer will do—cut dollars right out of your food budget, yet give you more delicious meals the year round and save you hours in kitchen time. But then, the AMANA is a very special Freezer! It's made by the pioneers in the field of low temperature refrigeration—the folks who built frozen food lockers all over the country! Point by Point, you will find the AMANA is better built to give longer years of better service.

Come in and SEE FOR YOURSELF!

Beneath that sparkling white beauty of DuPont Dulux Enamel is an electrically welded all steel frame, strong and rugged for years of service.

SEE how little space it will take up in your kitchen!

SEE how easy it is to freeze large quantities at one time. Three big shelf freezer plates, plus a freezer plate in the ceiling—13¾ square feet of freezing surface! Equally important, you have uniform low temperature in all parts of the compartment—even if it's filled to its 630 pound capacity!

SEE the front opening door that gives you an eye-level view of the contents of all four easy to clean aluminum compartments.

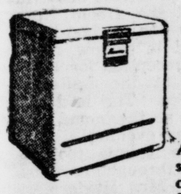

SEE the rounded corners of the cabinet that makes it so easy to clean, so nice to live with.

SEE the gleaming, handsomely styled chrome hardware.

THINK of the advantages of all over Fiberglas insulation, hand packed to prevent settling, sealed against moisture. It's 4½" thick . . . keeps cold in, heat out.

CONSIDER the hermetically sealed, trouble-free condensing unit that never needs oiling. It's spring suspended for quiet operation, fan cooled and super-powered for long service.

EXAMINE Amana's Warranty Bond . . see how it protects the freezer one full year, the mechanical system for 5 years—PLUS giving you the added protection of a 5 year food spoilage warranty.

Amana 60

259.95

A 6 cubic foot masterpiece of styling and economy—compact, convenient, low cost! Will hold 210 pounds of food—enough for several months of delicious menus for the average family. Pays for itself—you save over 20% on food bills! Fits into a space 31" x 26"! Only Amana gives you so much value for such a low price!

419.95

This roomy, 12-cubic foot freezer takes up a minimum of floor space. Shop less often—cook or bake in large quantities—your Amana 120 holds 420 pounds of frozen foods. Amana 12-cubic foot freezer also available in reach-in upright style.

Arlington junior high teacher assistant to county superintendent

Miss Lucy E. Driscoll, an instructor in Arlington Heights Junior high school, has been named an assistant to Noble J. Puffer, newly installed county superintendent of schools for Cook county.

Miss Driscoll, whose home is in Barrington, will have charge of division one, comprising the townships of Barrington, Palatine, Hanover, Schaumburg and Elk Grove. She has been teaching in Arlington several years.

Wm. R. Etherton, former principal of Northbrook high school, will have charge of division two, comprising Wheeling, Northfield, Niles and New Trier.

Other assistants are Robert E. Hayes, Berwyn, former principal of Western Springs, and Butler Laughlin, retired assistant superintendent of Chicago schools. A sixth has not yet been named.

Chief assistant will be David J. Heffernan, director of activities at Wright Junior College. Heffernan previously held that post under Mr. Puffer.

Attend theatre

August 1 six South Vail St. women attended the Chevy Chase matinee performance of, "Come Back, Little Sheba." They were: Mrs. Robert Paddock, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. Howell Lindsey, Mrs. Rosensteil, Mrs. George Kohler and Mrs. Driscoll.

Ill

Fred Brehm is recovering from an operation at St. Joseph's hospital.

Leslie R. Grant is also recovering from an operation at Columbus hospital this week.

Max Warson is recovering very well from an operation in St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin. Mrs. Warson recently returned from a visit to Miami, Fla., where her daughter, Mrs. J. P. Rold, had a baby.

Surprise party

Mrs. Ginger De Biase of Rhode Island, who has been visiting relatives and friends in Arlington Heights for six weeks, was surprised July 31, when a plastic demonstration turned out to be a farewell party in her honor. The party was held at the home of Mrs. Birdie Ninnemann of Des Plaines, where a buffet lunch was served. Mrs. De Biase returned home Sunday by plane. She stayed with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Chris Dettman of Arlington Heights, while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elliott were surprised by a visit from Mrs. Elliott's nephew, Jack DeFur and family of New Harmony, Ind. They stayed with the Elliotts three days.

Welcome

state their particular religious denomination. The local school boards will also receive a listing of these people as well as the names and dates of birth of their children, for use in determining the approximate number of children expected to enter our schools.

Arlington Heights is ready to welcome big as well as small families, but it is doubtful if it ever welcomed a more happy family than that of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Heiden and six children, who are residing at 626 N. Harvard.

Impressed with the view of Arlington Heights while commuting from Lake Geneva to Chicago for five years, Mr. Heiden picked Arlington as the ideal place to build his home. The Heidens built their own home, an expandable home shown in Parents' Magazine and featured at the Chicago Fair last summer, in Arlingdale.

Mr. Heiden is a consulting engineer with the Robert E. Hattis co. "When an entire family likes to fish, it is bound to be a happy one," Mrs. Heiden told the welcome lady last Thursday.

It is a busy family. Robert Jr. will be a senior in high school this fall. Sherrill and Mary Beth will be members of the sophomore and freshman classes respectively this fall. Sandra, 11, will be in sixth grade, while Timothy, 4, and Rodney, 2, will remain at home with their mother.

When visiting the Richter home at 1108 E. Northwest hwy., guests are frequently met by Bonnie, thoroughbred Sealyham with better manners than many children. Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Richter will be right behind Bonnie.

The Richters moved here from Cincinnati via Minnesota, when Dr. Richter, who is not practicing, formed a business partnership in a management engineering firm.

Their daughter, Paula, will be a senior at Principia college, Elsa, Ill., this fall.

Mrs. Richter enjoys sewing as a hobby, and he is an organist.

Bonnie likes to show off before guests. She will roll over on either side, beg, sneeze, jump, say her prayers and go up stairs at her master's command.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Kilburn are the newcomers residing at 1106 E. Northwest hwy. Their previous home was in Havertown, a suburb of Philadelphia, Pa. Mr. Kilburn is with the Firemen's Fund Indemnity Co.

They have three children, whose education si being divided between the University of Illinois to be attended this year by Lois Anne, who will be a freshman and plans to major in music; Arlington Heights high school of which Barbara will be a member of the freshman class, and Jim, who will be in second grade.

Mrs. Kilburn, with three children to be educated, has always been interested in the Parent Teacher Association.

Tin Cans Not Tin

Tin cans are not tin at all, but sheet steel coated with a thin film of tin. This coating is only about 1½ per cent of the total weight of the can.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

Mrs. A. M. Conger is quickly getting the reputation of Arlington's friendliest caller, for she is the new welcome hostess of the village. The Chamber of Commerce has inaugurated a program of visits to every newcomer to town, with Mrs. Conger extending the hand of welcome.

"The people are lovely — I'm mighty impressed with the new neighbors," says the hostess, who is an ideal choice for this job. Her husband was principal of the high school some years ago, and she herself has been active in club and church work. In this way Mrs. Conger knows a lot about the village, and, being such a friendly person, she encourages questions from those on whom she calls.

In addition to simply calling on newcomers to welcome them, Mrs. Conger presents them with a booklet describing our town and coupons offering considerable discounts and inaugural gifts from the merchants.

Similar welcome programs have been underway for some years in many other suburbs including, for instance, Evanston and Elmhurst. With Mrs. Conger at the helm, this latest project of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce is sure to succeed, with the result that newcomers will find themselves quickly integrated into the life of the community.

In the swim

Those bathing beauties who appeared on the front page of the Herald last week showed they could swim as well as look glamorous in their performance Tuesday night in the Arlington pool.

Trained by Mrs. Dorothy Hull, the 20-some girls demonstrated intircate swimming patterns and formations. Members also demonstrated their diving ability, and their sense of humor in a comedy act.

Art Holland, director of the pool program, obtained a group of professional divers for the occasion. The audience who filled the bleachers and crowded the fence surrounding the pool saw a program which both entertained and showed the skill of the local teen-agers.

Fair play

Those who remember last year's successful 4-H club Fair at Arlington Park will be sure to make tracks to the track this week end when it will again be held there.

The vast covered area of the grandstand makes it possible not only for all exhibits to have a roof over them, but it still gives plenty of room for the visitors to browse through and look everything over.

Besides exhibits of handwork, farm products and livestock, there'll be a nightly program, the Arlington Summer band on Friday, and "Red" Blanchard and 4-H demonstrations, livestock parade and home talent show on Saturday. Sunday there will be both afternoon and evening programs, featuring the crowning of the 4-H king and queen to succeed last year's, Elaine Hagenow and Arthur Kuhlman.

Best of all, everything is free — there's no admission charge to either the exhibits or the shows. Of course, if a visitor is hungry, he'll find refreshments plentiful and inexpensive.

Women of the Moose form bowling league

The Des Plaines chapter of the Women of the Moose Bowling league, now being formed, will bowl every Thursday afternoon at 1:15 p. m. at the Des Plaines bowling alleys, beginning September 6. Those wishing to bowl should contact Catherine Dean or Eileen Deithloff.

The executive o...rs will meet today, Thursday, at 1 p. m. at the home of Edith Peterson.

The Sewing circle will meet the first and third Tuesday of each month at 10 a. m. at the Moose hall. A potluck lunch will b eserved.

Congratulations to Mrs. F. Brunner and Mrs. G. Granzen on the birth of their new babies.

All members of the Women of the Moose are asked to dress western for Frontier Days. Anyone wishing to help with serving food at the festival should contact Katherine Richter.

Conservation Will Pay

A soil conservation farm plan in Colorado can pay for itself in five to eight years through extra earnings per acre, experts say.

HOME FREEZER Today!

The Only Modern Freezer is the Amana Upright

It's wonderful what the Amana Home Freezer will do—cut dollars right out of your food budget, yet give you more delicious meals the year round and save you hours in kitchen time. But then, the AMANA is a very special Freezer! It's made by the pioneers in the field of low temperature refrigeration—the folks who built frozen food lockers all over the country! Point by Point, you will find the AMANA is better built to give longer years of better service.

259.95

A 6 cubic foot masterpiece of styling and economy—compact, convenient, low cost! Will hold 210 pounds of food—enough for several months of delicious menus for the average family. Pays for itself—you save over 20% on food bills! Fits into a space 31" x 26"! Only Amana gives you so much value for such a low price!

419.95

This roomy, 12-cubic foot freezer takes up a minimum of floor space. Shop less often—cook or bake in large quantities—your Amana 120 holds 420 pounds of frozen foods. Amana 12-cubic foot freezer also available in reach-in upright style.

Come in and SEE FOR YOURSELF!

Beneath that sparkling white beauty of DuPont Dulux Enamel is an electrically welded all steel frame, strong and rugged for years of service.

SEE how little space it will take up in your kitchen!

SEE how easy it is to freeze large quantities at one time. Three big shelf freezer plates, plus a freezer plate in the ceiling—13¾ square feet of freezing surface! Equally important, you have uniform low temperature in all parts of the compartment—even if it's filled to its 630 pound capacity!

SEE the front opening door that gives you an eye-level view of the contents of all four easy to clean aluminum compartments.

SEE the rounded corners of the cabinet that makes it so easy to clean, so nice to live with.

SEE the gleaming, handsomely styled chrome hardware.

THINK of the advantages of all over Fiberglas insulation, hand packed to prevent settling, sealed against moisture. It's 4½" thick . . . keeps cold in, heat out.

CONSIDER the hermetically sealed, trouble-free condensing unit that never needs oiling. It's spring suspended for quiet operation, fan cooled and super-powered for long service.

EXAMINE Amana's Warranty Bond . . see how it protects the freezer one full year, the mechanical system for 5 years—PLUS giving you the added protection of a 5 year food spoilage warranty.

Elsie Klages bride of Vincent Weidner

In a double ring ceremony August 4, Miss Elsie Klages, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Carl Klages, 102 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, became the bride of Vincent Clarence Weidner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Englebert Weidner, 911 N. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights.

The wedding took place at 10 a. m. at St. Mary's church, Buffalo Grove. Rev. Richard Rosemeyer officiated. Baskets of pastel gladioli decorated the altar.

The bride wore a white gown of nylon marquisette trimmed with lace. Her fingertip length veil of nylon marquisette was held in place by a coronet headpiece, and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Louis Klages.

Mrs. Ruth Klages, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a pale green marquisette gown and carried a bouquet of yellow gladioli. Her headpiece was also of yellow gladioli.

Mrs. Catherine Volz, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid. She wore a peach gown fashioned in the same manner as that of the matron of honor. Her bouquet and headpiece were of yellow gladioli.

Norbert Weidner, brother of the groom, was best man. Ferdinand Weidner, brother of the groom, was the usher.

A breakfast for the bridal party and immediate family was held at the home of the groom's parents immediately following the ceremony. Dinner for the immediate family and bridal party was served at Sobies, and the reception for 200 was held at Fred's Community hall at 8 p. m.

Following a wedding trip to Minnesota, the couple will make their home with the groom's parents.

Engaged

Mrs. Eva Trava, 100 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights, announces the engagement of her daughter, Madline, to Robert Schneider, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Schneider, 6819 Olmsted ave., Chicago.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Correction

Terry Alan Marschman, baptized recently at St. Peter Lutheran church, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Marschman. He is not their daughter as we erroneously stated.

Don Heidorn takes Bettie Rohlfsen as bride

St. Paul's Lutheran church of Waseca, Minn., was the scene of the marriage of Miss Bettie Jane Rohlfsen and Don Heidorn. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Rohlfsen of Faribault, Minn., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Heidorn, 735 N. Chestnut ave., Arlington Heights.

Rev. Edgar Eifert officiated at the double ring ceremony July 14. Lawrence Mittlesteadt, classmate of the bride, sang, "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Otto Oestriech was the organist.

The bride wore a ballerina length white chantilly lace gown over satin fashioned with a small rolled collar coming to a V, long sleeves and a fitted bodice. A juliet cap held her fingertip length veil in place, and she carried a shower bouquet of rose buds centered with two gardenias.

Miss Dorothy Heidorn of Arlington Heights, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. She wore a coral chantilly lace gown over nile green taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice and full ballerina length skirt. Her mitts and cap were of matching lace, and she carried a bouquet of coral and white carnations.

Mrs. Erwin Lange, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Donna Nowack, niece of the bride, was the bridesmaid. The matron of honor and bridesmaid wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor. They carried bouquets of blush pink and white carnaitons.

Glenn LeFevre of Chicago was best man. Fred Bork of Mount Prospect and Wilbert Rohlfsen, brother of the bride, were ushers.

The mother of the bride wore a blue dress with navy accessories and a gardenia corsage edged with pink rose buds. The mother of the groom wore a beige dress and a gardenia corsage edged in yellow rose buds.

A reception for 100 guests was held at the LaReside club of Waseca. The bridal dinner was held at the home of the bride Friday evening.

The couple took a wedding trip through northern Wisconsin. Mr. Heidorn, who was graduated from Knox college in 1950, was employed by the Sunbeam corp. before entering the army. Lt. Heidorn is now stationed at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Hold reception

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Spiczak of Arlington Heights held a wedding reception for 80 guests in honor of the recent marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Carlson of Chicago Saturday.

The groom and host served in the Marine corps together, and some of their Marine comrades from Virginia, Florida and California were present at the reception.

Local residents present included: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Healy and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wahl.

Surprise bridal shower for Joan Mors

Guest at a surprise bridal shower Tuesday night was Miss Joan Mohrs of Mt. Prospect. The shower, which was given by Misses Dorothy and Marilyn Schlemmer, was attended by 13 of Miss Mors' former high school classmates.

Elsie Klages bride of Vincent Weidner

In a double ring ceremony August 4, Miss Elsie Klages, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Carl Klages, 102 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, became the bride of Vincent Clarence Weidner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Englebert Weidner, 911 N. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights.

The wedding took place at 10 a. m. at St. Mary's church, Buffalo Grove. Rev. Richard Rosemeyer officiated. Baskets of pastel gladioli decorated the altar.

The bride wore a white gown of nylon marquisette trimmed with lace. Her fingertip length veil of nylon marquisette was held in place by a coronet headpiece, and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Louis Klages.

Mrs. Ruth Klages, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a pale green marquisette gown and carried a bouquet of yellow gladioli. Her headpiece was also of yellow gladioli.

Mrs. Catherine Volz, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid. She wore a peach gown fashioned in the same manner as that of the matron of honor. Her bouquet and headpiece were of yellow gladioli.

Norbert Weidner, brother of the groom, was best man. Ferdinand Weidner, brother of the groom, was the usher.

A breakfast for the bridal party and immediate family was held at the home of the groom's parents immediately following the ceremony. Dinner for the immediate family and bridal party was served at Sobies, and the reception for 200 was held at Fred's Community hall at 8 p. m.

Following a wedding trip to Minnesota, the couple will make their home with the groom's parents.

Engaged

Mrs. Eva Trava, 100 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights, announces the engagement of her daughter, Madline, to Robert Schneider, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Schneider, 6819 Olmsted ave., Chicago.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Correction

Terry Alan Marschman, baptized recently at St. Peter Lutheran church, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Marschman. He is not their daughter as we erroneously stated.

Don Heidorn takes Bettie Rohlfsen as bride

St. Paul's Lutheran church of Waseca, Minn., was the scene of the marriage of Miss Bettie Jane Rohlfsen and Don Heidorn. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Rohlfsen of Faribault, Minn., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Heidorn, 735 N. Chestnut ave., Arlington Heights.

Rev. Edgar Eifert officiated at the double ring ceremony July 14. Lawrence Mittlesteadt, classmate of the bride, sang, "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Otto Oestriech was the organist.

The bride wore a ballerina length white chantilly lace gown over satin fashioned with a small rolled collar coming to a V, long sleeves and a fitted bodice. A juliet cap held her fingertip length veil in place, and she carried a shower bouquet of rose buds centered with two gardenias.

Miss Dorothy Heidorn of Arlington Heights, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. She wore a coral chantilly lace gown over nile green taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice and full ballerina length skirt. Her mitts and cap were of matching lace, and she carried a bouquet of coral and white carnations.

Mrs. Erwin Lange, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Donna Nowack, niece of the bride, was the bridesmaid. The matron of honor and bridesmaid wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor. They carried bouquets of blush pink and white carnaitons.

Glenn LeFevre of Chicago was best man. Fred Bork of Mount Prospect and Wilbert Rohlfsen, brother of the bride, were ushers.

The mother of the bride wore a blue dress with navy accessories and a gardenia corsage edged with pink rose buds. The mother of the groom wore a beige dress and a gardenia corsage edged in yellow rose buds.

A reception for 100 guests was held at the LaReside club of Waseca. The bridal dinner was held at the home of the bride Friday evening.

The couple took a wedding trip through northern Wisconsin. Mr. Heidorn, who was graduated from Knox college in 1950, was employed by the Sunbeam corp. before entering the army. Lt. Heidorn is now stationed at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Hold reception

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Spiczak of Arlington Heights held a wedding reception for 80 guests in honor of the recent marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Carlson of Chicago Saturday.

The groom and host served in the Marine corps together, and some of their Marine comrades from Virginia, Florida and California were present at the reception.

Local residents present included: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Healy and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wahl.

Surprise bridal shower for Joan Mors

Guest at a surprise bridal shower Tuesday night was Miss Joan Mohrs of Mt. Prospect. The shower, which was given by Misses Dorothy and Marilyn Schlemmer, was attended by 13 of Miss Mors' former high school classmates.

As yet no definite date for the wedding has been set, but an early fall wedding is planned.

Geese Eat Weeds

A new use for geese has been discovered. They can be used to keep weeds out of the strawberry patch. Best results have been obtained the year the plants are set, and goslings do a better job than older geese.

Women's Auxiliary holds picnic at Lutheran home

The Women's Auxiliary of the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged held its annual picnic on the home's grounds August 2. Auxiliary members from Northern Illinois Missouri Synod churches were invited to bring a dish to share at noon with residents and staff members of the home.

Prior to lunch each resident came forth as his or her name was called to receive a grab bag gift as a special treat from the Auxiliary. The treat consisted of a wash cloth and turkish towel with individual names embroidered on each and a coin purse containing $1 in change.

Rev. J. M. Kempf, executive secretary of the home, and Mrs. R. W. Nimmer, president of the Women's Auxiliary, extended a welcome to all visitors. Rev. Otto Arndt, president of the board of directors, gave a short outline of the home and its service through the years.

Mrs. A. Zaabel was in charge of the entertainment for the afternoon. Ralph Zimmer played accordion solos, and Richard Abel gave two readings. Mrs. R. Lange of Forest Park presented the story of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Various stands offering refrershments, greeting cards, and novelties, and fancy goods were open to prospective buyers.

Christened

Lu-Ellen Ann Conrad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Conrad of Northbrook, was baptized Sunday afternoon at St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Hts. Rev. Luther V. Stephan officiated.

Her sponsors were Mrs. Dorothy Karnatz of Des Plaines, Mrs. Otto Andersen of Wheeling, Mrs. Arthur Harting Sr. of Arlington Heights and Jack Conrad of Morton Grove.

A family dinner was held at the Conrad home following the ceremony.

Prepare for Antique and Hobby show

Women of Arlington Heights Methodist church parish are getting ready for their annual classic, the Antique and Hobby show, which will run for three days starting September 11 and will bring hobbyists and antique fanciers from all over northern Illinois.

Mrs. Mark Creviston, general chairman, assisted by Mrs. Robert Marsh, is meeting with all committees to make thorough preparations for this elaborate event which originated in 1943 as a money-raising project.

AS EACH YEAR has passed, the show has become larger in scope and has drawn workers and contributions from a wider area until all Chicagoland has become aware of its social importance and splendid offerings.

It has also become a unifying cooperative community event. For several years, St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church has loaned the use of its social hall for the housing of the quilts and heirloom display, the table settings, and the afternoon teas.

Irrespective of church affiliation, people are invited to share in the project by displaying their hobby collections, unusual quilts, or heirloom.s. Mrs. William D. Jones and Mrs. Burton Bauer are in charge of these exhibits.

NEW FEATURES added to the show keep visitors coming back year after year and also attract newcomers. This year a distinctive stage setting in the hobby section of the church gymnasium is being arranged by Mrs. Frank Muller of this suburb. A living ro.m done in primitive American furnishings is being tastefully planned.

Reliable antique dealers reserve space a year in advance to assure their return to this popular show.

Many homemakers in the community toss away kitchen cares for these three days since luncheons, teas, and dinners are served daily. Mrs. Harold Olson is chairman of food arrangements at the Methodist church dining room. Mrs. John W. Russell will be in charge of plans for the afternoon teas at St. John's church.

St. Raymond's sponsor ice cream social

St. Raymond church of Mt. Prospect will sponsor an ice cream social Sunday on the church property at the corner of Lincoln and Elmhurst rds. from 5 to 9 p. m.

Home-made cakes, all kinds of ice cream and beverages will be featured.

Parishioners are asked to bring their families and friends.

Betty Ostenson back from homemakers' meet

Betty Ostenson, who represents the Palatine future homemokers of America chapter, was one of 540 delegates from 465 high schools in Illinois who enjoyed and profited from attending the 11th annual leadership training conference sponsored by the Illinois association of future homemakers at East Bay camp, Lake Bloomington, from July 30 to August 3.

While at the Conference, Miss Ostenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Ostenson of Arlington Heights, was a member of the finance committee.

At the State Conference the delegates receive leadership training and information which they can bring back to better their local chapters. Instructional and entertaining discussion meetings and programs have been planned for the five-day camping Conference. Major responsibility for all activities was in the hands of student committees, but 30 homemaking teachers and 3 college students were counselors.

Marilyn Behrens, who represents the Arlington Heights Future Homemakers of America Chaper, is one of 540 delegates from 465 high schools in Illinois enjoying and profiting from attending the 11th annual Leadership Training Conference sponsored by the Illinois Association of Future Homemakers at East Bay Camp, Lake Bloomington, from July 30 to August 3.

Wilson school news

School addition

The School board and special committee met Monday evening with the contractors and signed contracts as follows:

General contract, $35,407; heating, $6,656; plumbing, $6,456.85; electric, $3,259; total, $51,778.85.

The additional amount required to complete the building was discussed, and a bond issue will be put before the people in amount of $6,000. This figure was arrived at as follows:

Balance due architect, $1,729; legal fees and bond issue costs, $451; building guarantee bond, $550; decorating, floor, fence, fire ins., $2,720; equipment, $1,500; total, $6,950; balance in building fund, $1,072; balance, $5,878.

A Public Notice will appear in this paper stating the date of election as soon as the School board has completed negotiations in connection with this bond issue. The importance of this bond issue cannot be stressed too firmly since it means the difference between an unfinished building or a fine complete addition to the school, which will enable the district to cope with rising population and eliminate the present over-crowded condition which has resulted in split sessions.

"I got the story on

and changed to New Conoco Super Motor Oil"

says H. Joseph Johnson
Taxi Fleet Owner
Maryville, Missouri

"Our fleet of cars are driven 25,000 to 30,000 miles a month. We find that motors lubricated with Conoco Super outwear the bodies of our cars."

NEWSPAPER DELIVERY

"I make daily trips of 250 miles and more, delivering newspapers into Nebraska," reports Paul M. Foss, Cheyenne, Wyo. "After 70,000 miles exclusively on Conoco Super, I don't even have to add oil between 1,000-mile drains."

"50,000 Miles-No Wear!" Proved Here:

After a punishing 50,000-mile road test, with proper drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence: in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000!

USED CAR SALESMAN

"A real money-saver—that's Conoco Super," says W. H. Grubbs, Used Car Salesman, Fort Worth, Tex. "I was driving a 1939 car using 2 quarts every 500 miles. I changed to Conoco Super and stopped having to add oil between drains."

Women's Auxiliary holds picnic at Lutheran home

The Women's Auxiliary of the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged held its annual picnic on the home's grounds August 2. Auxiliary members from Northern Illinois Missouri Synod churches were invited to bring a dish to share at noon with residents and staff members of the home.

Prior to lunch each resident came forth as his or her name was called to receive a grab bag gift as a special treat from the Auxiliary. The treat consisted of a wash cloth and turkish towel with individual names embroidered on each and a coin purse containing $1 in change.

Rev. J. M. Kempf, executive secretary of the home, and Mrs. R. W. Nimmer, president of the Women's Auxiliary, extended a welcome to all visitors. Rev. Otto Arndt, president of the board of directors, gave a short outline of the home and its service through the years.

Mrs. A. Zaabel was in charge of the entertainment for the afternoon. Ralph Zimmer played accordion solos, and Richard Abel gave two readings. Mrs. R. Lange of Forest Park presented the story of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Various stands offering refershments, greeting cards, and novelties, and fancy goods were open to prospective buyers.

Christened

Lu-Ellen Ann Conrad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Conrad of Northbrook, was baptized Sunday afternoon at St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Hts. Rev. Luther V. Stephan officiated.

Her sponsors were Mrs. Dorothy Karnatz of Des Plaines, Mrs. Otto Andersen of Wheeling, Mrs. Arthur Harting Sr. of Arlington Heights and Jack Conrad of Morton Grove.

A family dinner was held at the Conrad home following the ceremony.

Honor Elaine Kehe at bridal shower

Miss Elaine Kehe was the guest of honor at a bridal shower given July 27, by her fiance's aunt, Mrs. Laura Flagg of Berkeley, Ill. Miss Kehe and Sgt. Harry Flagg plan to be married September 22.

Engaged

Mr .and Mrs. Albert D. Hines of Leo, Ind., formerly of Arlington Heights, announce the engagement of their daughter, Alberta, to George H. Wickman Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wickman of Mt. Prospect.

Prepare for Antique and Hobby show

Women of Arlington Heights Methodist church parish are getting ready for their annual classic, the Antique and Hobby show, which will run for three days starting September 11 and will bring hobbyists and antique fanciers from all over northern Illinois.

Mrs. Mark Creviston, general chairman, assisted by Mrs. Robert Marsh, is meeting with all committees to make thorough preparations for this elaborate event which originated in 1943 as a money-raising project.

AS EACH YEAR has passed, the show has become larger in scope and has drawn workers and contributions from a wider area until all Chicagoland has become aware of its social importance and splendid offerings.

It has also become a unifying cooperative community event. For several years, St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church has loaned the use of its social hall for the housing of the quilts and heirloom display, the table settings, and the afternoon teas.

Irrespective of church affiliation, people are invited to share in the project by displaying their hobby collections, unusual quilts, or heirlooms. Mrs. William D. Jones and Mrs. Burton Bauer are in charge of these exhibits.

NEW FEATURES added to the show keep visitors coming back year after year and also attract newcomers. This year a distinctive stage setting in the hobby section of the church gymnasium is being arranged by Mrs. Frank Muller of this suburb. A living room done in primitive American furnishings is being tastefully planned.

Reliable antique dealers reserve space a year in advance to assure their return to this popular show.

Many homemakers in the community toss away kitchen cares for these three days since luncheons, teas, and dinners are served daily. Mrs. Harold Olson is chairman of food arrangements at the Methodist church dining room. Mrs. John W. Russell will be in charge of plans for the afternoon teas at St. John's church.

St. Raymond's sponsor ice cream social

St. Raymond church of Mt. Prospect will sponsor an ice cream social Sunday on the church property at the corner of Lincoln and Elmhurst rds. from 5 to 9 p. m.

Home-made cakes, all kinds of ice cream and beverages will be featured.

Parishioners are asked to bring their families and friends.

Attend commencement

Mr. and Mrs. John Raef and family of Arlington Heights attended the commencement exercises at Alverno college in Milwaukee, Wis., August 2. Their daughter, Sister Mary Esther, OES, receives her B.A. degree in Latin and English.

Miss Joyce Buser, of Mattoon and cousin of Sister Esther, was also present at the exercises.

Betty Ostenson back from homemakers' meet

Betty Ostenson, who represents the Palatine future homemokers of America chapter, was one of 540 delegates from 465 high schools in Illinois who enjoyed and profited from attending the 11th annual leadership training conference sponsored by the Illinois association of future homemakers at East Bay camp, Lake Bloomington, from July 30 to August 3.

While at the Conference, Miss Ostenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Ostenson of Arlington Heights, was a member of the finance committee.

At the State Conference the delegates receive leadership training and information which they can bring back to better their local chapters. Instructional and entertaining discussion meetings and programs have been planned for the five-day camping Conference. Major responsibility for all activities was in the hands of student committees, but 30 homemaking teachers and 3 college students were counselors.

Marilyn Behrens, who represents the Arlington Heights Future Homemakers of America Chaper, is one of 540 delegates from 465 high schools in Illinois enjoying and profiting from attending the 11th annual Leadership Training Conference sponsored by the Illinois Association of Future Homemakers at East Bay Camp, Lake Bloomington, from July 30 to August 3.

Obituaries

Joseph J. Weitzel

Funeral services were held July 30, for Joseph J. Weitzel, 81, late of Hartford, Wis., in Alta Vista, Ia.

Mr. Weitzel was born in Germany in 1870, and came to the United States in the early 1900's. He made his home with his son, Alvin Weitzel of Palatine, from 1942 through 1944.

Survivors include: a daughter, Mrs. Elmer Olson, Ellsworth, Minn.; a son, Captain Bernard Weitzel of Anchorage, Alaska; a daughter, Mrs. Ray Gibson of Chicago; a son, Chief Petty Officer Raymond Weitzel, and another son, Alvin Weitzel of Palatine.

Wilson school news

School addition

The School board and special committee met Monday evening with the contractors and signed contracts as follows:

General contract, $35,407; heating, $6,656; plumbing, $6,456.85; electric, $3,259; total, $51,778.85.

The additional amount required to complete the building was discussed, and a bond issue will be put before the people in amount of $6,000. This figure was arrived at as follows:

Balance due architect, $1,729; legal fees and bond issue costs, $451; building guarantee bond, $550; decorating, floor, fence, fire ins., $2,720; equipment, $1,500; total, $6,950; balance in building fund, $1,072; balance, $5,878.

A Public Notice will appear in this paper stating the date of election as soon as the School board has completed negotiations in connection with this bond issue. The importance of this bond issue cannot be stressed too firmly since it means the difference between an unfinished building or a fine complete addition to the school, which will enable the district to cope with rising population and eliminate the present over-crowded condition which has resulted in split sessions.

Home owners meet

The Home Owners association of Arlington Knolls will meet August 14, at the home of Robert Huebner, State rd.

Celebrates birthday

Happy Birthday to Randy Huebner, who was 8 years old August 8. A family dinner was held in his honor Sunday, and a children's party, Tuesday. Randy hopes his doctor will complete his happy birthday by removing the cast on his arm Wednesday.

The Lihme family, formerly of Chestnut rd. and now residing in Kansas City, have been visiting in Arlington Heights for the past week. Mrs. Lihme said the recent flood did not cause them too much inconvenience, since they were fortunate in being one of three families in their block having water to drink.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Albrecht and son, Erwin, drove to Champaign last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Brickley and daughters, Jean and Lois, of Massillon, O., were guests of the Andrew Wallors last week. Sunday the Wallors attended a birthday party for their nephew, John Wallor, in Pontiac.

Prospect Heights Choral society in festival contest

The Prospect Heights choral society, mixed chorus under the direction of Phyllis D. Snetsinger, 414 W. Hawthorne, Arlington Heights, has entered the choral contest of the 22nd annual Chicagoland music festival. If the group wins a place in the contest finals it will appear before an audience of approximately 90,000 persons in Soldiers' field at the festival concert Saturday evening, Aug. 25.

"I make daily trips of 250 miles and more, delivering newspapers into Nebraska," reports Paul M. Foss, Cheyenne, Wyo. "After 70,000 miles exclusively on Conoco Super, I don't even have to add oil between 1,000-mile drains."

"A real money-saver—that's Conoco Super," says W. H. Grubbs, Used Car Salesman, Fort Worth, Tex. "I was driving a 1939 car using 2 quarts every 500 miles. I changed to Conoco Super and stopped having to add oil between drains."

"50,000 Miles-No Wear!" Proved Here:

After a punishing 50,000-mile road test, with proper drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence: in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000!

July 31st, 1951

On February 1st, 1951, in spite of the valiant efforts of the very fine Arlington Heights' Fire Department and the Fire Departments of the neighboring communities, the A&P Super Market at 114 W. Campbell St. was totally destroyed by fire. It came as a shock! We could scarcely believe it — the almost new store in Arlington Heights — a heavy loss to us and to our customers.

As we viewed the smoking ruins, we felt we owed it to our many loyal customers to rebuild it and we vowed then to make it better than ever!

On July 31st our dreams came true and our gratification in your response was overwhelming. Thousands of old friends and new visited us to make this one of the most successful and enthusiastic openings we have had.

Thank you for your wonderful reception. We'll never forget that Grand Opening Day!

Comments Overheard at Our Grand Opening...

It's wonderful to have that good fresh A&P coffee back again. We haven't really enjoyed coffee since the A&P fire.

I like the convenience of the new "Health and Beauty Needs Department". That's another reason I like to shop at A&P.

Did you see that new Houseware's Department at the new A&P? There must be a hundred handy items for the kitchen and the home!

I'm certainly glad A&P's Personal Service Meat Department is back. The meat men are so friendly and I can get just the cut of meat I want.

Notice the crisp fresh fruit and vegetables in the Refrigerated Produce Department and the wonderful prices too!

We missed the wonderful cheese products in A&P's dairy department. My husband told me to be sure to pick up a large piece of Sharp Cheddar Cheese.

I certainly like the orderly way A&P arranges their stores. Everything is departmentalized, everything is price stamped and I think the store directory so convenient.

Ordinance

An Ordinance Establishing the Procedure for the Construction of Public Improvements by Interested Property Owners by Private Contract

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, COUNTY OF COOK AND SATE OF ILLINOIS:

Section 1. Any person, firm or corporation owning or being interested in any real estate located within the Village of Arlington Heights and desiring to construct any improvement of or in any street, avenue, alley or other publicly owned property adjacent to or in the neighborhood of his, their or its privately owned property and for the benefit of such property shall first obtain a permit or authorization from the President and Board of Trustees for the preparation of plans and specifications for such improvement by the Village Engineer. All plans and specifications for such proposed improvement must be approved by the President and Board of Trustees before the letting or execution of any contract or contracts for the construction of such proposed work and the award of such contract or contracts must be approved by the President and Board of Trustees and a copy of such contract or contracts, together with copies of any exhibits attached thereto and of the plans and specifications so approved by the President and Board of Trustees must be filed with the Village Clerk.

Section 2. The total amount of the contract price for the construction of such proposed improvement shall be deposited in escrow with the Village Treasurer of the Village of Arlington Heights before any work shall be commenced under such contract. There shall also be deposited at the same time with the Village Treasurer a sum of money for inspection services and administration costs to be incurred by the Village based on the number of hours of such service estimated by the Village Engineer required to complete the proposed work at the rate of $3.00 per hour as estimated. There shall also at the same time be deposited by such owner a sufficient amount of money to pay the engineering charges of the Village Engineer for services rendered and to be rendered in connection with such proposed improvement, the amount to be based either upon an agreement for such service between such owner and such Engineer or based upon the following schedule: On contracts involving $15,000.00 or less, 8% of such contract price; on contracts involving from $15,000.00 to $30,000.00, 7% of the contract price; and on contracts over $30,000.00, 6% of the contract price.

Moneys so deposited as provided in Section 2 of this ordinance shall be paid by the Village Treasurer to the parties entitled thereto on monthly estimates issued by the Village Engineer and only upon the order of the President of the Board of Trustees of the Village up to 90% of such estimates furnished. Upon the issuanec of a final estimate so marked accompanied by letter from the Village Engineer stating that such work has been completed in accordance with the plans and specifications and the acceptance of the completed improvement by the President and Board of Trustees, the final balance due the contractor or contractors shall be payable.

Section 3. Where such improvement so constructed shall be of benefit to property other than the property of the person, firm or corporation constructing or having such improvement constructed for the benefit of its property, and if the owners of or parties interested in such additional property so benefited shall not have contributed their proportionate share of the cost of the making of such improvement, the Village shall by ordinance provide that no owner or person interested in such other property so benefited shall be permitted to connect to such improvement or to receive the benefit thereof unless and until the owner or owners of such property shall have contributed a proportionate share of the cost of the construction of such improvement and deposited the same with the Village Treasurer to be paid to the owner or owners who have originally paid the cost of such improvement, less 2% for the collection and handling of such additional funds to be deducted from such additional deposits made.

Section 4. Improvements consisting of the construction of sidewalks costing less than $500.00 unless a part of the general street improvement, and the construction of driveway aprons and sewer and water service connections shall be exempted from the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 5. No work involving the construction of any such public improvement constructed under the provisions of this ordinance shall be engaged in before the hour of 8:00 o'clock A. M. or after the hour of 4:30 o'clock P. M., nor at any time on Sundays without the written permission of the Superintendent of Public Works and without notifying the inspector assigned to the particular improvement.

Section 6. Any person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this ordinance shall be subject to a fine or upon a conviction for such violation of a sum of not less than $50.00 nor more than $200.00 and every day that such violation shall continue shall be considered a separate offense.

Section 7. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication and shall be known as Ordinance No. 786.

Passed this 6th day of August, 1951.

Forrest F. Davis,
Village Clerk.

Approved this 6th day of August, 1951.

Library corner

Arlington Heights Public Library hours: Monday through Friday—3 to 9 p. m. Saturday—3 to 6 p. m.

We have placed eight beautifully illustrated, interesting and attractive books for children on their table this week. They are all new Cross publications, with stories and pictures by Genevieve Cross.

For the very young children, about 3 to 6 years, there is "The Pop-corn Lamb and the Peppermint Sticks," which tells the story of what happened in the Jelly-Bean Toy shop when the Pop-corn Lamb was placed in the magic window. It also contains "The Peppermint Stick Parade" set to music.

A second book for this age group is "Fluff and the Firemen," which is a gay little book filled with lovable, fluffy kittens and racing fire trucks, all combined into an exciting rescue story about Fluff.

The third book of the group is "The Engine that Lost its Whistle," which young readers in the first and second grades will delight in reading for themselves, as the vocabulary has been carefully checked with popular primary word lists.

"The Fawn and the White Mountain Express" is another fascinating Early American train book, suitable for children from 4 to 7 years.

In the next age group, about 6 to 10 years, there is "Judy, Junior Nurse" for the girls, and "The Round-up at Bar-C Ranch" and "Tommy and the Indians" for the boys.

The eighth book for ages 7 to 11 years is called "West With the Mounties." This book portrays true pioneer spirit, and is North American history the way boys and girls like to read it.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Tragedy is not always sudden death. Often tragedy is a withered spirit. Such tragedy was written in Washington when aging Gen. Marshall advised Congress that the World Plan for Futility that bears his distinguished name, should be given approximately twice as many billions as already squandered.

* * *

The tragedy is that long before he spoke, William Foster, head administrator of the Marshall Plan stated the plan has not accomplished the purpose for which billions were taken from American taxpayers.

C. W. Harder

European industrial production is today, thanks to billions of dollars of American gifts, is at history's highest level.

Yet, the plain citizen of Europe is little, if any, better off. If people succumb to communism because of lack of material means, then Joe Stalin has won the battle. All he has to do is wait until Americans are bankrupt, thus unable to make any more gifts to Europe, and move in without spending a ruble.

Foster highlighted the problem saying it is impossible for the average man in Europe to be much better off unless European monopoly system ends.

European businessmen, he stated, do not produce to provide more jobs, lower prices. They combine to set prices, hold down production, and in all ways conspire to keep out competition.

In Europe this system is legal. In America it is not legal even though practiced. Marshall Plan gifts have aided enormously the big European trusts. Many of the millions have gone directly to the big steel monopolies of France and other nations.

Obviously, when American bureaucrats consistently fail to enforce this nation's anti-trust laws, they are notoriously unable to sell European nations the evil of monopoly.

So the end will be the same.

Regardless of whether American taxpayers are assessed 25 billion, 50 billion, or 500 billion to increase and carry on the Marshall Plan, the evil remains.

Blackmail is an ugly word. Yet it is the only term that fits many Marshall Plan gifts.

For example, ECA Bulletin No. 2 announces Tito's Yugoslavia has just been given another $5,707,000 worth of iron, steel, aluminum, tinplate and other scarce materials, for a total allocation to date of more than 27 million dollars.

* * *

No one disputes that Tito's Yugosavia is as communistic as any country can ever be. The only difference is that Tito and Joe are presently not on speaking terms. As long as Tito can fleece the American taxpayers by not speaking to him, Joe probably feels silence is golden.

Over a hundred years ago, when the nation had a tiny navy, the answer to another gang of pirates, located on the Barbary Coast was "Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute."

And there's the tragedy of America in 1951.

Today, monopolies and many in government would rather bankrupt the entire nation, destroy the entire American system, pile on tax after tax, commit American lives, than go back to the basic fundamentals which made the nation great.

A doctor friend of mine once said the most interesting thing he ever studied in connection with the human body was its quick adjustment to temperature changes. We remain at 98.6 degrees no matter what the external conditions—hot or cold.

Another thing I wish could be fixed—why do some of us have dry skins and others too oily? I'm a "dry" and I try like mad to keep my face and neck from looking too papery and lifeless. Best way I know to do it is to use very little soap, lots of cream and a lotion like Dorothy Gray's Orange Flower skin lotion. It stimulates and adds lubricant to the skin. Her Texture Lotion stimulates and wipes off excess oil needed by skins too oily. Fortunately, she offers these lotions at half price once annually. Now is the time. Drop in at the Arlington Hts. Pharmacy for the lotion and/or other cosmetic needs. Several good lines on sale now—i. e., Coty, Helena Rubenstein.

Originally, I planned to talk of prices only when they were ridiculous. But it's difficult for me to keep still about things. After my last tirade against high food prices, however, the Jewel manager pointed out (as I skillfully guided Sharon past the candy) a bit of good news. Some food is lower. Really. Mayonnaise—and at the season you use a lot, soaps, oils, shortenings, fruits and vegetables, of course.

Another important food which has stayed at a decent price, comparatively speaking, is butter. Stop now and think. Perhaps the only difference between using all the butter you like and skimping is a pound a week. And Jewel's delicious butter in quarters is only 75c a pound. Go ahead and use a lot before someone thinks the cows aren't making enough money.

Only children can get away with it. Sharon's hair is sun bleached, full of her sandbox, flying in the wind—but on her it looks just fine.

Let's realize it, though, women just can't get away with it. Hair too long, too frizzy, too limp—nothing can make or break a woman's looks any faster than her hair style and hair condition. Something just right can be done for your hair at Alfred L. Martin hairdressing salon. Good advice, skilled work and satisfying results every day are handed out to his patrons. It's the largest and best of such establishments in the whole northwest section—and so handy. Right on 103 W. Campbell.

Mothers do many nice things for their daughters. I know mine did. I wish, though, she had persuaded me to select a sterling pattern. It's so very easy to buy silver on a club plan. And sometimes if you don't do it then, come wedding time there are too many other places for your money.

Flaherty Jewelers have an arrangement where you select your pattern, the amount you want to spend and you end up with a really valuable possession. If your relatives are prone to always select just the wrong thing for your birthday gift, gently steer them to Flaherty's where your pattern will be registered.

Anyone want to get me started? Royal Danish is my favorite.

Mr. Stefanik is especially valuable in the summertime. Unexpected company holds no errors for me since I discovered his store one Sunday afternoon. From 4 N. Dunton I assembled a meal of perfectly home-baked ham, Jewish rye bread (try it, it's wonderful), potato salad, dill pickles, frozen asparagus and ice cream for hot fudge sundaes. The store is smallish, but you can discover more wonderful things—for instance, summer sausage (called that 'cause originally it was concocted in the winter, aged about 6 months and so eaten in the summer.)

He has many things you can't find elsewhere and a pretty complete line of canned foods, produce, frozen products and bread. Long loaves, square loves ,round oval — bread to make every meal more interesting.

This week's column seems to have a lot of chit chat from the kitchen. Certainly hope it doesn't show up on the scales. Actually I weigh just the same as I did when I got married, but my husband has put on 40 pounds. Of course, he was painfully thin and I wasn't.

Back to the kitchen. As I have said before, hot dogs cooked outside, really good rolls make a big difference, too. Just as homemade bread adds goodness to a meal, so do homemade frankfurter rolls enhance the "dog."

Cake Shop makes them up daily and like Phillip Morris, you can taste the difference.

Mr. Lester Waite, an old time Arlington Heights resident and his daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Larkin, are cooperating in a business adventure—the Wala Washerette. It's pretty hard to talk to Dorothy about the business as she's always busy putting soap in washers, making out tags, etc. When I drop in I get the distinct impression that the customers come first. The customers are quite happy with this arrangement as it gets a big wash done quickly, dried and folded (a free service.)

I would have gone in business with my dad, but he raises chickens—thousands of them — and frankly I only care for them in small, well-cooked portions. Wala is on Northwest highway—the chickens, in Maine.

Palatine man off to banking school at University of Wisconsin

Edward R. Leicht of Palatine, assistant vice president of the National Boulevard bank of Chicago will leave August 19 for two weeks attendance at the school of banking at the University of Wisconsin, Madison. This will be his first year at the school which requires two weeks resident attendance each year for three years to earn the certificate of graduation. Throughout the year between resident sessions students are required to do extension work involving problems in all phases of banking.

The school is sponsored by the central states conference, composed of bankers associations in 16 mid-western states. Attendance this year will approximate 650 bankers, ranging from junior officers and department managers to presidents, vice presidents and board chairmen of banks from more than 30 states.

The faculty of over 100 instructors consists of bankers who are specialists in their respective fields, practicing attorneys, business executives and members of a number of university and college faculties.

Ordinance

An Ordinance Establishing the Procedure for the Construction of Public Improvements by Interested Property Owners by Private Contract

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, COUNTY OF COOK AND SATE OF ILLINOIS:

Section 1. Any person, firm or corporation owning or being interested in any real estate located within the Village of Arlington Heights and desiring to construct any improvement of or in any street, avenue, alley or other publicly owned property adjacent to or in the neighborhood of his, their or its privately owned property and for the benefit of such property shall first obtain a permit or authorization from the President and Board of Trustees for the preparation of plans and specifications for such improvement by the Village Engineer. All plans and specifications for such proposed improvement must be approved by the President and Board of Trustees before the letting or execution of any contract or contracts for the construction of such proposed work and the award of such contract or contracts must be approved by the President and Board of Trustees and a copy of such contract or contracts, together with copies of any exhibits attached thereto and of the plans and specifications so approved by the President and Board of Trustees must be filed with the Village Clerk.

Section 2. The total amount of the contract price for the construction of such proposed improvement shall be deposited in escrow with the Village Treasurer of the Village of Arlington Heights before any work shall be commenced under such contract. There shall also be deposited at the same time with the Village Treasurer a sum of money for inspection services and administration costs to be incurred by the Village based on the number of hours of such service estimated by the Village Engineer required to complete the proposed work at the rate of $3.00 per hour as estimated. There shall also at the same time be deposited by such owner a sufficient amount of money to pay the engineering charges of the Village Engineer for services rendered and to be rendered in connection with such proposed improvement, the amount to be based either upon an agreement for such service between such owner and such Engineer or based upon the following schedule: On contracts involving $15,000.00 or less, 8% of such contract price; on contracts involving from $15,000.00 to $30,000.00, 7% of the contract price; and on contracts over $30,000.00, 6% of the contract price.

Moneys so deposited as provided in Section 2 of this ordinance shall be paid by the Village Treasurer to the parties entitled thereto on monthly estimates issued by the Village Engineer and only upon the order of the President of the Board of Trustees of the Village up to 90% of such estimates furnished. Upon the issuanec of a final estimate so marked accompanied by letter from the Village Engineer stating that such work has been completed in accordance with the plans and specifications and the acceptance of the completed improvement by the President and Board of Trustees, the final balance due the contractor or contractors shall be payable.

Section 3. Where such improvement so constructed shall be of benefit to property other than the property of the person, firm or corporation constructing or having such improvement constructed for the benefit of its property, and if the owners of or parties interested in such additional property so benefited shall not have contributed their proportionate share of the cost of the making of such improvement, the Village shall by ordinance provide that no owner or person interested in such other property so benefited shall be permitted to connect to such improvement or to receive the benefit thereof unless and until the owner or owners of such property shall have contributed a proportionate share of the cost of the construction of such improvement and deposited the same with the Village Treasurer to be paid to the owner or owners who have originally paid the cost of such improvement, less 2% for the collection and handling of such additional funds to be deducted from such additional deposits made.

Section 4. Improvements consisting of the construction of sidewalks costing less than $500.00 unless a part of the general street improvement, and the construction of driveway aprons and sewer and water service connections shall be exempted from the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 5. No work involving the construction of any such public improvement constructed under the provisions of this ordinance shall be engaged in before the hour of 8:00 o'clock A. M. or after the hour of 4:30 o'clock P. M., nor at any time on Sundays without the written permission of the Superintendent of Public Works and without notifying the inspector assigned to the particular improvement.

Section 6. Any person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this ordinance shall be subject to a fine or upon a conviction for such violation of a sum of not less than $50.00 nor more than $200.00 and every day that such violation shall continue shall be considered a separate offense.

Section 7. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication and shall be known as Ordinance No. 786.

Passed this 6th day of August, 1951.

Forrest F. Davis,
Village Clerk.

Approved this 6th day of August, 1951.

Mr. Lester Waite, an old time Arlington Heights resident and his daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Larkin, are cooperating in a business adventure—the Wala Washerette. It's pretty hard to talk to Dorothy about the business as she's always busy putting soap in washers, making out tags, etc. When I drop in I get the distinct impression that the customers come first. The customers are quite happy with this arrangement as it gets a big wash done quickly, dried and folded (a free service.)

I would have gone in business with my dad, but he raises chickens—thousands of them — and frankly I only care for them in small, well-cooked portions. Wala is on Northwest highway—the chickens, in Maine.

Palatine man off to banking school at University of Wisconsin

Edward R. Leicht of Palatine, assistant vice president of the National Boulevard bank of Chicago will leave August 19 for two weeks attendance at the school of banking at the University of Wisconsin, Madison. This will be his first year at the school which requires two weeks resident attendance each year for three years to earn the certificate of graduation. Throughout the year between resident sessions students are required to do extension work involving problems in all phases of banking.

The school is sponsored by the central states conference, composed of bankers associations in 16 mid-western states. Attendance this year will approximate 650 bankers, ranging from junior officers and department managers to presidents, vice presidents and board chairmen of banks from more than 30 states.

The faculty of over 100 instructors consists of bankers who are specialists in their respective fields, practicing attorneys, business executives and members of a number of university and college faculties.

The 12 home economics demonstrations will be judged Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Offices are open for collection of real estate tax

Township tax collectors' offices are open for the collection of the second installment of the 1950 real estate taxes.

Collectors Hart of Palatine and Walters of Elk Grove have been on the job since Monday.

Collector Annen of Wheeling township opens his office in the Arlington Heights National Bank Monday morning.

Any taxpayer who did not pay the first real estate installment or his personal property bill can have his local collector make the payment for him at the county building.

A four per cent penalty is now added to personal and first installment bills. The local collectors receive only second installment payments.

Reports from collectors throughout the county state that collections this early in the month are very slow. The big rush is expected to start after August 15.

Penalty date on the second installment is September 1.

Select 4-H club girls to attend state fair

Six girls from North Cook county 4-H clubs were selected to compete at the annual 4-H club state fair at Springfield, which will be held from August 10 to 19. The girls, among 15 selected from Cook county, will leave here August 14 and return August 16.

Girls competing in the dress revue will be Dorothy Dittrich and Norma Hartmann, both of TNT, Des Plaines; Frances Wood, Mainettes, East Maine, and Peggy Perlin, So and Sews, Park Ridge. Laurnell Anderson of the Up and Doing club of Elk Grove will be an alternate in the dress revue division.

Marlene Krambeer of the Clever Clover club, Arlington Heights, will be an alternate in the demonstration division.

Three dresses will be sent to the state fair for construction. Girls who made the dresses are: Judy Ahmer, Sewing Susies, Arlington Heights; Marianne Nesler, Barrington Blue Birds, and Georgia Busching, Girls of Schaumburg.

Lions learn how Detroit club aids the blind

Blindfold yourself, walk five steps, turn around, and try to return to your original place; then light a cigarette. That was a test taken by a group of Arlington Heights business men this week at the Lions club meeting. They did not do so well as a group.

The test was conducted by Paul Knowles, himself blind since birth, who has traveled all over the country with his constant companion and faithful Leader Dog, Pat.

MR. KNOWLES, director of field activities of the Leader Dog League for the Blind, and a member of the Detroit (East Side), Mich., Lions club, was guest speaker at the club. He told how 13 years ago a group of blind people appealed to the Detroit Lions clubs to help them secure Seeing Eye dogs, and how the joint investigating committee discovered that applications then on hand would take years to fill.

These Detroit Lions clubs then sought aid of others and organized the Leader Dog League which has trained more than 400 dogs to work with as many blind people enabling them to carry on business and support themselves.

Mr. Knowles brought with him Miss Valerie Ziska who lost her sight recently through an accident. She had just completed her training at the Rochester, Mich. headquarters of the League and brought along her Scotch collie, Laurie. She gave a brief talk about her experience, and is looking forward to enrolling as a freshman at Illinois University next month.

BEFORE SHOWING colored motion pictures describing the method of training the dogs, Mr. Knowles made a forceful talk praising Lions clubs everywhere as the "World's Biggest Doers." Some very impressive statements regarding the handicapped in general and the blind in particular include:

Each year 13,000 people in the United States become blind and have no other handicap. Because dogs cannot be trained as fast as needed, Mr. Knowles expressed hope of the establishing of orientation centers. He said that without them from one to five years is required for newblind to adjust themselves.

Handicapped people do not need or want pity — just a chance to become self-supporting. He said that rehabilitation centers are having marvelous success and that readjusted "graduates" make better workers. He urged the local Lions to help find employment for any handicapped people they know.

Five personal guests swelled the meeting attendance to 66. John Latta reported on progress of the work in connection with the Lions Junior Olympics. A large number of entries is expected, and a plea was made for 25 Lions to be on duty all day next Wednesday when the parade takes place and the finals are run.

Race track July was a busy month for Arlington police

During the month of July the Arlington Heights police department has tried 105 village ordinance and motor vehicle violators, with 104 being found guilty for a sum of $795 in fines. Ninety parking violators have paid a total of $90 in parking fines for a total of $885 received in fines.

There have been 58 arrests for speeding and 30 arrests for other vehicle violations.

Accidents during the month of July have numbered 20, five with personal injuries to nine people, and one resulting in the death of one man.

There have been four cases of petty larceny of auto accessories reported to the police department.

A check for $1,368 has been received by the village from the Arlington Park race track for police service during the recent meeting. It is rumored that the money will be used for new police uniforms.

Palatine police given approval to acceptance of part time jobs

The regular pay of the Palatine police officers does not meet inflation prices. Palatine Transportation System needs drivers for the school buses.

Lt. Frank Meyer announced Wednesday that he had given his consent to a rearrangement of working hours for the police officers that will enable three of them to drive the buses four hours each day.

The new schedule requires Meyer to be on the job at 7:00 a. m., but he is glad to help out the boys.

The Transportation Co. thinks that with policemen as drivers the children will have greater respect for their orders regarding safety procedure. The village takes the stand that the officers in daily contact with the teenagers will boost law and order generally.

Of course, if taxpayers do not like the arrangement, they can raise the salaries of the officers.

The officers who will exchange their stars for chauffeur badges twice daily are Joseph Jost, Raymond Betz and Clifford Brail.

Noble J. Puffer again superintendent of Cook County schools

—Tribune photo

A number of friends in Northwest Cook County of Noble J. Puffer were present Monday when he was sworn in as county superintendent of schools by County Clerk Richard Daley.

It was his fourth term in that office. Addresses were made by Judge John Lewe of the Appellate court; Frank Annunzio, state labor director and Dr. William C. Reavis of the University of Chicago.

Puffer was county superintendent of schools from 1935 to 1947 when he was unseated by the Republican candidate, Edward B. Simon. From 1949 until recently Puffer was director of the state department of education and registration.

Summer band performs as part of 4-H fair Friday

The Arlington Heights Community band will present its final concert of the season Friday evening as a part of the 4-H fair at Arlington Park Race track at 8:30 p. m.

F. C. Schmoyer will conduct the band in a number of selections, and several soloists will appear. Miss Carol Faulstich of Mt. Prospect will sing two soprano solos, "You Are Free" and "Deep in My Heart." Miss Carol Hedemark and Griffith Pritchard of Prospect Heights will pantomime "Ain't Nobody's Business" and "Anything You Can Do."

Band selections include, "Men of the Ohio," highlights from "Kiss Me Kate," "Helena Polka," "The Footlifter," "My Wild Irish Rose," "I Want a Girl Just Like the Girl," "Copa Cobana, "The Love Nest," "Prairier Jump," "Joshua," and "The Thunderer."

New students must register

Students new to the Arlington Heights township high school district, or those who did not register last spring, should make every effort to register immediately. The high school office is open from 8:30 to 12 noon and from 1 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. daily, except Saturday and Sunday.

Teachers will begin their annual workshop August 27, therefore the deans will not be available for registering, except for a limited time, the week prior to the opening of school, September 4.

Freshmna students who registered at their elementary schools last spring for high school will not be affected by this announcement as their registrations are complete. They need only to report for school Tuesday, September 4, at 8:10 a. m.

Bus schedules are operating, beginning September 4. The schedule of the busses appears elsewhere in this paper.

Buy PSCo. junk for $3, but give it back; worth $200

Two Chicago men, who entered the junk dealing business four short weeks ago, came up with their biggest catch last week, but Des Plaines police made them throw it back.

The prize, a large Public Serfice gas valve and pipe, was valued at more than $200.

Junk dealers Marshall Gillmore, 43, and Sam Stringer, 45, paid $3.

The seller, still unidentified, made the deal even though his asking price — a bit high — was $4.

HERE'S HOW the two enterprisers related the story to Judge A. L. Sengstock in police court Monday.

While driving along River rd. near Golf Sunday, Marshall's gaze fell on the biggest piece of "junk" he'd seen all day. A U-turn was in order.

Edging up to a man standing near the prize, Marshall opened the deal with a "What will you take for that?" Four dollars was the reply.

AFTER A HURRIED consultation, Sam said "We'll give you $3."

"Sold," came the answer, and the big hunk of "junk" was theirs.

Sgt. Strempel interrupted their homeward trek four blocks later.

When Judge Sengstock asked to see Sam's driver's license he hastened to explain that on that count he had not been negligent. "I knowed it wasn't good to drive a truck with no license at all, so I borrowed one from a friend," he said proudly.

Sam's second-hand license still failed to deliver him and his partner from a $10 fine.

Silicones Are Up-Coming

The use of silicone-base finishes has greatly increased during the last year. Since first marketed about five years ago, silicone finishes have been discovered to have extreme heat and weather-resistance. They are especially suited to space heaters, furnaces, steam generators, mufflers and processing equipment. They make extremely weather resistent enamels for advertising and highway signs, street signs, metal awnings and siding.

She had just completed her training at the Rochester, Mich. headquarters of the League and brought along her Scotch collie, Laurie. She gave a brief talk about her experience, and is looking forward to enrolling as a freshman at Illinois University next month.

BEFORE SHOWING colored motion pictures describing the method of training the dogs, Mr. Knowles made a forceful talk praising Lions clubs everywhere as the "World's Biggest Doers." Some very impressive statements regarding the handicapped in general and the blind in particular include:

Each year 13,000 people in the United States become blind and have no other handicap. Because dogs cannot be trained as fast as needed, Mr. Knowles expressed hope of the establishing of orientation centers. He said that without them from one to five years is required for new-blind to adjust themselves.

Handicapped people do not need or want pity — just a chance to become self-supporting. He said that rehabilitation centers are having marvelous success and that readjusted "graduates" make better workers. He urged the local Lions to help find employment for any handicapped people they know.

Five personal guests swelled the meeting attendance to 66. John Latta reported on progress of the work in connection with the Lions Junior Olympics. A large number of entries is expected, and a plea was made for 25 Lions to be on duty all day next Wednesday when the parade takes place and the finals are run.

Race track July was a busy month for Arlington police

During the month of July the Arlington Heights police department has tried 105 village ordinance and motor vehicle violators, with 104 being found guilty for a sum of $795 in fines. Ninety parking violators have paid a total of $90 in parking fines for a total of $885 received in fines.

There have been 58 arrests for speeding and 30 arrests for other vehicle violations.

Accidents during the month of July have numbered 20, five with personal injuries to nine people, and one resulting in the death of one man.

There have been four cases of petty larceny of auto accessories reported to the police department.

A check for $1,368 has been received by the village from the Arlington Park race track for police service during the recent meeting. It is rumored that the money will be used for new police uniforms.

Palatine police given approval to acceptance of part time jobs

The regular pay of the Palatine police officers does not meet inflation prices. Palatine Transportation System needs drivers for the school buses.

Lt. Frank Meyer announced Wednesday that he had given his consent to a rearrangement of working hours for the police officers that will enable three of them to drive the buses four hours each day.

The new schedule requires Meyer to be on the job at 7:00 a. m., but he is glad to help out the boys.

The Transportation Co. thinks that with policemen as drivers the children will have greater respect for their orders regarding safety procedure. The village takes the stand that the officers in daily contact with the teenagers will boost law and order generally.

Of course, if taxpayers do not like the arrangement, they can raise the salaries of the officers.

The officers who will exchange their stars for chauffeur badges twice daily are Joseph Jost, Raymond Betz and Clifford Brail.

A number of friends in Northwest Cook County of Noble J. Puffer were present Monday when he was sworn in as county superintendent of schools by County Clerk Richard Daley.

It was his fourth term in that office. Addresses were made by Judge John Lewe of the Appellate court; Frank Annunzio, state labor director and Dr. William C. Reavis of the University of Chicago.

Puffer was county superintendent of schools from 1935 to 1947 when he was unseated by the Republican candidate, Edward B. Simon. From 1949 until recently Puffer was director of the state department of education and registration.

Summer band performs as part of 4-H fair Friday

The Arlington Heights Community band will present its final concert of the season Friday evening as a part of the 4-H fair at Arlington Park Race track at 8:30 p. m.

F. C. Schmoyer will conduct the band in a number of selections, and several soloists will appear. Miss Carol Faulstich of Mt. Prospect will sing two soprano solos, "You Are Free" and "Deep in My Heart." Miss Carol Hedemark and Griffith Pritchard of Prospect Heights will pantomime "Ain't Nobody's Business" and "Anything You Can Do."

Band selections include, "Men of the Ohio," highlights from "Kiss Me Kate," "Helena Polka," "The Footlifter," "My Wild Irish Rose," "I Want a Girl Just Like the Girl," "Copa Cobana, "The Love Nest," "Prairier Jump," "Joshua," and "The Thunderer."

New students must register

Students new to the Arlington Heights township high school district, or those who did not register last spring, should make every effort to register immediately. The high school office is open from 8:30 to 12 noon and from 1 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. daily, except Saturday and Sunday.

Teachers will begin their annual workshop August 27, therefore the deans will not be available for registering, except for a limited time, the week prior to the opening of school, September 4.

Freshmna students who registered at their elementary schools last spring for high school will not be affected by this announcement as their registrations are complete. They need only to report for school Tuesday, September 4, at 8:10 a. m.

Bus schedules are operating, beginning September 4. The schedule of the busses appears elsewhere in this paper.

Buy PSCo. junk for $3, but give it back; worth $200

Two Chicago men, who entered the junk dealing business four short weeks ago, came up with their biggest catch last week, but Des Plaines police made them throw it back.

The prize, a large Public Serfice gas valve and pipe, was valued at more than $200.

Junk dealers Marshall Gillmore, 43, and Sam Stringer, 45, paid $3.

The seller, still unidentified, made the deal even though his asking price — a bit high — was $4.

HERE'S HOW the two enterprisers related the story to Judge A. L. Sengstock in police court Monday.

While driving along River rd. near Golf Sunday, Marshall's gaze fell on the biggest piece of "junk" he'd seen all day. A U-turn was in order.

Edging up to a man standing near the prize, Marshall opened the deal with a "What will you take for that?" Four dollars was the reply.

AFTER A HURRIED consultation, Sam said "We'll give you $3."

"Sold," came the answer, and the big hunk of "junk" was theirs.

Sgt. Strempel interrupted their homeward trek four blocks later.

When Judge Sengstock asked to see Sam's driver's license he hastened to explain that on that count he had not been negligent. "I knowed it wasn't good to drive a truck with no license at all, so I borrowed one from a friend," he said proudly.

Sam's second-hand license still failed to deliver him and his partner from a $10 fine.

Silicones Are Up-Coming

The use of silicone-base finishes has greatly increased during the last year. Since first marketed about five years ago, silicone finishes have been discovered to have extreme heat and weather-resistance. They are especially suited to space heaters, furnaces, steam generators, mufflers and processing equipment. They make extremely weather resistent enamels for advertising and highway signs, street signs, metal awnings and siding.

It was a big week end for the boys of Don Foster's Palatine Theatre team last week when the gang gathered at the Fox Lake home of their sponsor for a week end outing.

The players brought along their wives to help enjoy the fun and they all did.

Golf every day over the McHenry and Fox Lake courses was one of the major attractions. and the boys showed they could handle a golf club as well as a ball bat.

Scores of 85 and 87 were common with about everyone in the bunch shooting under 90.

IN THE EVENING the crowd gathered around an open fire in the fireplace, played cards, listened to the radio and just visited.

In the pinochle league the ladies showed that they could more than hold their own even if they couldn't on the ball field.

The outdoor air and the exercise developed healthy appetites, and great quantities of pot roast, ham and other eatables disappeared as if by magic.

MRS. FOSTER'S homemade cookies made a particular hit with the crowd and the big batch that Mrs. Foster spent a whole day in baking vanished like the morning mist before the sun.

Arlington Legion could cop 2nd half title with Park Ridge victory

Tommy Meyer came to within one out of pitching a no-hit game last Wednesday as the Arlington Legion team defeated Franklin Park, 3-1, to stay undefeated in the second round. With two out in the last half of the seventh, Vetencik hit a line drive over short, the only hit off Meyer's twirlings.

Tommy struck out five men, and allowed three base on balls. He received fine support from his teammates.

ARLINGTON did all its scoring in the second inning as Hans Schmidt led off with a walk and stole second. Eakins drove him in with a single through the box. Gorder was hit with a pitched ball, putting men on first and second.

Verret, rapidly improving young catcher, came through with another single, scoring Eakins and advancing Gorder to third. Meyer struck out, but Hesch was safe on an error, allowing Gorder to score the final run. Thomas ended the inning by grounding out.

Franklin Park scored its run in the sixth inning when Winard walked and advanced on a passed ball. He came in to score on two successive ground outs to Hesch and Meyer.

THIS WEEK Poole's Fords will be hustling extra hard as they play Park Ridge in the second round final at Park Ridge. If Arlington wins, they will cop the second round and meet the winner of the 7th district next Tuesday at Arlington. The Arlington team has been playing good hustling ball of late, but will be up against a very peppery and lively team in Park Ridge. Game time is 4:45 p. m.

The Illinois softball league season is slated to wind up this week with several important battles slated including the Libertyville and Barrington appearances at Oak Park Friday and Saturday. The results of these games are likely to be an important factor on who shall rule the league as the 1951 champion.

One of the season's stellar pitching performances was turned in late Saturday when Barrington's Jack Tracey hurled a no-hit game against Des Plaines as Barrington won, 12-0. Tracey faced only 27 batters with no one reaching base. Besides fanning 20, Tracey failed to walk a batter and was supported by errorless ball.

IN OTHER league results, Libertyville nipped Northbrook, 7-6. It was the first time this season that any team scored over three runs off Libertyville and pitcher Boyes, and only the third time that any club went over the two run mark.

Northbrook and Oak Park split even in a pair of games at Oak Park, the latter winning 4-2, and dropping the nightcap, 9-6. Barrington took a pair of games from Palatine, 3-2, and 2-0. However, Palatine actually scored a 1-0 victory over Barrington and pitcher Max Legate, but lost the decision on a forfeit because of using only eight players on their roster.

NORTHBROOK'S Mussen and Libertyville's Luce are tied for the batting lead with a .370 average. In the pitching department, Libertyville's Boyes has a 12-3 mark to Barrington's Tracey's, 11-3. Mkelush of Oak Park has 8-5 and Loutch of Northbrook, 7-5.

Redwings beat Cicero, 6-3

Arlington Heights Redwings copped another ball game Sunday at Recreation park when they smashed the visitors with a big five run inning in the third for a margin never surpassed.

Outside of that one frame the game was close all the way, the locals gaining an edge in hits, 9-6. Lange, Nelson and Stretton rapped out two apiece, all singles.

The Redwings still have a chance for league honors by winning their remaining games. This Sunday, August 12, they play host to Elmhurst.

FIRST BLOOD was drawn in the second inning after Scheiwe had grounded out to the pitcher. Lange was safe on a single, but O'Shaunessy flied out to center fielder Salach. Nelson's single brought in the score.

Eight men batted in the third frame. Stretton and Meath both hit safely, and Groh was safe on an error. Simson's single was followed by Scheiwe's sacrifice and Lange's single. O'Shaunessy and Nelson were infield outs to end the threat.

MICKEY'S HOMER in the fifth was the only score for Cicero until the eighth when Patzelt's single was followed by a round-tripper by Salach.

Stretton struck out 7 and walked 2 for the locals. Alis. Cicero twirler, fanned two and walked one.

Schiller Carpet leads by 1½ in Arlington golf

"Schiller Carpet" and "Lingren's Men's Wear" are battleing for top honors in the Arlington Heights golf league. Play ending August 10 will decide which team will play in the Paddock tourney. "Arlington Bowling Lanes" and "Lohr's Pharmacy" were in contention last week, but failed to gain on the leaders. "Jahn's Service Station" led the league the first few weeks, but has been losing ground, and has dropped to 5th place.

Low net was scored by Ackerman with a 35, which gives him a 2 point lead. John Eiler is second with a 2½ point margin.

Team standings:

Schiller Carpet	81
Lingrens Men's Wear	79½
Lauterburg & Oehler	75½
Lohr's Pharmacy	75
Jahn's Service Station	74½
Arlington Bowling Lane's	74
Dunteman's Dairy	72½

Des Plaines' final landmark now gone

The smoke stack of the old pumping station on Des Plaines avenue, came down to earth with a crash last week.

With the smokestacks' demolition, disappeared the last of an old Des Plaines landmark.

William Wolf, Sr., and William Wolf, Jr., together with Walter Lumpp of Morris, were in charge of wrecking the pumping station, and the safe removal of the 70 ft. stack.

Steel Structure

SATURDAY DEADLINE TO TELL PADDOCK GOLF MEET ENTRIES

First entries for Paddock golf tourney

First entries in Paddock Publications second annual interleague golf tournament, slated for August 19 at Mt. Prospect country club, were named this week with the announcement that the Geils Chow Hounds will represent the Bensenville VFW league.

They went into a tie for first place a week ago, then copped the tournament position by three points over the Yard Birds Monday night of this week.

Included in the Bensenville aggregation are: Captain Bob Geils, Gene Gutnik, Lowell Capoot and Harold Keeling. Gutnik is a repeater in this year's tournament, placing on the third place squad last year with an 83-12:71.

THE ST. JAMES league was also decided insofar as the Paddock tournament a week from Sunday is concerned when Prospect Heights Pharmacy stretched its lead to 10½ points. Only 9 points are at stake in any one evening's play.

Mt. Prospect Wednesday night's division also finds a near-winner. Hook's Nursery, prior to press time, held an 8 point lead over Illinois Range and Dooley Realtors.

Schiller Carpet holds a short 1½ point lead over Lingren's Men's Wear in the Arlington Heights league. Friday night's play will determine the league representative.

AT ROB ROY Prospect Hts. Appliance cinched a Paddock berth, being 12 points ahead of Whitton Real Estate.

Hugh's Auto Body holds the edge in Roselle golf league play by 3½ points over Roselle Motor. Roselle Bakery and Village Inn are just one additional point back.

LEAGUE SECRETARIES are reminded to contact Bob Paddock at the publication office no later than this Saturday morning with names of individual members of first place teams in their respective leagues, with handicaps.

One winner back

Only one winner of last year's Paddock Publications golf tournament has a chance to repeat in this year's meet. He is Tony Felker, who is on the league leading Schiller Carpet team of the Arlington Heights golf league.

Others on last year's championship aggregation include Carl Engel of Bowling Lanes, Dick Dieball of Tody's Lounge and Bill Shassberger, who moved out of town.

Saturday is the deadline which will determine which team from each of seven leagues will play in the Paddock Publications golf tournament.

The appointed secretary of each league will list with Paddock's by Saturday, August 11, the players of each team which tops the standings in their respective circuits. Handicaps for each player based on league play will be figured and published in next week's paper. No one may compete in the tournament who has not posted six league scores.

The tournament is set for 1:00 on Sunday, August 19, at the Mt. Prospect golf club home course for three of the seven leagues to be represented. Each team will be limited to four players who will play 18 holes on a team handicap basis with net team scores counting in awarding the trophy and medals. Members of the teams finishing first, second, and third will receive beautiful medals. The winning team will have a one year ownership of a three foot high traveling trophy which must be won three times for permanent possession.

THE TOURNAMENT will be played on a winter rules basis with players permitted to move the ball with the club head for a better lie on the fairway. Otherwise U. S. G. A. rules will apply only with a few modifications in effect at the Mt. Prospect club.

Players will be matched up in foursomes with no two men from the same team in the same foursome and with players matched with comparable handicaps to make competition more interesting. The Mt. Prospect league will furnish seven capable scorers with one assigned to each foursome.

Leagues which will enter their top team in the tournament are Arlington, two Mt. Prospect leagues, Rob Roy, St. James of Arlington Heights, Bensenville, and Roselle.

The trophy is being displayed at Krause and Kehe's in Arlington Heights this week.

Dick Bokelman stops Giants three times as he reports to Cards

Arlington Heights baseball fans have a personal interest in the St. Louis Cardinals the rest of this year, as of Friday of last week. Dick Bokelman has made the grade and is pitching for the National league team, stopping the Giants cold on three occasions this past week end.

Dick, in the St. Louis farm system several years, was called up Tuesday from Houston and appeared in the Redbird city Friday. He immediately went to work that night in a relief performance, retiring five Giants in order.

HE PITCHED one relief inning Saturday night before being replaced by a pinch batter. Sunday, however, Dick came into his biggest test when he was called in again to stop the Giants with four runs in, the bags loaded, and none out.

Arlington's star pitcher retired the Giants in order for a record of no hits allowed in three and two-thirds innings in three games. Dick is expected to gain considerable experience as a relief pitcher the rest of the season with, if all goes well, a good chance to become a regular starter next year.

BACK IN 1944 Dick Bokelman was teaming with Jim Robinson to give Arlington Heights high school a successful 8-1 record. Dick was elected co-captain of the team with George Gaare.

He went on to Northwestern under the Navy V-12 program, graduating in '47 as an ensign in the reserve. Dick was signed by the St. Louis Cardinals that year, reporting to Rochester, N. Y. He was immediately shipped to Fresno, going to Allentown, Pa., the following season, where he won 15 games.

IN THE SPRING of 1949 Dick reported to Rochester again, then went to Omaha. The following year he again reported to Rochester, but was sent to Omaha, where this year he rang up a 10-2 record, including one loss in a relief performance. His earned run average was a short .75, less than one, at Houston when he was called by the Cardinals.

Bokelman is 24, going on 25, and has a bright future ahead of him. At any rate, for the rest of this season there will certainly be just as many Arlington Heights fans watching the Redbird box score on page 4 of the local Trib as are watching the progress of Philibuck's Chicago Cubs.

Dick's wife and son travel with him.

Pharmacy rates playoff berth for tournament

Prospect Heights Pharmacy officially became the St. James Golf League entry in the Paddock Publications tournament as they defeated Wulbecker Furniture Service 7 to 2. Harvey Schaefer, the league's foremost golfer, shot a 36 to win team low net and low gross points. Bob Bruhnke and Paul Wulbecker starred for the losers.

Last place team 7 pulled the upset of the season as they rocked Urick Landscape 8½ to ½. George Glow and Lou Neuendorf paced the winning team to their sensational one-sided victory.

Murphy Insurance and Stefanik Dairy and Food had a terrific battle and when the smoke cleared, the result was a 4½ to 4½ tie. Paul Kindler won low net for Stefaniks while John Foerster led the way for Murphy's

In a closely contested battle the Erickson Flashes edged L-Nor Cleaners 5 to 4. Jim Howard of the Flashes played his best game of the season by burning up the first nine with a 31 net, the best of the night. Sponsor Virgil Rolfs of L-Nor was really on the ball with a 41-8-33 to pace the losers.

High schools to start grid practice Aug. 27

by G. A. McELROY

It is only a little over two weeks until high school boys will start football practice for the 1951 season. According to the state rules no football workouts can start before Monday, August 27, but the matter of checking out uniforms and giving the athletes physical examinations will be taken care of on the Friday and Saturday prior to the first practice.

At Palatine high school athletic director J. E. Stutzman and head coach Dick Welty will issue uniforms Friday and Saturday, August 24 and 25, and physicals will be given by Dr. Carl Starck, Jr., on those same two days between 9:00 and 4:00 p. m. Practice will open Monday, August 27, at 3:00 p. m. with daily workouts, except Sundays, lasting three hours each. Coach Welty and assistants "Gene" Moylan and Claude Bailey will handle all candidates on one squad until every boy has had a chance to prove himself.

STATE RULES provide that no boy may play in a game until he has had three weeks of practice of at least five two hour sessions a week. This means that all boys who want to be considered for the opening games with Warren September 14, must be on hand from the start and practice every day. The coaches want all freshmen as well as upperclass men to report for the early practices. At Palatine most of the practices will be held before school gets under way as the first day of classes will be Monday, September 10.

Boys who are going out for football will find their chances increased and the progress of the team be aided if each individual starts now to get in condition by running and doing calisthenics daily. There is a state rule against any group workouts before August 27 but there is no objection against individuals getting themselves in shape to play prior to the opening practice.

PALATINE OPENS at Warren in a non-conference game Friday, September 14. and is at home the following Saturday night, September 21, for the opening conference doubleheader with Wauconda. Coach Welty has the most returning lettermen of any school in the league and expects the Pirates to be serious contenders this year if they train and really work.

Last year four football games at home brought in more receipts than nine basketball games, proving that football interest is growing.

Michael's IGA wins over Pharmacy in Rob Roy golf

With first place almost cinched in the Rob Roy twilight golf league, the real battle centers on the trophy winning second and third places. Michaels IGA kept in the thick of the fight by trouncing Prospect Heights Pharmacy Tuesday night. Dunteman Dairy, L-Nor Cleaners, and Kirchhoff Insurance also scored big wins.

Carl Berlin and Len Arnold were the par breakers on the back nine with 35 gross, while Tommy Rowader toured the front nine with a handsome 34. Bengel, Orwiler, Ackerman, Lohr, and Rybicki tied for low net honors for the night with a score of 32.

The competition for the Whitton Trophy gets keener in the closing nights with Arnold, Otto Anderson, Berlin, and Stan Fill just a fraction of a stroke apart.

Palatine Theater slams Mt. Prospect

Still smarting under the lashing they received at the hands of El Rando last week the Palatine Theatre team came back Tuesday evening and vented their spleen on Skokie, slaughtering the team from the east, 16 to 2.

Skokie's pitcher was ineffective and the boys faltered behind him, while the Theatre boys blasted the ball all over the lot for a total of 13 hits.

Skokie made nine hits, but they were so widely scattered that they didn't do any damage.

Don Foster, sponsor of the show boys, played right field for two innings and distinguished himself by throwing and making an infield out on which one of his boys scored.

IN THE NIGHTCAP Palatine Motors breezed to a comfortable victory over Mt. Prospect 5 to 2.

The game was a close pitchers' duel between Heiden of the Motors and Heimsoth of Mt. Prospect, the Motors making four hits and Mt. Prospect 2.

Malay, center fielder for the Motors, got one hit and walked three times scoring three of his team's five runs.

Tonight, Thursday, El Rando meets Palatine Motors and Riviera and Mt. Prospect bring down the curtain on the current season.

Parkway bowling loop has a few openings

Palatine Parkway league will initiate the bowling season at Meier-Helms recreation Tuesday night, September 4, when the first ball is rolled at 7 p. m. As usual, this league will be the first to roll at Palatine.

With the army grabbing its top average bowler, the league is looking for a 170-average replacement, plus a few others. Anyone interested is urged to contact secretary Bob Paddock at Arlington Heights 1520 days, or 2812-J evenings.

It was a big week end for the boys of Don Foster's Palatine Theatre team last week when the gang gathered at the Fox Lake home of their sponsor for a week end outing.

The players brought along their wives to help enjoy the fun and they all did.

Golf every day over the McHenry and Fox Lake courses was one of the major attractions, and the boys showed they could handle a golf club as well as a ball bat.

Scores of 85 and 87 were common with about everyone in the bunch shooting under 90.

IN THE EVENING the crowd gathered around an open fire in the fireplace, played cards, listened to the radio and just visited.

In the pinochle league the ladies showed that they could more than hold their own even if they couldn't on the ball field.

The outdoor air and the exercise developed healthy appetites, and great quantities of pot roast, ham and other eatables disappeared as if by magic.

MRS. FOSTER'S homemade cookies made a particular hit with the crowd and the big batch that Mrs. Foster spent a whole day in baking vanished like the morning mist before the sun.

SATURDAY DEADLINE TO TELL PADDOCK GOLF MEET ENTRIES

Saturday is the deadline which will determine which team from each of seven leagues will play in the Paddock Publications golf tournament.

The appointed secretary of each league will list with Paddock's by Saturday, August 11, the players of each team which tops the standings in their respective circuits. Handicaps for each player based on league play will be figured and published in next week's paper. No one may compete in the tournament who has not posted six league scores.

The trophy is being displayed at Krause and Kehe's in Arlington Heights this week.

First entries for Paddock golf tourney

First entries in Paddock Publications second annual interleague golf tournament, slated for August 19 at Mt. Prospect country club, were named this week with the announcement that the Geils Chow Hounds will represent the Bensenville VFW league.

They went into a tie for first place a week ago, then copped the tournament position by three points over the Yard Birds Monday night of this week.

Included in the Bensenville aggregation are: Captain Bob Geils, Gene Gutnik, Lowell Capoot and Harold Keeling. Gutnik is a repeater in this year's tournament, placing on the third place squad last year with an 83-12:71.

THE ST. JAMES league was also decided insofar as the Paddock tournament a week from Sunday is concerned when Prospect Heights Pharmacy stretched its lead to 10½ points. Only 9 points are at stake in any one evening's play.

Mt. Prospect Wednesday night's division also finds a near-winner. Hook's Nursery, prior to press time, held an 8 point lead over Illinois Range and Dooley Realtors.

Schiller Carpet holds a short 1½ point lead over Lingren's Men's Wear in the Arlington Heights league. Friday night's play will determine the league representative.

AT ROB ROY Prospect Hts. Appliance cinched a Paddock berth, being 12 points ahead of Whitton Real Estate.

Hugh's Auto Body holds the edge in Roselle golf league play by 3½ points over Roselle Motor. Roselle Bakery and Village Inn are just one additional point back.

LEAGUE SECRETARIES are reminded to contact Bob Paddock at the publication office no later than this Saturday morning with names of individual members of first place teams in their respective leagues, with handicaps.

Arlington Legion could cop 2nd half title with Park Ridge victory

Tommy Meyer came to within one out of pitching a no-hit game last Wednesday as the Arlington Legion team defeated Franklin Park, 3-1, to stay undefeated in the second round. With two out in the last half of the seventh, Vetencik hit a line drive over short, the only hit off Meyer's twirlings.

Tommy struck out five men, and allowed three base on balls. He received fine support from his teammates.

ARLINGTON did all its scoring in the second inning as Hans Schmidt led off with a walk and stole second. Eakins drove him in with a single through the box. Gorder was hit with a pitched ball, putting men on first and second.

Verret, rapidly improving young catcher, came through with another single, scoring Eakins and advancing Gorder to third. Meyer struck out, but Hesch was safe on an error, allowing Gorder to score the final run. Thomas ended the inning by grounding out.

Franklin Park scored its run in the sixth inning when Winard walked and advanced on a passed ball. He came in to score on two successive ground outs to Hesch and Meyer.

THIS WEEK Poole's Fords will be hustling extra hard as they play Park Ridge in the second round final at Park Ridge. If Arlington wins, they will cop the second round and meet the winner of the 7th district next Tuesday at Arlington. The Arlington team has been playing good hustling ball of late, but will be up against a very peppery and lively team in Park Ridge. Game time is 4:45 p. m.

Redwings beat Cicero, 6-3

Arlington Heights Redwings copped another ball game Sunday at Recreation park when they smashed the visitors with a big five run inning in the third for a margin never surpassed.

Outside of that one frame the game was close all the way, the locals gaining an edge in hits, 9-6. Lange, Nelson and Stretton rapped out two apiece, all singles.

The Redwings still have a chance for league honors by winning their remaining games. This Sunday, August 12, they play host to Elmhurst.

FIRST BLOOD was drawn in the second inning after Scheiwe had grounded out to the pitcher. Lange was safe on a single, but O'Shaunessy flied out to center fielder Salach. Nelson's single brought in the score.

Eight men batted in the third frame. Stretton and Meath both hit safely, and Groh was safe on an error. Simson's single was followed by Scheiwe's sacrifice and Lange's single. O'Shaunessy and Nelson were infield outs to end the threat.

MICKEY'S HOMER in the fifth was the only score for Cicero until the eighth when Patzelt's single was followed by a round-tripper by Salach.

Stretton struck out 7 and walked 2 for the locals. Alis, Cicero twirler, fanned two and walked one.

The Illinois softball league season is slated to wind up this week with several important battles slated including the Libertyville and Barrington appearances at Oak Park Friday and Saturday. The results of these games are likely to be an important factor on who shall rule the league as the 1951 champion.

One of the season's stellar pitching performances was turned in late Saturday when Barrington's Jack Tracey hurled a no-hit game against Des Plaines as Barrington won, 12-0. Tracey faced only 27 batters with no one reaching base. Besides fanning 20, Tracey failed to walk a batter and was supported by errorless ball.

IN OTHER league results, Libertyville nipped Northbrook, 7-6. It was the first time this season that any team scored over three runs off Libertyville and pitcher Boyes, and only the third time that any club went over the two run mark.

Northbrook and Oak Park split even in a pair of games at Oak Park, the latter winning 4-2, and dropping the nightcap, 9-6. Barrington took a pair of games from Palatine, 3-2, and 2-0. However, Palatine actually scored a 1-0 victory over Barrington and pitcher Max Legate, but lost the decision on a forfeit because of using only eight players on their roster.

NORTHBROOK'S Mussen and Libertyville's Luce are tied for the batting lead with a .370 average. In the pitching department, Libertyville's Boyes has a 12-3 mark to Barrington's Tracey's, 11-3. Mkelush of Oak Park has 8-5 and Loutch of Northbrook, 7-5.

Steel consists mainly of iron, alloyed with a small amount of carbon which makes it tough and elastic.

Schiller Carpet leads by 1½ in Arlington golf

"Schiller Carpet" and "Lingren's Men's Wear" are battleing for top honors in the Arlington Heights golf league. Play ending August 10 will decide which team will play in the Paddock tourney. "Arlington Bowling Lanes" and "Lohr's Pharmacy" were in contention last week, but failed to gain on the leaders. "Jahn's Service Station" led the league the first few weeks, but has been losing ground, and has dropped to 5th place.

Low net was scored by Ackerman with a 35, which gives him a 2 point lead. John Eiler is second with a 2½ point margin.

Low gross was won by Lorraine Wells on the first nine and Stella Smith on the second.

Summer's gone

by G. A. McELROY

It is only a little over two weeks until high school boys will start football practice for the 1951 season. According to the state rules no football workouts can start before Monday, August 27, but the matter of checking out uniforms and giving the athletes physical examinations will be taken care of on the Friday and Saturday prior to the first practice.

At Palatine high school athletic director J. E. Stutzman and head coach Dick Welty will issue uniforms Friday and Saturday, August 24 and 25, and physicals will be given by Dr. Carl Starck, Jr., on those same two days between 9:00 and 4:00 p. m. Practice will open Monday, August 27, at 3:00 p. m. with daily workouts, except Sundays, lasting three hours each. Coach Welty and assistants "Gene" Moylan and Claude Bailey will handle all candidates on one squad until every boy has had a chance to prove himself.

STATE RULES provide that no boy may play in a game until he has had three weeks of practice of at least five two hour sessions a week. This means that all boys who want to be considered for the opening games with Warren September 14, must be on hand from the start and practice every day. The coaches want all freshmen as well as upperclass men to report for the early practices. At Palatine most of the practices will be held before school gets under way as the first day of classes will be Monday, September 10.

Boys who are going out for football will find their chances increased and the progress of the team be aided if each individual starts now to get in condition by running and doing calisthenics daily. There is a state rule against any group workouts before August 27 but there is no objection against individuals getting themselves in shape to play prior to the opening practice.

PALATINE OPENS at Warren in a non-conference game Friday, September 14 and is at home the following Saturday night, September 21, for the opening conference doubleheader with Wauconda. Coach Welty has the most returning lettermen of any school in the league and expects the Pirates to be serious contenders this year if they train and really work.

Last year four football games at home brought in more receipts than nine basketball games, proving that football interest is growing.

Michael's IGA wins over Pharmacy in Rob Roy golf

With first place almost cinched in the Rob Roy twilight golf league, the real battle centers on the trophy winning second and third places. Michaels IGA kept in the thick of the fight by trouncing Prospect Heights Pharmacy Tuesday night. Dunteman Dairy, L-Nor Cleaners, and Kirchhoff Insurance also scored big wins.

Carl Berlin and Len Arnold were the par breakers on the back nine with 35 gross, while Tommy Rowader toured the front nine with a handsome 34. Bengel, Orwiler, Ackerman, Lohr, and Rybicki tied for low net honors for the night with a score of 32.

The competition for the Whitton Trophy gets keener in the closing nights with Arnold, Otto Anderson, Berlin, and Stan Fill just a fraction of a stroke apart.

Palatine Theater slams Mt. Prospect

Still smarting under the lashing they received at the hands of El Rando last week the Palatine Theatre team came back Tuesday evening and vented their spleen on Skokie, slaughtering the team from the east, 16 to 2.

Skokie's pitcher was ineffective and the boys faltered behind him, while the Theatre boys blasted the ball all over the lot for a total of 13 hits.

Skokie made nine hits, but they were so widely scattered that they didn't do any damage.

Don Foster, sponsor of the show boys, played right field for two innings and distinguished himself by throwing and making an infield out on which one of his boys scored.

IN THE NIGHTCAP Palatine Motors breezed to a comfortable victory over Mt. Prospect 5 to 2.

The game was a close pitchers' duel between Heiden of the Motors and Heimsoth of Mt. Prospect, the Motors making four hits and Mt. Prospect 2.

Malay, center fielder for the Motors, got one hit and walked three times scoring three of his team's five runs.

Tonight, Thursday, El Rando meets Palatine Motors and Riviera and Mt. Prospect bring down the curtain on the current season.

Parkway bowling loop has a few openings

Palatine Parkway league will initiate the bowling season at Meier-Helms recreation Tuesday night, September 4, when the first ball is rolled at 7 p. m. As usual, this league will be the first to roll at Palatine.

With the army grabbing its top average bowler, the league is looking for a 170-average replacement, plus a few others. Anyone interested is urged to contact secretary Bob Paddock at Arlington Heights 1520 days, or 2812-J evenings.

Bears move Hoffman to an end position

In one of the most important player shifts of record years, the Chicago Bears moved John Hoffman, a ranking National Football League star, from fullback to end.

This marks the second big player shift by the Bears since they arrived at the St. Joseph's college training camp a week ago. Previously, head coach George Halas announced that George Gulyanics would operate from fullback this season, instead of from his customary left halfback post.

Hoffman, one of the finest all around players in pro football, has been the club's No. 1 fullback since 1949. He is rated among the most valuable men in the league. A young giant, standing 6 feet, 2 inches, and weighing 218 pounds, Hoffman is a great pass receiver, standout blocker, excellent runner, and a top defensive back.

Hoffman has starred as a pass receiver even from the fullback position. He caught more aerials than any man on the field in the second Bear-Cardinal game of 1949, when Halas U. chalked up a 52 to 21 decision. However, he is certain to be the target of many more passes from Johnny Lujack and Bob Williams at end.

Household Hint—Eighth Century

The Lucca manuscript of the Eighth Century contains many recipes for making glue varnishes and pigments. One of the varnishes described was composed of amber, mastic, turpentine, resin, galbanum, myrrh, gums, linseed oil and "florae puppli." Those who painted on wood, mixed colors with wax; those who painted on skins, used fish glue.

COACH RAY ELIOT OF THE FIGHTING ILLINI and Capt. Chuck Studley, senior guard from Pontiac, look forward to opening of the 195 University of Illinois football season in Memorial Stadium Sept. 2 U. C. L. A. from the West Coast will be opening-day opponent at 1:3 p.m. (CDT). Other home games, all at 1:30 p.m. (CST) are Oct. 6 Wisconsin, Nov. 3 Michigan (Dad's Day), and Nov. 10 Iowa (Homecoming)

Plenty of auto racing at Wisc. fair Aug. 19-26

All or most of the 35 model cars marketed by 20 American automobile manufacturers annually, are expected to get into the act in the 100-mile AAA national championship stock car races at Wisconsin State Fair park, Thursday, Aug. 23 and Friday, Aug. 24. The two stock car events are only part of the speed competition scheduled for the one-mile track during State Fair week, Aug. 18-26. Only 1950-51-52 models are eligible.

In the Thursday race the Class 1 machines, those of 116 to 180 horsepower will be able to run. These include Chrysler Imperial and New Yorker; Cadillac; Packards 200, 300, and 400; Lincoln De Luxe and Standard; Buicks Roadmaster, Super, and Special; Hudson 6 and 8 cyl. and Hornet; Oldsmobile 88 and 98; Nash Ambassador (with or without the jet head); Studebaker V8; DeSoto, and Pontiac 8.

CLASS 2 CARS in the 68-115 horsepower range will be the starters in Friday's race. These include Chevrolet; Dodge; Frazer; Fords 6 and V8; Henry J (4 and 6 cyl.); Hudson Standard 6; Mercury; Nash Rambler Hardtop and Statesman; Plymouth; Pontiac 6 and Studebaker Champion. Each race will start 30 cars.

Two other big gasoline speed events will also be presented. Sunday, Aug. 19, will be a 100-mile AAA national championship midget auto race, and Sunday, Aug. 26, will be the 200-mile AAA big car title race. Both events, the richest paying for their kind in the nation, are expected to draw the best triple-A drivers in the nation. Time trials begin for all shows at 12:30 p. m.; the races at 2:30 p. m.

Besides the auto racing there will be three days of Midwest Circuit Harness racing (Monday-Tuesday-Wednesday) with a single day of motorcycle racing, Saturday, Aug. 25. Time trials for the motorcycle race begin at 12 noon, and the race at 2:30 p. m. (C. S. T.)

Bloomer Girls host to Maids in two games

At Parichy's:

Thursday, Aug. 9, Music Maids vs. Bloomer Girls (2) 8 p. m.

Saturday, Aug. 11, Bluebirds vs. Bloomer Girls, 8:30 p. m.

Sunday, Aug. 12, Rockola vs. Bloomer Girls, 8:30 p. m.

Wednesday, Aug. 15, Bluebirds vs. Bloomer Girls, 8:30 p. m.

The Bloomer Girls battle the Music Maids in a twin bill Thursday night at Parichy's Stadium with the encounter getting under way at 8 p. m.

These two clubs have see-sawed back and forth between second and third place during the past three weeks and at the present time only one game separates the two, the Maids having recently moved back into the runner up spot.

Manager Woody English will probably send his two hurling aces against the Des Plaines club. Wilda Mae Turner (20-8) and Gen. Nieukirk (16-2) both have excellent records.

The National Girls Baseball League will present its first all star game Sunday, August 19, at 2 p. m. Parichy Memorial Stadium.

The Tony Piet Queens 1950 League champions will meet the All Stars of the League, to be selected by vote of the fans.

Gulyanics shifted to fullback for Bears

The Chicago Bears announced the first outstanding player shift of the football training season. George Gulyanics, one of the top halfbacks in the National Football League, and the Bears' leading ground gainer for the past four seasons, has been moved to fullback.

In announcing the shift, head coach George Halas disclosed that the Bear coaching staff decided months ago to play Gulyanics at fullback this fall. He said:

"Although George has been a fine ball player for us at left half, we feel that he will be even more valuabe at the important fullback position. It is the spot, too, where Gulyanics feels he will be able to do his very best for the Bears."

Halas also disclosed that the Gulyanics-to-fullback shift went into effect the first day the Bears arrived at their St. Joseph's College training camp. Incidentally, "Little Bronko," as he is called by Bear followers, appears to be running with more power than ever at his new post.

Gulyanics, a Mishawaka, Ind., product, topped the Bear ball carriers last fall with a total of 571 yeards. He also was No. 1 on the team in 1949-48 and 47. Gulyanics has a four year total of 1,674 yards with the Bears. Operating from fullback, the stocky veteran promises to have his greatest season since joining the club.

Close To North Pole

Towns of northernmost Mississippi, Alabama, and Georgia are closer to the North Pole than Africa's southernmost tip is to the South Pole.

El Rando swamps Palatine Theater

The El Rando team made a runaway of their game with Palatine Theatre Thursday night when they breezed to a lopsided 11 to 1 victory at Palatine Community park.

Neagle was on the mound for the show house, and the El Rando boys found his style just what they had been looking for, banging the ball all over the place to win as they pleased.

Glaring errors by the Theatre also helped the El Rando boys along and they rung up about the most lopsided score of the season.

ALL IN ALL it was a disappointing evening for the fans as Palatine Motors forfeited to Skokie because of their inability to put a team on the field.

Skokie had not been notified of the Motors inability to play and were on hand for the game.

When the Motors failed to show up, a scrub game was organiezd to give the Skokie boys a chance for a workout.

The season is in its last stages, and it is expected a five team tournament will wind it up following the close of the regular season.

THE MOTORS have declared themselves out of the tournament, so Skokie, Mt. Prospect, El Rando, Riviera and Palatine Theatre will probably play an elimination round for the tournament championship.

With those five evenly matched teams hooking up in a tournament, the fans should see some hot games for the conclusion of the season, which has brought together the fastest teams in the history of the local park.

Suitable trophies will be awarded to the first and second place teams in the tournament.

Never Out Of Style

Ever since the days of the Pharaohs, painted furniture has been popular. Beautiful painted pieces from that long-gone period have been found. For hundreds of years, French, English, Dutch and Chinese masters and cabinetmakers contributed their skill to this ancient art. Because of its combination of beauty and practicality painted furniture will undoubtedly continue in popular favor.

Saturday, Aug. 11, Bluebirds vs. Bloomer Girls, 8:30 p. m.

Sunday, Aug. 12, Rockola vs. Bloomer Girls, 8:30 p. m.

Wednesday, Aug. 15, Bluebirds vs. Bloomer Girls, 8:30 p. m.

The Bloomer Girls battle the Music Maids in a twin bill Thursday night at Parichy's Stadium with the encounter getting under way at 8 p. m.

These two clubs have see-sawed back and forth between second and third place during the past three weeks and at the present time only one game separates the two, the Maids having recently moved back into the runner up spot.

Manager Woody English will probably send his two hurling aces against the Des Plaines club. Wilda Mae Turner (20-8) and Gen. Nieukirk (16-2) both have excellent records.

The National Girls Baseball League will present its first all star game Sunday, August 19, at 2 p. m. Parichy Memorial Stadium.

The Tony Piet Queens 1950 League champions will meet the All Stars of the League, to be selected by vote of the fans.

Gulyanics shifted to fullback for Bears

The Chicago Bears announced the first outstanding player shift of the football training season. George Gulyanics, one of the top halfbacks in the National Football League, and the Bears' leading ground gainer for the past four seasons, has been moved to fullback.

In announcing the shift, head coach George Halas disclosed that the Bear coaching staff decided months ago to play Gulyanics at fullback this fall. He said:

"Although George has been a fine ball player for us at left half, we feel that he will be even more valuabe at the important fullback position. It is the spot, too, where Gulyanics feels he will be able to do his very best for the Bears."

Halas also disclosed that the Gulyanics-to-fullback shift went into effect the first day the Bears arrived at their St. Joseph's College training camp. Incidentally, "Little Bronko," as he is called by Bear followers, appears to be running with more power than ever at his new post.

Gulyanics, a Mishawaka, Ind., product, topped the Bear ball carriers last fall with a total of 571 yeards. He also was No. 1 on the team in 1949-48 and 47. Gulyanics has a four year total of 1,674 yards with the Bears. Operating from fullback, the stocky veteran promises to have his greatest season since joining the club.

Close To Nortl Pole

Towns of northernmost Mississippi, Alabama, and Georgia are closer to the North Pole than Africa's southernmost tip is to the South Pole.

El Rando swamps Palatine Theater

The El Rando team made a runaway of their game with Palatine Theatre Thursday night when they breezed to a lopsided 11 to 1 victory at Palatine Community park.

Neagle was on the mound for the show house, and the El Rando boys found his style just what they had been looking for, banging the ball all over the place to win as they pleased.

Glaring errors by the Theatre also helped the El Rando boys along and they rung up about the most lopsided score of the season.

ALL IN ALL it was a disappointing evening for the fans as Palatine Motors forfeited to Skokie because of their inability to put a team on the field.

Skokie had not been notified of the Motors inability to play and were on hand for the game.

When the Motors failed to show up, a scrub game was organiezd to give the Skokie boys a chance for a workout.

The season is in its last stages, and it is expected a five team tournament will wind it up following the close of the regular season.

THE MOTORS have declared themselves out of the tournament, so Skokie, Mt. Prospect, El Rando, Riviera and Palatine Theatre will probably play an elimination round for the tournament championship.

With those five evenly matched teams hooking up in a tournament, the fans should see some hot games for the conclusion of the season, which has brought together the fastest teams in the history of the local park.

Suitable trophies will be awarded to the first and second place teams in the tournament.

Never Out Of Style

Ever since the days of the Pharaohs, painted furniture has been popular. Beautiful painted pieces from that long-gone period have been found. For hundreds of years, French, English, Dutch and Chinese masters and cabinetmakers contributed their skill to this ancient art. Because of its combination of beauty and practicality painted furniture will undoubtedly continue in popular favor.

Here is Arlington high school bus schedule

Arlington Heights township high school will begin its 1951-52 school year Tuesday, September 4. All freshmen will report Tuesday, September 4, and all students including freshmen will report Wednesday, September 5.

Fifty-five teachers, representing an increase in staff of six teachers, will greet the Arlington Heights students this year. An additional 120 students will enter Arlington Heights township high school this fall and every possible room is being used in order to maintain the hour period schedule.

It was felt that because the new addition would not be completed by September 1, that it would be necessary to shorten periods and have a nine period day. However, due to the fact that temporary lockers can be installed in the shop corridors, two basement rooms are being converted into shops, and all offices possible are being used as class rooms so that the seven hour period day can be maintained. It is desirable to maintain the hour period particularly so that when the new building is occupied a period change-over will not be necessary.

More than 700 students will be transported, using 15 routes. Following are the routes of the busses with the starting time. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That the graces of Spirit,—love, joy, peace, health, safety and security are the free gifts of a loving Father to be accepted and enjoyed by man, will be explained in next Sunday's services in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The title of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday, August 12, is "SPIRIT."

The Golden Text is from Zechariah (4:6) "Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of hosts."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible (King James Version) include the following:

"O Lord, thou hast searched me, and known me . . . Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence? . . . If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea; Even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me" (Ps. 139: 1, 9, 10).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"Spirit is not separate from God. Spirit is God . . . God is individual, incorporeal . . . He fills all space, and it is impossible to conceive of such omnipresence and individuality except as infinite Spirit or Mind. Hence all is Spirit and spiritual" (pp. 192, 331).

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

At the church where my family is accustomed to worship, they decided they would experiment this summer. They are having no public worship or church school services while the minister is vacationing during August.

So our little brood decided we would spend our Sunday morning learning something about the way in which other people worship our common Father. We chose for this week a Roman Catholic church whose chancel was recommended for its interest and beauty. Unfortunately, from our immediate personal point of view, the church, St. James, in Arlington Heights is engaged in a building program to improve their sanctuary. In the crowded basement auditorium room of the school, we stood in the center aisle — father holding an extremely active 11-months-old child.

OUR CHILDREN had several questions. They wanted to know why the priest wore the bright green vest-like attire over his white gown. This led us to a discussion of the colors appropriate to the seasons of the church calendar.

They were also confused about that part of the service where the priest stood at the altar with his back to the congregation while they were unable to hear what he was saying. The punctuation of this period by shifts in the position of the congregation also confused them; how did the people know when to kneel or to sit?

WE EXPLAINED that they are familiar with what is happening, what manner of prayers are being said, that the prayers are addressed to God, that they are a part of the ritual which is regularly used.

Our young pragmatist was especially interested in the raising of the host, in the chimes — and when she learned what it meant, she wondered how and why. It was upsetting; our family may not believe it, but there are those who do. A child of 10 should not take such a dim view of the power of God. Yet I think it is not so much a dim view as that this came so suddenly; it was quite unexpected. With it, there was the explanation why a small tray is held before each communicant so that not a crumb be lost.

PERHAPS we failed to prepare the children adequately for the miracle involved mass. Yet it is difficult to offer too many explanations before the experience, to give the answers before the questions are formulated. It confuses them. Our children have participated in one form of protestant worship often enough to be familiar with the procedure, if not with all of the reasons. They can note differences. And they are sufficiently intelligent to ask questions. They didn't have to learn it all this time.

All that we wanted them to learn was that here is one way in which a large group of Christian people worship our Father in Heaven, and feel that His spirit, His strength is given to them through the mass. We noted enough kindly, devoted faces of men, women and children in the pews and at the communion rail to know that this is meaningful worship to many persons.

Check this map for location of emergency telephones

Here are the locations of the eight outdoor public telephone booths put up recently in Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Prospect Meadows. This is around-the-clock emergency service. Because we cannot provide everyone in these booming communities with telephones immediately, we've put in these emergency public phones to supplement what we have.

How long must emergency measures like this be used? Not too long, we hope. For in recent months we've added 10,500 more miles of wire in cable. We've combed the country for necessary equipment, bringing in switchboards, for example, from New Jersey and Detroit. And — even though our Arlington Heights exchange is handling one-third more calls today than it was previously — this new equipment will help considerably. It will mean telephone service for many of those who are now waiting.

Today, of course, military and defense demands have first call on telephone equipment. But, we are working night and day to care for civilian needs too. The new $1,900,000 dial project for this section should be ready by the summer of next year. Then we can promise you the world's finest, fastest telephone service.

Until then, we appreciate your patient co-operation.

ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY
W. C. LATHEN, Manager

P. S.
The newest emergency outdoor telephone booth was placed in service as this message was being written. It's No. 8 and is located in Mount Prospect.

We chose for this week a Roman Catholic church whose chancel was recommended for its interest and beauty. Unfortunately, from our immediate personal point of view, the church, St. James, in Arlington Heights is engaged in a building program to improve their sanctuary. In the crowded basement auditorium room of the school, we stood in the center aisle — father holding an extremely active 11-months-old child.

OUR CHILDREN had several questions. They wanted to know why the priest wore the bright green vest-like attire over his white gown. This led us to a discussion of the colors appropriate to the seasons of the church calendar.

They were also confused about that part of the service where the priest stood at the altar with his back to the congregation while they were unable to hear what he was saying. The punctuation of this period by shifts in the position of the congregation also confused them; how did the people know when to kneel or to sit?

WE EXPLAINED that they are familiar with what is happening, what manner of prayers are being said, that the prayers are addressed to God, that they are a part of the ritual which is regularly used.

Our young pragmatist was especially interested in the raising of the host, in the chimes — and when she learned what it meant, she wondered how and why. It was upsetting; our family may not believe it, but there are those who do. A child of 10 should not take such a dim view of the power of God. Yet I think it is not so much a dim view as that this came so suddenly; it was quite unexpected. With it, there was the explanation why a small tray is held before each communicant so that not a crumb be lost.

PERHAPS we failed to prepare the children adequately for the miracle involved mass. Yet it is difficult to offer too many explanations before the experience, to give the answers before the questions are formulated. It confuses them. Our children have participated in one form of protestant worship often enough to be familiar with the procedure, if not with all of the reasons. They can note differences. And they are sufficiently intelligent to ask questions. They didn't have to learn it all this time.

All that we wanted them to learn was that here is one way in which a large group of Christian people worship our Father in Heaven, and feel that His spirit, His strength is given to them through the mass. We noted enough kindly, devoted faces of men, women and children in the pews and at the communion rail to know that this is meaningful worship to many persons.

Check this map for location of emergency telephones

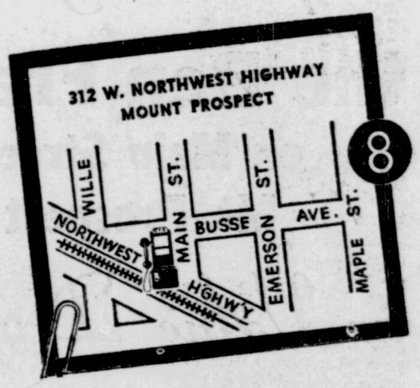

Here are the locations of the eight outdoor public telephone booths put up recently in Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Prospect Meadows. This is around-the-clock emergency service. Because we cannot provide everyone in these booming communities with telephones immediately, we've put in these emergency public phones to supplement what we have.

How long must emergency measures like this be used? Not too long, we hope. For in recent months we've added 10,500 more miles of wire in cable. We've combed the country for necessary equipment, bringing in switchboards, for example, from New Jersey and Detroit. And—even though our Arlington Heights exchange is handling one-third more calls today than it was previously—this new equipment will help considerably. It will mean telephone service for many of those who are now waiting.

Today, of course, military and defense demands have first call on telephone equipment. But, we are working night and day to care for civilian needs too. The new $1,900,000 dial project for this section should be ready by the summer of next year. Then we can promise you the world's finest, fastest telephone service.

Until then, we appreciate your patient co-operation.

ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY
W. C. LATHEN, Manager

P. S.
The newest emergency outdoor telephone booth was placed in service as this message was being written. It's No. 8 and is located in Mount Prospect.

About Your Health

While our good health generally depends on good nutrition, equally important is the elimination of waste products from the daily intake of food, the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society observes in a health talk. The chemical waste products of the diet are eliminated by the kidneys. When these organs are not functioning properly, a condition develops which is known as nephritis. It is often called Bright's disease after the famous London physician, Dr. Richard Bright who, in 1827, correlated swelling body tissues (dropsy) with coagulation of urine on boiling, and inflammation of kidneys.

Normally there are two kidneys, one on either side of the spinal column. They are bean-shaped, located in the upper part of the abdomen, beneath the diaphragm, behind the stomach and directly in front of the muscles of the back. The kidneys are each connected to the bladder by two long tubes, known as the ureters, and their primary function is to act as a filter in removing waste products from the blood stream.

THE KIDNEYS may be considered the most important chemical laboratory in the body, as they not only filter the waste products but conserve the body's minerals and salts and keep body fluids and chemicals in balance. They are so important that all of the blood in the body, eleven to thirteen pints, circulates through them every three minutes for the purpose of being freed of its waste products.

Especially interesting is the fact that the kidney is primarily composed of two million little filtering units, which are clusters of blood vessels. If these clusters, which are called glomeruli, were stretched out they would extend approximately four miles. As the blood circulates through the kidneys and finally through the little clusters or glomeruli, the waste products are selectively transferred from the blood into tiny funnel-like tubes, known as kidney tubules. In addition to the waste products, large quantities of water, sugar and salt pass into these tubules.

THIS IS KNOWN as filtrate. As this filtrate passes down through the tubules, the water, salt and sugar essential to the body are reabsorbed through the walls of these tubules to maintain the normal body chemistry. The waste products, however, that cannot be used again continue to pass down the tubules and down the ureters into the bladder.

When anything interferes with these filters, such as blocking or plugging, the waste products are not properly processed, inflammation develops and we have the condition known as nephritis. In children, this inflammation may follow scarlet fever or frequent upper respiratory infections. Sore throat caused by the streptococci germs may be a factor. In older people, particularly those with arteriosclerosis, or those with extremely high blood pressure, damage to the blood vessels results in plugging, and nephritis may set in, because the vessels are narrowed obstructing the free passage of blood to the filter mechanism.

NEPHRITIS is a serious condition. Very often the symptoms in the early stages go unnoticed. The waste material, instead of being excreted from the body, accumulates in the blood, frequently causing edema or swelling, and more work for the heart.

The urinalysis is the laboratory test used to detect albumin in the urine. While albumin is normally present in the body, it does not appear in the urine if the filter system of the kidneys is functioning normally. Everyone should have a urinalysis regularly.

Use care 'fore you hang your draperies

Proper installation of drapery hardware is extremely important in hanging draperies. Many times incorrect installation not only detracts from the appearance of your entire window treatment, but also mars the beauty of your woodwork and plaster.

By following these simple tips from the Kirsch company, world's largest manufacturers of drapery hardware, you will have no difficulty installing your drapery hardware.

HHEN MEASURING, use either a steel tape, a folding rule or a yardstick. Never use a cloth tape measure because so often it stretches out of shape and the result is inaccurate measurements. Take measurements with care so unnecessary holes and drilling are avoided.

For installations in soft wood, use an awl to make the holes for screws or nails. In hard wood, it is always best to drill holes of the proper size for nails and screws. Hammering may split the wood; drilling will prevent this.

A BIT OF SOAP placed on the tip of the screw before driving makes the installation easier. If the hardware is to be installed in plaster, moisten the drill or screw with water first for easier installation.

Remember, when installing drapery hardware, be sure that you are not in too much of a hurry, for in this case—"haste makes waste."

Driver training film available to public

Two new motion pictures have been released for free public showings by Ford Motor Company.

The company's latest films take viewers on contrasting journeys. One moves the camera behind the wheel of an automobile for a series of six 10-minute driver education studies. The second, entitled "The American Cowboy," is a 30-minute color documentary of life on a Colorado cattle ranch.

Addition of these films to Ford's motion picture libraries throughout the United States makes a total of twenty-six 16-millimeter pictures available for public use without cost. More than seven million persons viewed Ford films in 1950.

Ford films are readily available to its 140,000 employes, the company's 6,000 suppliers, its 7,200 Ford, Lincoln and Mercury dealers, residents of plant city areas, clubs, schools, colleges, churches and civic organizations.

In addition, the company is offering its films to television stations throughout the country, which will more than triple previous audiences.

Of the two most recent films the driver education series was almost a year in the making. The six studies were prepared under the guidance and advice of the National Commission on Safety Education of the National Education Association.

NU boys work up more potent hay fever extract

A purer, more potent ragweed pollen extract which may prove a boon to the nation's hay fever sufferers has been developed by scientists at Northwestern University.

The substance, which can be used either in skin tests for hay fever or in immunization against the allergy, will be used in treatment of patients for the first time this summer.

The new preparation is obtained by dripping yellow ragweed solution through a glass tube filled with a special acidic aluminum oxide. The acid wash removes pigments and impurities and leaves a colorless, active filtrate from which a purified and potent ragweed extract is prepared.

THE NORTHWESTERN University investigators estimate they have been able to remove almost all the impurities of the pollen extract. Material formerly in use was almost 40 per cent impure.

The experimenis with ragweed pollen, initiated by Dr. T. B. Bernstein more than two years ago, are being extended to extracts of molds, dusts, and foods.

Food and other substances used in testing for allergy still contain pigments and other irritants which may produce false positive skin reactions. University scientists believe these irritants will be eliminated from extracts prepared by their new method, which may prove invaluable in testing patients suspected of allergy.

Immunization by injection of pollen extracts for pollen hay fever and asthma is still the most satisfactory treatment for providing relief.

Laundry tips

Wash terry cloth before you sew and avoid shrinkage

Shrinkage may ruin the efforts of home sewers who fashion robes and play-clothes of terry cloth if the material is not laundered before being made into a garment. Here's the reason for such shrinkage given by the American Institute of Laundering, research and educational center for the laundry and textile industries.

A certain amount of necessary stretching occurs during the manufacturing process. Then when the fabric, usually not a preshrunk one, is laundered, the tension relaxes and shrinkage occurs. Another reason given by the Institute for laundering terry before using is that it increases absorbency.

WASHABLE summer rugs with colors woven into them won't lose their good looks as fast as those on which the colors are merely stenciled or painted. Bend back portions of the rug to see how deep the colors have penetrated into the pile. If the colors appear to be merely on the surface of the rug, there's a possibility they may rub or wash off in a short period of time.

SIZING is a common cover-up for poor quality. Underneath the smooth surface of a heavily-sized kitchen towel, may be short yarns which will fuzz up and cause linting on dishes after laundering.

And "loaded" sheets, they add, are usually so sized to cover up loose weaving. If sizing content cannot be judged by feel, the Institute suggests rubbing the material above a dark surface. If a powdery film filters out, an over-supply of stiffening has been used to improve the appearance of the fabric.

Not all glazed chintz — that gaily-colored cotton so much in demand for draperies, slip covers and summer dresses — is washable. If either a wax or starched glaze produced by use of friction or glazing calenders is applied, such a finish will wash out in the laundering process. Chemicals, such as synthetic resins or plastics, are baked in the washable variety of glazed chintz at high temperatures. Such fabrics usually carry a label attesting to their launderability.

Washing walls the easy way

Home furnishing specialists recommend washing a wall at the bottom and then proceeding upward. This prevents streaking which occurs when water runs down over a soiled surface.

They also suggest using two galvanized steel cleaning pails. Fill one pail with soapy water, the other with rinse water and carry both to the wall to be cleaned. Then there will be no need to stop to get additional water before the wall has been completely cleaned.

New punch in iced tea

Iced tea is usually in order for hot summer days. But for a special party, give that tea extra zest by adding fruit juices and ginger ale or charged water.

Miss Frances Cook, foods and nutrition specialist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, suggests this recipe with three tasty variations.

FIRST PREPARE two cups strong tea infusion by mixing about three tablespoons black tea with cold water and placing it in the refrigerator overnight. Or you can steep the tea at room temperature in six or seven hours.

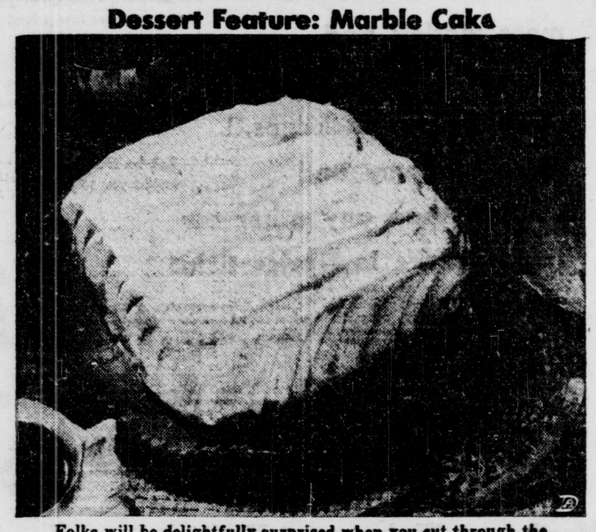

Just before serving add to the chilled tea six cups fruit juice and four cups of ginger ale or charged water and sweeten to taste. Vary the fruit juice combinations and you'll get three different kinds of punch from the basic recipe.

USE THREE cups pineapple juice, two cups orange juice and one cup lime juice for a flavorful golden punch. Make California punch by combining three cups loganberry juice, two and one-half cups orange juice and one-half cup lemon juice. Or mix four cups grape juice and two cups grapefruit juice for a royal punch.

Pour the tea punch over ice cubes or an ice block in a punch bowl. This recipe makes 25 four-ounce cups or about 12 eight-ounce glasses.

GARNISH the punch with cherries, bits of pineapple or mint. And for a special party look, frost the glasses around the top by inverting them and running a slice of lemon, limes, or other fruit around the edge Then dip rim in powdered sugar

Dessert Feature: Marble Cake

Folks will be delightfully surprised when you cut through the thick fluffy frosting to reveal Marble Cake, a delectable coffee hour sweet.

Through the years cakes have held their popularity as true party desserts. Marble Cake offers a dramatic approach to the dessert problem. Here is an easy marbled loaf cake that you can make at home, if you wish, a thrifty one-egg recipe for something extra-special.

Or, if you want, buy it baked. The baker daily offers an assortment of fresh cakes designed to please individual tastes and to suit any occasion.

The "marbling" effect looks fancy, but it's really easy. To achieve, pour one-third of the cake batter into another bowl and add melted chocolate to it. Then drop alternating spoonfuls of plain and chocolate cake batters into square pan.

Some cooks prefer to combine the two batters lightly and then pour marbled batter into prepared pan. This cake is good with either a white or chocolate frosting, so cater to your family's taste on this point.

You may be surprised at the amount of good nutrition offered by Marble Cake made with enriched flour. It contributes three essential B-vitamins, food iron, and food energy to the dessert course.

MARBLE CAKE

1½ cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
¾ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 square melted chocolate

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg. Mix well. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture alternately with milk and vanilla extract. Pour ⅓ of the batter into a small bowl and add melted chocolate. Mix thoroughly. Pour alternating spoonfuls of white and dark batter into greased cake pan, 8 x 8 x 2 inches. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) about 30 minutes.

Makes 1 8-inch layer.

Pick your own executor by having a will

by ROGER W. BABSON

Everyone should make a will. I seriously mean this. Too many people have died unexpectedly, especially in connection with automobile accidents. Statistics show that more Americans have been killed by automobiles the past year than have been killed in Korea. You may live a long life, but you may die next week. The important thing is not to die without a will whatever your age.

To be sure of a friendly executor and to avoid having some judge appoint some friend of his as an executor, with whom you might not be satisfied, you can appoint your own executor by making a will.

IF YOU DIE without a will and the court is obliged to disburse your estate it may run up a lot of costs, including the necessity for a bond. These costs can be eliminated largely by making a will and appointing your own executor. You can provide that the executor may give your beneficiaries property or securities at a fair value instead of cash, under certain circumstances.

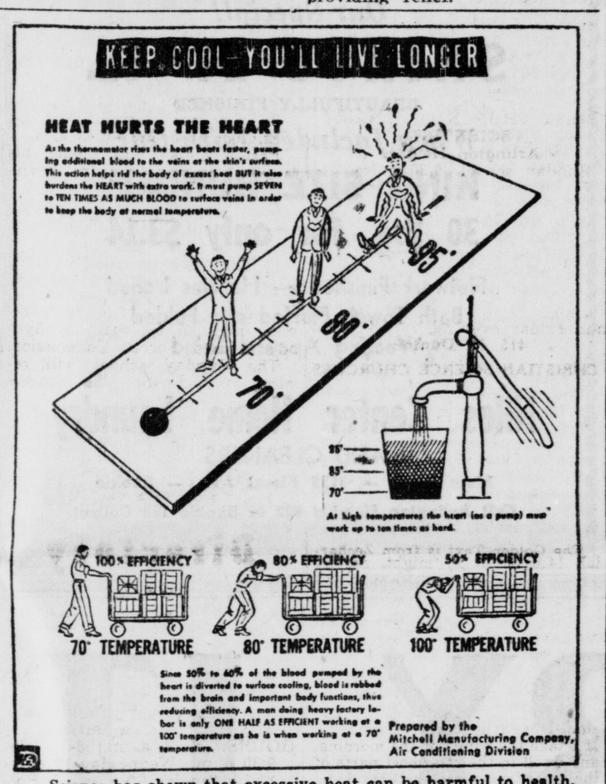

By making a will you can give your executor certain other discretionary powers, like deciding what property to sell, and the power to do other things which a court appointee would not do. You can directly will certain articles of furniture, clothing, etc. to definite people and do the things you want to do as you would want to do them without the fear of litigation.

IF A COURT should liquidate your estate it may sell property hurriedly or during a depression. By making a will you can give your executor time and enable him to use his judgment and consult other people. This privilege may save your estate thousands of dollars.

By making a will, you can arrange to leave money in trust so that your widow or husband may have the full income during his or her lifetime and then have it go to the children or other people. You also may wish to distribute your property among your children in unequal proportion, as one may be disabled or handicapped. To do this you must make a will.

IF THE ESTATE goes to a court-appointed executor it may take two years or more in being settled and your wife and family may have nothing on which to live during this period. By making a will you can authorize your executor to pay your wife a certain amount each month pending settlement of your estate, or to give her more money if an unexpected illness, or other unexpected troubles should come. You always can make changes at any time by proper codicils.

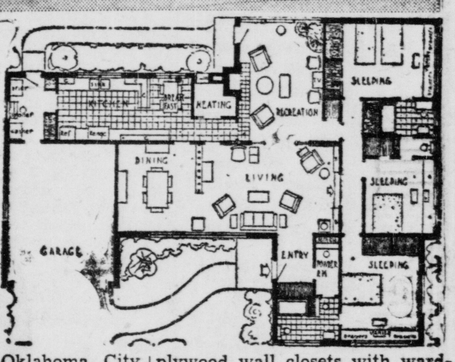

Don't try to make your own will to save $50; but go to a good lawyer. Make a list of the gifts you desire to make and whom you want as executor and give this material to your lawyer, who should be a resident of your state. Then he will put it in legal shape.

Science has shown that excessive heat can be harmful to health. It has been found, however, that by creating an atmosphere in which the body can throw off unwanted heat the dangerous extra load on the heart can be greatly reduced. Any number of methods to fight heat are available. Among them are: 1. To keep physical activity at a minimum. 2. To wear light colored, porous clothing. 3. To take frequent twenty minute baths in tepid water. 4. To be sure that an adequate amount of salt is taken into the body to make up for salt lost in perspiration. However one of the most efficient ways to keep cool on hot days is through the use of the room air conditioner. Tests made for the air conditioning division of the Mitchell Manufacturing Company show that the air conditioner is not only an excellent heat reducer, but that it also affords relief to asthma, hay fever and other allergy sufferers by removing 99.9% of the pollen from the room air.

Designed for casual living

Designed for gracious, carefree living in a relaxed, comfortable atmosphere is this three bedroom home featuring a spacious recreation area which can be made part of the living area by opening the large, sliding glass doors. It is Plan No. 512 of W. H. Schumacher, Tower Theatre Bldg., N.W. 23rd St., Oklahoma City, Okla.

The living and dining areas also are continuous except for an ornamental grill which provides partial room division. The end wall of the recreation area is entirely of glass.

The architect specifies extensive hardwood plywood interior construction for strength, durability and cost economy, with richly-figured face veneers in living and dining area wall paneling. Abundant storage space is provided throughout the house and each of the bedrooms has plywood wall closets with wardrobe-type sliding doors, built-in vanities and chests of drawers.

Either stone or brick veneer construction is suggested for the exterior of this one-story structure which has an attached two-car garage. Because the architect designed this house for a moderate budget, he specifies materials which provide economy in first cost and upkeep — for example, asphalt shingles for the roof which are available in a wide array of blended or solid colors to harmonize with the stone or brick veneer sidewalls.

Junking of cars in Illinois at 4,000 month

Illinois automobile owners are junking their cars at the rate of more than 4,000 each month, according to figures released by Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett. This represents an average increase of approximately 1,000 a month over 1950. In that year, certificates of junking totaled 36,530; as of June 30 of this year, 24,462 such certificates have been issued, Secretary Barrett announced.

Under the Motor Vehicle Anti-Theft Act, it is mandatory for an owner to obtain a certificate prior to junking a car.

Home may be like jungle if you overplant

Given half a chance, your landscape can turn into a man-made jungle. Plant too many poor trees, particularly high-growing evergreens, and the homestead eventually is besieged by implacable arboreal monsters.

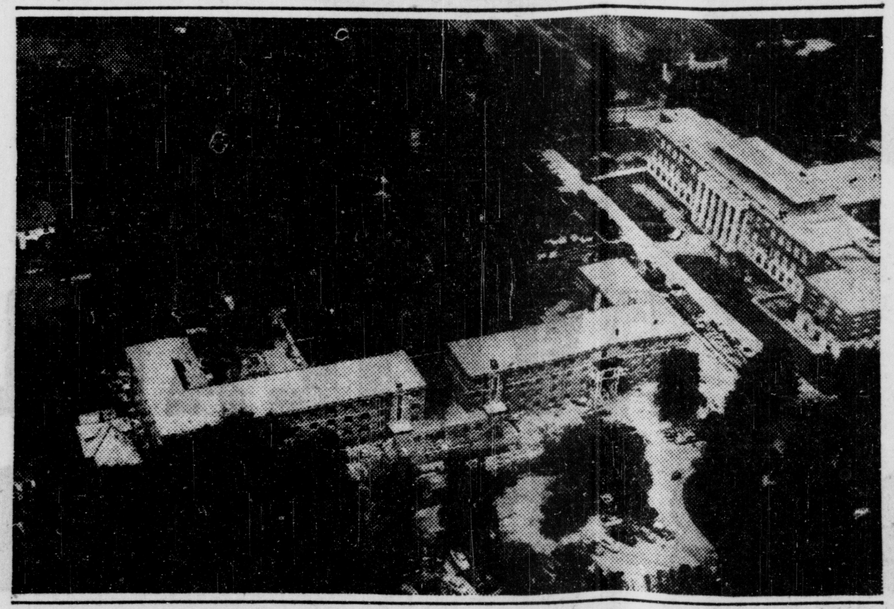

Now's the time to think about this Fall's exterior improvement projects, namely tree planting. Best bet is to give the landscaping considerable thought this summer to avoid overplanting. If possible, you'd better first make your plans on paper, advises B. L. Brittain, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co.

THE AUTHORITY reminds a few good trees are decidedly better than a lot of poor ones. There usually seems to be the temptation to plant twice as many trees because the young nursery stock looks so lonesome and puny. It doesn't seem possible the scrawny trees ever will grow into woody giants bent on destroying roofs and filling eave spouts with branches, twigs and leaves.

If you already have a problem of crowding and too much shade, it can be moderated by proper pruning, cabling and other maintenance measures. In extreme cases, removal of some trees may be necessary. For this type of trouble, it is always sensible to consult the expert and the same holds true on planting problems. Consult your nurseryman, landscape architect or tree expert to avoid making mistakes that may haunt you for years to come.

MAJOR SHADE trees should be the deliduous kinds, while evergreens destined to reach large proportions should be kept in the background where they will not contribute to the shade problem.

New Process Saves Rubber

REVOLUTIONARY RUBBER PROCESS: G. H. Swart (left), head of the General Tire and Rubber Company's research staff which developed the company's revolutionary process for the manufacture of vital synthetic rubber, discusses the method with General's president, W. O'Neil, at the Akron laboratory. The widely-publicized method, offered to the United States government through the RFC, greatly increases production and quality of synthetic rubber by mixing cheap petroleum oil with tough synthetic stock, a process long sought by major rubber interests. The secret was revealed at a Canadian chemists' meeting in Kitchener, Ontario. The formula produces rubber for much tougher, longer-wearing tires and is already in production in Canadian rubber plants.

Driver training film available to public

Two new motion pictures have been released for free public showings by Ford Motor Company.

The company's latest films take viewers on contrasting journeys. One moves the camera behind the wheel of an automobile for a series of six 10-minute driver education studies. The second, entitled "The American Cowboy," is a 30-minute color documentary of life on a Colorado cattle ranch.

Addition of these films to Ford's motion picture libraries throughout the United States makes a total of twenty-six 16-millimeter pictures available for public use without cost. More than seven million persons viewed Ford films in 1950.

Ford films are readily available to its 140,000 employes, the company's 6,000 suppliers, its 7,200 Ford, Lincoln and Mercury dealers, residents of plant city areas, clubs, schools, colleges, churches and civic organizations.

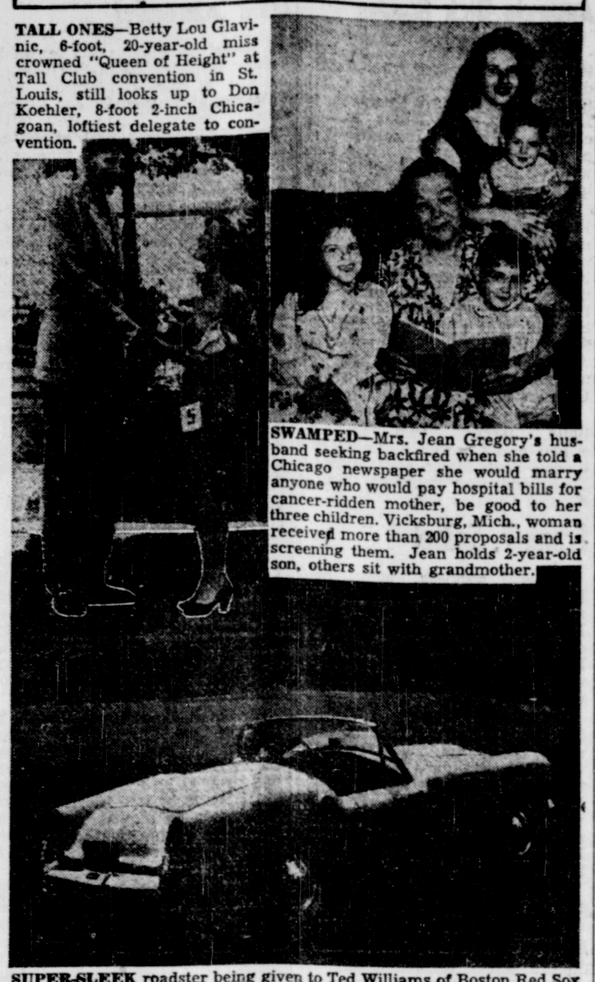

In addition, the company is offering its films to television stations throughout the country, which will more than triple previous audiences.

Of the two most recent films the driver education series was almost a year in the making. The six studies were prepared under the guidance and advice of the National Commission on Safety Education of the National Education Association.

ASHES INSTEAD OF HOUSES

Each year, forest fires in the United States, most of them man-caused, destroy enough wood to build 86,000 homes.

NU boys work up more potent hay fever extract

A purer, more potent ragweed pollen extract which may prove a boon to the nation's hay fever sufferers has been developed by scientists at Northwestern University.

The substance, which can be used either in skin tests for hay fever or in immunization against the allergy, will be used in treatment of patients for the first time this summer.

The new preparation is obtained by dripping yellow ragweed solution through a glass tube filled with a special acidic aluminum oxide. The acid wash removes pigments and impurities and leaves a colorless, active filtrate from which a purified and potent ragweed extract is prepared.

THE NORTHWESTERN University investigators estimate they have been able to remove almost all the impurities of the pollen extract. Material formerly in use was almost 40 per cent impure.

The experimenis with ragweed pollen, initiated by Dr. T. B. Bernstein more than two years ago, are being extended to extracts of molds, dusts, and foods.

Food and other substances used in testing for allergy still contain pigments and other irritants which may produce false positive skin reactions. University scientists believe these irritants will be eliminated from extracts prepared by their new method, which may prove invaluable in testing patients suspected of allergy.

Immunization by injection of polien extracts for pollen hay fever and asthma is still the most satisfactory treatment for providing relief.

Laundry tips

Wash terry cloth before you sew and avoid shrinkage

Shrinkage may ruin the efforts of home sewers who fashion robes and play-clothes of terry cloth if the material is not laundered before being made into a garment. Here's the reason for such shrinkage given by the American Institute of Laundering, research and educational center for the laundry and textile industries.

A certain amount of necessary stretching occurs during the manufacturing process. Then when the fabric, usually not a preshrunk one, is laundered, the tension relaxes and shrinkage occurs. Another reason given by the Institute for laundering terry before using is that it increases absorbency.

WASHABLE summer rugs with colors woven into them won't lose their good looks as fast as those on which the colors are merely stenciled or painted. Bend back portions of the rug to see how deep the colors have penetrated into the pile. If the colors appear to be merely on the surface of the rug, there's a possibility they may rub or wash off in a short period of time.

SIZING is a common cover-up for poor quality. Underneath the smooth surface of a heavily-sized kitchen towel, may be short yarns which will fuzz up and cause linting on dishes after laundering.

And "loaded" sheets, they add, are usually so sized to cover up loose weaving. If sizing content cannot be judged by feel, the Institute suggests rubbing the material above a dark surface. If a powdery film filters out, an over-supply of stiffening has been used to improve the appearance of the fabric.

Not all glazed chintz — that gaily-colored cotton so much in demand for draperies, slip covers and summer dresses — is washable. If either a wax or starched glaze produced by use of friction or glazing calenders is applied, such a finish will wash out in the laundering process. Chemicals, such as synthetic resins or plastics, are baked in the washable variety of glazed chintz at high temperatures. Such fabrics usually carry a label attesting to their launderability.

Washing walls the easy way

Home furnishing specialists recommend washing a wall at the bottom and then proceeding upward. This prevents streaking which occurs when water runs down over a soiled surface.

They also suggest using two galvanized steel cleaning pails. Fill one pail with soapy water, the other with rinse water and carry both to the wall to be cleaned. Then there will be no need to stop to get additional water before the wall has been completely cleaned.

New punch in iced tea

Iced tea is usually in order for hot summer days. But for a special party, give that tea extra zest by adding fruit juices and ginger ale or charged water.

Miss Frances Cook, foods and nutrition specialist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, suggests this recipe with three tasty variations.

FIRST PREPARE two cups strong tea infusion by mixing about three tablespoons black tea with cold water and placing it in the refrigerator overnight. Or you can steep the tea at room temperature in six or seven hours.

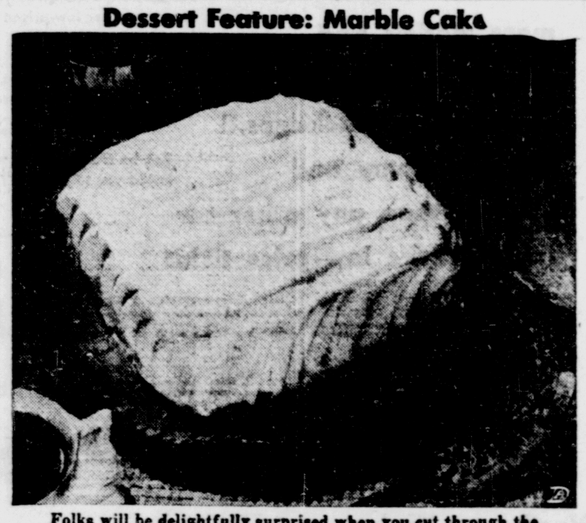

Just before serving add to the chilled tea six cups fruit juice and four cups of ginger ale or charged water and sweeten to taste. Vary the fruit juice combinations and you'll get three different kinds of punch from the basic recipe.

USE THREE cups pineapple juice, two cups orange juice and one cup lime juice for a flavorful golden punch. Make California punch by combining three cups loganberry juice, two and one-half cups orange juice and one-half cup lemon juice. Or mix four cups grape juice and two cups grapefruit juice for a royal punch.

Pour the tea punch over ice cubes or an ice block in a punch bowl. This recipe makes 25 four-ounce cups or about 12 eight-ounce glasses.

GARNISH the punch with cherries, bits of pineapple or mint. And for a special party look, frost the glasses around the top by inverting them and running a slice of lemon, limes, or other fruit around the edge Then dip rim in powdered sugar

Dessert Feature: Marble Cake

Folks will be delightfully surprised when you cut through the thick fluffy frosting to reveal Marble Cake, a delectable coffee hour sweet.

Through the years cakes have held their popularity as true party desserts. Marble Cake offers a dramatic approach to the dessert problem. Here is an easy marbled loaf cake that you can make at home, if you wish, a thrifty one-egg recipe for something extra-special.

Or, if you want, buy it baked. The baker daily offers an assortment of fresh cakes designed to please individual tastes and to suit any occasion.

The "marbling" effect looks fancy, but it's really easy. To achieve, pour one-third of the cake batter into another bowl and add melted chocolate to it. Then drop alternating spoonfuls of plain and chocolate cake batters into square pan.

Some cooks prefer to combine the two batters lightly and then pour marbled batter into prepared pan. This cake is good with either a white or chocolate frosting, so cater to your family's taste on this point.

You may be surprised at the amount of good nutrition offered by Marble Cake made with enriched flour. It contributes three essential B-vitamins, food iron, and food energy to the dessert course.

MARBLE CAKE

½ cups sifted enriched flour
teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
¾ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 square melted chocolate

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg. Mix well. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture alternately with milk and vanilla extract. Pour ⅓ of the batter into a small bowl and add melted chocolate. Mix thoroughly. Pour alternating spoonfuls of white and dark batter into greased cake pan, 8 x 8 x 2 inches. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) about 30 minutes.

Makes 1 8-inch layer.

Pick your own executor by having a will

by ROGER W. BABSON

Everyone should make a will. I seriously mean this. Too many people have died unexpectedly, especially in connection with automobile accidents. Statistics show that more Americans have been killed by automobiles the past year than have been killed in Korea. You may live a long life, but you may die next week. The important thing is not to die without a will whatever your age.

To be sure of a friendly executor and to avoid having some judge appoint some friend of his as an executor, with whom you might not be satisfied, you can appoint your own executor by making a will.

IF YOU DIE without a will and the court is obliged to disburse your estate it may run up a lot of costs, including the necessity for a bond. These costs can be eliminated largely by making a will and appointing your own executor. You can provide that the executor may give your beneficiaries property or securities at a fair value instead of cash, under certain circumstances.

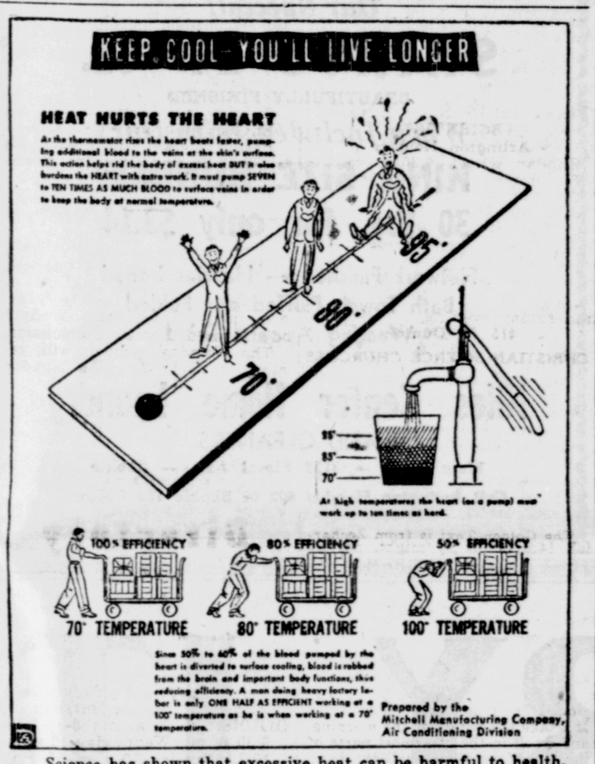

By making a will you can give your executor certain other discretionary powers, like deciding what property to sell, and the power to do other things which a court appointee would not do. You can directly will certain articles of furniture, clothing, etc. to definite people and do the things you want to do as you would want to do them without the fear of litigation.

IF A COURT should liquidate your estate it may sell property hurriedly or during a depression. By making a will you can give your executor time and enable him to use his judgment and consult other people. This privilege may save your estate thousands of dollars.

By making a will, you can arrange to leave money in trust so that your widow or husband may have the full income during his or her lifetime and then have it go to the children or other people. You also may wish to distribute your property among your children in unequal proportion, as one may be disabled or handicapped. To do this you must make a will.

IF THE ESTATE goes to a court-appointed executor it may take two years or more in being settled and your wife and family may have nothing on which to live during this period. By making a will you can authorize your executor to pay your wife a certain amount each month pending settlement of your estate, or to give her more money if an unexpected illness, or other unexpected troubles should come. You always can make changes at any time by proper codicils.

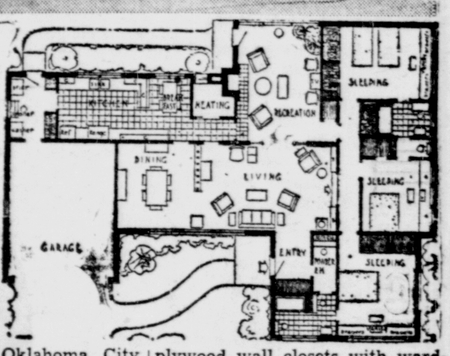

Don't try to make your own will to save $50; but go to a good lawyer. Make a list of the gifts you desire to make and whom you want as executor and give this material to your lawyer, who should be a resident of your state. Then he will put it in legal shape.

Science has shown that excessive heat can be harmful to health. It has been found, however, that by creating an atmosphere in which the body can throw off unwanted heat the dangerous extra load on the heart can be greatly reduced. Any number of methods to fight heat are available. Among them are: 1. To keep physical activity at a minimum. 2. To wear light colored, porous clothing. 3. To take frequent twenty minute baths in tepid water. 4. To be sure that an adequate amount of salt is taken into the body to make up for salt lost in perspiration. However one of the most efficient ways to keep cool on hot days is through the use of the room air conditioner. Tests made for the air conditioning division of the Mitchell Manufacturing Company show that the air conditioner is not only an excellent heat reducer, but that it also affords relief to asthma, hay fever and other allergy sufferers by removing 99.9% of the pollen from the room air.

Designed for casual living

Designed for gracious, carefree living in a relaxed, comfortable atmosphere is this three bedroom home featuring a spacious recreation area which can be made part of the living area by opening the large, sliding glass doors. It is Plan No. 512 of W. H. Schumacher, Tower Theatre Bldg., N.W. 23rd St., Oklahoma City, Okla.

The living and dining areas also are continuous except for an ornamental grill which provides partial room division. The end wall of the recreation area is entirely of glass.

The architect specifies extensive hardwood plywood interior construction for strength, durability and cost economy, with richly-figured face veneers in living and dining area wall paneling. Abundant storage space is provided throughout the house and each of the bedrooms has plywood wall closets with wardrobe-type sliding doors, built-in vanities and chests of drawers.

Either stone or orick veneer construction is suggested for the exterior of this one-story structure which has an attached two-car garage. Because the architect designed this house for a moderate budget, he specifies materials which provide economy in first cost and upkeep — for example, asphalt shingles for the roof which are available in a wide array of blended or solid colors to harmonize with the stone or brick veneer sidewalls.

Home may be like jungle if you overplant

Given half a chance, your landscape can turn into a man-made jungle. Plant too many poor trees, particularly high-growing evergreens, and the homestead eventually is besieged by implacable arboreal monsters.

Now's the time to think about this Fall's exterior improvement projects, namely tree planting. Best bet is to give the landscaping considerable thought this summer to avoid overplanting. If possible, you'd better first make your plans on paper, advises B. L. Brittain, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co.

THE AUTHORITY reminds a few good trees are decidedly better than a lot of poor ones. There usually seems to be the temptation to plant twice as many trees because the young nursery stock looks so lonesome and puny. It doesn't seem possible the scrawny trees ever will grow into woody giants bent on destroying roofs and filling eave spouts with branches, twigs and leaves.

If you already have a problem of crowding and too much shade, it can be moderated by proper pruning, cabling and other maintenance measures. In extreme cases, removal of some trees may be necessary. For this type of trouble, it is always sensible to consult the expert and the same holds true on planting problems. Consult your nurseryman, landscape architect or tree expert to avoid making mistakes that may haunt you for years to come.

MAJOR SHADE trees should be the deliduous kinds, while evergreens destined to reach large proportions should be kept in the background where they will not contribute to the shade problem.

Junking of cars in Illinois at 4,000 month

Illinois automobile owners are junking their cars at the rate of more than 4,000 each month, according to figures released by Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett. This represents an average increase of approximately 1,000 a month over 1950. In that year, certificates of junking totaled 36,530; as of June 30 of this year, 24,462 such certificates have been issued, Secretary Barrett announced.

Under the Motor Vehicle Anti-Theft Act, it is mandatory for an owner to obtain a certificate prior to junking a car.

New Process Saves Rubber

REVOLUTIONARY RUBBER PROCESS: G. H. Swart (left), head of the General Tire and Rubber Company's research staff which developed the company's revolutionary process for the manufacture of vital synthetic rubber, discusses the method with General's president, W. O'Neil, at the Akron laboratory. The widely-publicized method, offered to the United States government through the RFC, greatly increases production and quality of synthetic rubber by mixing cheap petroleum oil with tough synthetic stock, a process long sought by major rubber interests. The secret was revealed at a Canadian chemists' meeting in Kitchener, Ontario. The formula produces rubber for much tougher, longer-wearing tires and is already in production in Canadian rubber plants.

Wheeling township in a bad financial way

August 6, 1937—The township of Wheeling has been in a bad financial way for many years resulting in a tax warrant condition that is costing the township hundreds of dollars each year in excessive interest and cost of materials purchased.

At a meeting of the board of auditors last Friday evening, it was decided that an investigation should be made to learn what measures would be necessary to permit the township to issue bonds to take care of the defaulted tax warrants and past due accounts.

Rural fire league forms association

September 17, 1937 — The northern Illinois rural fire protection association came into being at Palatine last Friday evening when officers of five rural fire leagues met at the Palatine village hall and formed their new association.

The following presidents headed a group of officers and representatives from various districts: Mr. W. Porep, Palatine; Mr. John Z. Pezia, Bensenville; Mr. W. E. Leiseberg, Bartlett; Mr. Fred Pfingsten, Roselle; and Mr. A. J. Kraemer, Mt. Prospect.

McElroy wins tennis tournament

July 9, 1937—McElroy, high school athletic coach, won the first annual Palatine tennis tournament by defeating "Coke" Helgeson in the final match of singles competition last Sunday afternoon. The scores were 6-2, 5-3, 7-9, and 6-2. Helgeson had defeated Krambier and McElroy and dropped Irons in straight sets in the semi-finals. Twenty-one Palatine men competed in the tournament.

C. V. Baker new superintendent of Arlington school

June 25, 1937 — Announcement is made today of employment of C. V. Baker, assistant superintendent of schools of Park Ridge, as superintendent of schools in district number 25, Arlington Heights, to succeed the late D. Whitmore whose resignation was announced a few weeks ago.

Mr. Baker comes to Arlington Heights with a background of elementary school teaching and administration experience in Gurnee, Berwyn, and Park Ridge. For the past three years he has been assistant superintendent of Park Ridge elementary schools where his work as an educator and organizer was considered outstanding.

Pin ball machine operator offers Palatine twenty per cent cut

August 20, 1937—I. Ruttenberg, operator of various so-called pin ball machines that are operated for "amusement only" has instructed this paper to make a public offer to the village of Palatine of a twenty per cent cut on all machines that he is allowed to install within the village.

At present, so far as is publicly known, no cut for such machines is being made to any municipality in the northwest section of Cook county.

Mr. Ruttenberg was emphatic in his statement to the reporter that his machines should not be classed with gambling devices.

Schneberger gets additional police at $135 a month

June 25, 1937—In no uncertain words Monday evening, Alderman G. F. Schneberger made it plain that in his estimation the present number of police force is inadequate to properly police the town. He asked for and the board included in the appropriation ordinance, an item of $3,000 for additional police.

Mr. Schneberger was of the belief that two good men could be secured at about $135 each a month, which would permit full 24 hour service every day in the week with two men at special hours when they are needed.

A horse can't lie down for a peaceful little Sunday snooze anymore

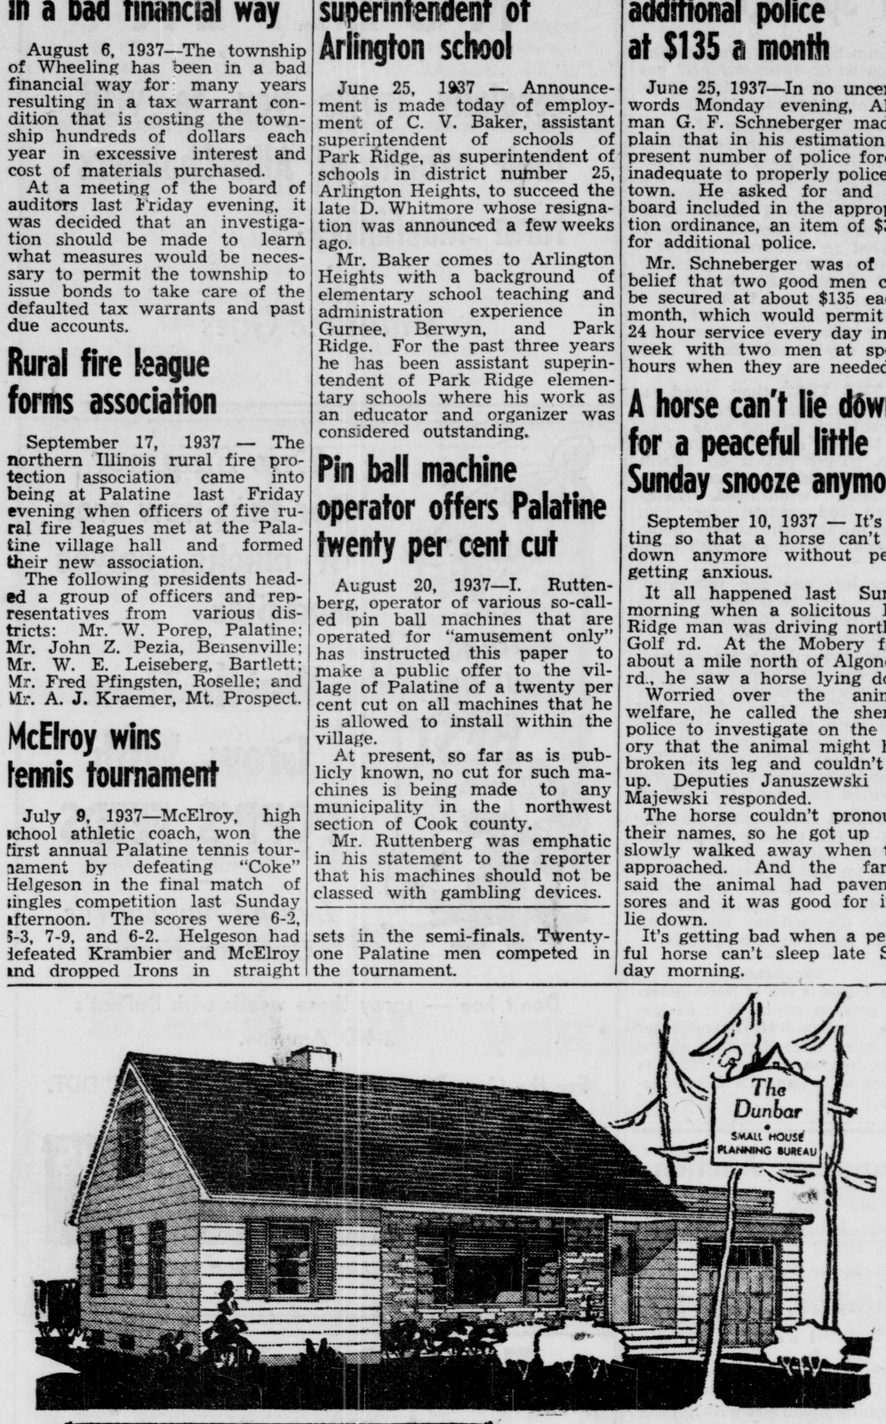

September 10, 1937 — It's getting so that a horse can't lie down anymore without people getting anxious.

It all happened last Sunday morning when a solicitous Park Ridge man was driving north on Golf rd. At the Mobery farm, about a mile north of Algonquin rd., he saw a horse lying down.

Worried over the animal's welfare, he called the sheriff's police to investigate on the theory that the animal might have broken its leg and couldn't get up. Deputies Januszewski and Majewski responded.

The horse couldn't pronounce their names, so he got up and slowly walked away when they approached. And the farmer said the animal had pavement sores and it was good for it to lie down.

It's getting bad when a peaceful horse can't sleep late Sunday morning.

THE DUNBAR has a first floor that consists of two bedrooms, bath, living room and combination kitchen-dinette. Future expansion is taken care of on the second floor where two additional bedrooms can be finished. There is a full basement and an attached, front drive-in, garage with a flat deck and wood rail.

Wardrobe closets are used in all bedrooms, linen cabinets on both floors and coat closets for each entrance.

The kitchen cabinets are arranged on opposite walls in one end of the kitchen. The range and the refrigerator are on the inside and the sink is placed under the window.

Plans for this house call for frame construction, siding, asphalt shingles, double glazed picture window, covered entrance in front and concrete steps.

Dimensions of the Dunbar are 46 feet by 28 feet. Floor area is 893 square feet. Cubage totals 20,093 cubic feet, not counting garage.

For further information about The Dunbar, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

About this time of the year, school kids are beginning to grow fidgety and cast longing eyes in the direction of the old school house. Vacation time, which had been looked forward to as a glorious time of freedom, and has by now grown to be just as tiresome and boring as the continuous round of lessons, perhaps more so, is nearly past. The boys are eager to don their freshly cleaned and repaired football togs, and go out on the fields to emerge, after a few evening of practice, with torn and soiled gear made pleasingly fragrant by the strong smell of perspiration.

All of the girls are thinking about dates, new dresses, dances, basketball and track. They long for the exciting competition for dates with the handsomest and most manly men in the school. Before long you will hear them discussing their conquests with varying degrees from utter disdain to worshipful adoration.

It will be routine once more, but it will mean places to be at certain times, something to do, the reopening of a world of gossip about "him and her." One will hear phrases, long since become cliches, such as "I don't see what He sees in Her, SHE's nothing but a cat," and "He's such a goof, or smoe," and so on. Teachers will come in for their share of criticism, abuse and praise.

But all of this routine of school will gradually impress upon the minds of these ganging, silly young live wires the impressive fact that life without planning is nothing but boredom. And that to be most happy, one must be busy all of the time in a life of balanced play and work. Life without routine, without time planned and utilized, is miserable.

For years I have watched children grow up, and there has always been a warm spot in my heart for them in their moments of exhilarating joy, extreme depression, their dreams and plans and hopes. A young person reminds me of a vine climbing a trellis. They reach out, and twist, and turn, until at last they find the firm foundations of truth to which they can cling and continue to grope upwards toward the light to new heights of attainment. When they have reached the top, their growing buds unfold, and behold! The flowering of youth on the trellis of life!

School is a trellis upon which to train the youth's ever inquiring, ever outreaching curiosity for life. What a child is or will become depends upon the foundation of that trellis, which is in the home, and the structure upon which it leans so heavily, the school.

Brides-to-be

County Clerk Richard J. Daley last week issued marriage licenses to the following residents of north Cook county:

John Harold May, Evanston, and Jean Ellen Gilson, Evanston.

Mark E. Lane, O'Hare field, Park Ridge, and Carol L. Hagele, Elmwood Park.

Prevent Mastitis

Proper ventilation without drafts in the barn is essential in keeping cows' udders healthy. A barn door or window left open can seriously chill an udder, with mastitis resulting.

Weekly recipe

This week I want to have two new recipes for icing. As you read them, you will probably think they're surprising, but I assure you, they will be surprisingly good. Both recipes are easy to make.

Butter Cream Icing

4 cups brown sugar
2 tbspns. butter
2 cups butter cream (soured milk)

Method: Combine all ingredients and cook until it reaches the soft ball stage (drop in cold water-forms a soft ball) — remove from heat and beat until creamy and the right consistency to spread over cake.

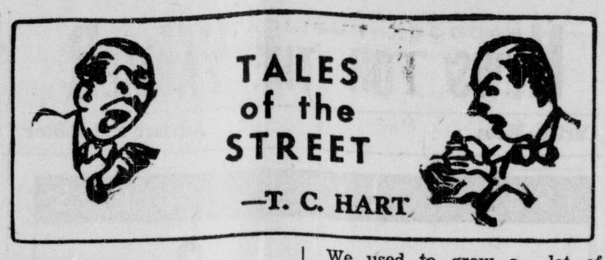

Cottage Cheese Icing

2 cups powdered sugar
¼ tsp. salt
½ tsp. vanilla
Cottage cheese

Method: Sift sugar — add salt and vanilla. Add sufficient cottage cheese (approximately three tablespoons) to make a creamy consistency. Beat very well. Cocoa may be added or any desired flavoring.

In the future

A new machine for mass mailing that will collate, envelope, imprint, stamp, address or label 50 to 100 mailing pieces a minute . . . A razor blade made of glass, said to have a sharper cutting edge and to be more economical than conventional steel blades, has been awarded a patent . . . A lamp made as an integral part of a TV set, designed to produce "diffused lighting" has been put on the market . . . A lap-sized board for solitaire card games, with pockets for each row of cards . . . A liquid drain cleaner, claimed to be non-caustic and unharmful to children or pets . . . A squeeze-bottle packaging device that dissolves the gummy residue of adhesive tapes.

MOSQUITOES

About the largest topic of conversation for several weeks has been the mosquitoes.

We thought two years ago that we had a bad seige of them, but that epidemic was nothing to the hordes of pests that have spread all over everything this season.

In gardens, lawns, at the ball park, in fact about everywhere you go, the little pests greet you in great swarms.

At the ball game recently almost every fan was carrying along his bottle of mosquito dope. There were many varieties of the stuff, and if yours didn't seem to work, you could borrow some from your neighbor. There were anti-mosquito dope bottles all over the place.

Almost everyone was smoking, and a regular cloud of smoke rose over the stands.

This all helped some, but the blamed pests would rise out of the grass and weeds beneath the stands and sting you in unexpected places. Chuck Moore said the dope protected his arms all right, but that they bit him in the back.

Dick Welty's spraying with that little squirt gun didn't seem to do much good.

The way the pests grab a person anywhere makes it look as if Welty would have to spray the patrons all over instead of the grounds, or else he could rig up some sort of a dipping vat to run them through, the way they do down in the tick country to protect the cattle from ticks.

This is just about the worst mosquito invasion in the memories of the oldest of the old timers. Usually there is a little relief between broods, but this season there hasn't been any let up at all. Is this going to keep up until frost kills the pests, we wonder? If so, a lot of people who were anxious for summer to come will be hoping for an early frost.

The little pests have made life outdoors, especially in the evenings, anything but a pleasure.

4-H CLUB FAIR

There will be another big meeting at Arlington Park this week end, but it will be vastly different from the one which just closed a week ago.

This time, instead of fast running horses (or those that should be fast) dashing along that home stretch, there will be slow walking pigs, sheep, cows, calves and possibly a colt or two.

Under the huge stands in place of the mad rush of the betting ring, there will be a lot of people leisurely taking their time in looking over the exhibits of farm and garden produce, flowers and the big automobile show and commercial exhibits of household appliances and other gadgets useful on the farm.

For instead of a race meeting, this big gathering at Arlington Park will be the annual 4-H club fair of Cook county. The youngsters of the farms will show to the world that there is still a lot of farm land left in Cook county and that those farms produce some of the finest farm products in the land.

There will be big displays of poultry, cattle, sheep, hogs, etc. showing what the 4-H club members are doing in the raising of livestock.

There will be displays of vegetables and flowers showing what fine products the truck farms of the county can produce.

There will be many commercial displays by firms doing business with the farmers, and to top it all off there will be plenty of entertainment to keep the big crowds interested and happy.

It will be a farmers' fair, a young farmers' fair, showing what the farm youth of Cook county are doing for the public welfare.

And although it is primarily a farmers' fair, it will be plenty interesting to the folks from the towns and the cities. There will be thousands of them attending the fair to see what their "country cousins" are doing.

The big 4-H club fair opens Friday and continues through Sunday. It will be a great show and you'll enjoy it. Don't miss it. It's going to be both educational and entertaining.

SWEET PEAS

Once again Irene Mueller out there in Inverness has hit the jackpot this year with her sweet peas.

She has a row of beautiful profusely blooming sweet peas of many colors with big healthy blossoms and thrifty vines.

The growing of sweet peas in this area became pretty much of a lost art several years ago when the plant lice (aphis) began to infest the vines so badly that most people just gave up making any attempt to grow them.

Some sprayed with a nicotine spray that was too strong or wasn't washed off the vines in time and burned up their vines.

So a lot of people just gave up growing those beautiful flowers in disgust.

Strange as it may seem, Mrs. Mueller hasn't had any trouble with plant lice. She plants the seed early, as soon as the ground can be worked, late in March or early in April, and plants them in a deep trench.

As the plants grow, she adds a little soil around them so that the roots are deep in the ground where they will get plenty of moisture.

And for years her sweet peas have done very well, blooming from early spring until frost.

Of course she keeps the blossoms picked off as fast as they come. If allowed to go to seed, the vines would stop blooming in a hurry.

After seeing those beautiful sweet peas of Mrs. Mueller's we are tempted to try to grow some again ourselves

We used to grow a lot of them before the aphis invasion, and we haven't seen many of them since, but if Inverness can grow sweet peas so can Palatine, and we're going to try to prove it next year.

YOUNGSTER SOFTBALL

If you want to see some real softball played by players who really put their hearts in the game, you should watch some of the games played by the youngsters of the park district teams.

There was a game the other night bewteen "the intermediates," boys of the fifth, sixth and seventh grades, and Barrington that was a real thriller.

The local boys lost the game, but it was a beauty all the way. The pep and enthusiasm that those youngsters put into their play was really refreshing.

They made sparkling plays; they knew what to do with the ball when they got it, and they were on their toes every minute of the game.

Sure, they made some errors, but what ball players don't? Those green youngsters didn't make nearly as many as we have seen made by some of the seasoned big leaguers.

It was really fun to watch them, more fun than watching a "big" game.

The thing that surprised us was that there weren't more parents and friends of the kids in the stands to cheer them.

We've seen the days when the parents and all their friends would turn out whenever the youngsters played and would follow them to other towns.

But times aren't what they used to be, and neither apparently is the interest of the parents in the activities of the youngsters.

PSYCHOLOGY

Charley Folkerts is firmly convinced that there is a psychology about horse racing and that psychology is not applied by the owners, trainers or jockeys, but by the horses themselves.

"Buckets" sat in the stand one day at Arlington Park intently watching a parade to the post.

Suddenly he burst out with, "Now I know why all those front runners I've been betting on come in last or nearly last. There's one of them. He's last in the post parade, and when they get off, he'll get out in front. Then when they hit the stretch turn, he'll get to thinking, "What am I doing way out here in front. I don't belong here. Those other horses ought to be ahead of me." And he'll slow up and let them go past him. Then he'll come trailing in last where he thinks he belongs."

Well, there's a new one for you. One we'd never before heard advanced at a race track, but maybe brother Folkerts has something there after all. Maybe those post parades do give a horse an idea of where he belongs, and at the end of a race, he tries to keep himself in the proper position.

At any rate, watch Buckets next year at the track. His tickets won't have any 10, 11 or 12 figures on them. He'll be putting his change on the horses at the head of the procession and hoping that this horse psychology he has discovered will bring him a winner.

ORCHID CACTUS

People who have driven along Old Plum Grove rd. recently out there in the woods past Fred Kuester's place, have opened their eyes in amazement at the huge big orange-red blossoms that were blooming in his yard.

The plant which attracted a lot of interest and a lot of visitors is an orchid cactus and its big blossoms are larger than a tea cup.

It had over 100 blossoms this summer and was really a sensation.

Fred has had the plant for many years. It's set in a big tub and is left in the basement without any care during the winter and is placed out in the yard when the danger of frosts is over.

It's a hardy sort of thing, Fred says, and requires little attention.

One year he put it outdoors, and the hot sun scorched the leaves. A high wind blew it over and banged it around. Fred thought, "Here is the last of that old boy," and then in a few days he was surprised to see it was budding. A short time later it was in full bloom.

Fred has some younger plants of the same type which he thinks will be ready to bloom next year.

The orchid cactus is only one of many fine flower specimens that Fred grows. He is a farmer and gardener. He raises beautiful peonies and iris, luscious strawberries and right now has a fine crop of string beans and pickles just ready for canning or freezing.

An advance order will assure a customer of freshly picked produce right from the vine.

You'll find Fred's place out there on scenic Old Plum Grove rd. around the bend and down the hill, right in one of nature's natural beauty spots.

SURPRISE GARDENS

We have often seen surprise garden seed collections advertised and heard them promoted over the air, and we've wondered what sort of a mixed up mess of flowers they would produce.

Well, this season we found out. George Butler planted a package of those surprise flower seeds and he was interested in what would show up.

The seeds came up, and then George was kind of lost to know what kind of flowers they were going to be and which were flowers and which were weeds.

But at last those "surprise" flowers started to bloom and George has quite a collection of bright colored flowers.

There are poppies, cosmos, zinnia, Mexican zinnia, marigolds and many other varieties of flowers coming into bloom.

George is so well pleased with his surprise garden that he says that next year he is going to enlarge his surprise garden area. By then, with the education that he is getting as to which plants are which, he'll know what ones to leave and what weeds to pull up.

Interest in flowers is a great thing and it's never too late to begin being a flower lover.

Accent to be on youth at Wisc. fair

Lending their welcome smiles, their enthusiasm, and their talents, over 3,000 youths from every part of Badgerland will take part in activities at the Wisconsin State Fair in Milwaukee from August 18 through August 26, announces W. M. Masterson, assistant manager and director of the Junior Fair.

These Future Farmers, Future Homemakers and 4-H club members will bring their livestock to place on exhibition and to compete for their share of the $35,310 in prize awards. They will enjoy every fair activity and the ever pleasing task of meeting new and old friends.

THEY WILL SLEEP in the supervised dormitories in the Youth Building and will eat three properly balanced meals each day, meals that are prepared in newly remodeled kitchens. The first thousand will exhibit livestock and will come to the fair on Friday, August 17, remaining until Tuesday afternoon. The next group, composed largely of 4-H members will arrive Tuesday to take part in special programs and their own demonstration events. They will remain on the grounds until Friday. The third and final aggregation of FHA and FFA members will arrive Thursday and stay until the end of the fair.

Many new installations in the Youth Building will greet both the boys and girls and every visitor. There will be a milk testing booth where boys from all over Wisconsin will run a complete milk test every hour. In addition to completing the Babcock test, they will also explain the proper way to keep production records.

A FARM and Home Safety booth will portray the safe operation of machinery and home appliances. New clothing cases have been added to enlarge the display facilities of this department. An electricity booth has been constructed with the primary theme of showing better lighting for homes and other farm buildings.

Possibly the outstanding exhibit in the Youth Building will be the garden and food storage displays. These will start with a hot bed in the spring of the year and will point out the tools needed and the proper methods of gardening. The growing periods will be shown, along with the harvest, itself. Varieties of vegetables that should be frozen will be differentiated from those that had better be preserved. There will also be a complete basement storage room.

THE FOUR-ROOM modern home, an innovation originating a year ago, will be continued and girls will cook, bake and serve meals—"keeping house" in the kitchen, dining room, living room and utility room. This very popular exhibit also features a sewing corner in the dining room.

A new "backyard area" will feature toys and equipment that can readily be made for the children at home with the utilization of ordinary tools. There will be a sand box, "Jungle Jim," swings, trapeze and other play equipment. Youngsters will be allowed to have fun in this playground under the supervision of adult leaders.

Every youth in the Youth Building will be supervised by leaders and junior leaders.

County board orders close of garbage dump near Park Ridge

The Cook county zoning bureau was told by the county board Wednesday to issue a notice of violation against the gravel pit that is being used as a garbage dump south of Algonquin road, east of Dee road, and west of Park Ridge.

County commissioners had received a formal protest from the city of Park Ridge about the dump. Mrs. Elizabeth Conkey, chairman of the board's public service committee, then asked the county highway and health departments to investigate.

Last Tuesday George Quinlan, county superintendent of highways, reported to the board that no approved measures of disposal are being used at the pit and objectional material has been dumped in the hole. The chief sanitary engineer of the county health department agreed.

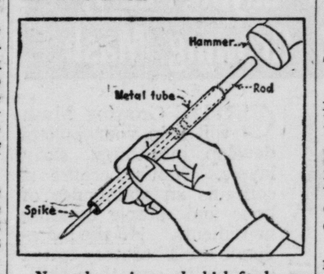

When the owners of the pit are served with the violation notice, they will either have to close the pit to further dumping or face prosecution on a nuisance charge. The board voted to send a copy of the decision to Park Ridge officials.

Commissioner Dan Ryan, chairman of the board's finance committee, says the problem of open garbage dumps will have to be met step by step by the board, but Mrs. Conkey's committee is going to consider ways and means of meeting the problem on a county-wide basis.

Hard Job Made Easy

DRIVING a nail into a hard-to-reach place is made simple by the use of the device illustrated. Simply use a short piece of metal tubing that is wide enough to accommodate the head of the nail to be driven.

Now take an iron rod which fits loosely in the tube. This rod should be square at both ends.

To use, place the nail in the tube followed by the rod. The nail can be driven into place readily by striking the rod with a hammer. — Illus., courtesy American Builder.

ICC delays decision on phone rate increase for Middle States

After hearing oral arguments, the Illinois Commerce commission Thursday took under advisement the petition by the Middle States Telephone company for an increase in its telephone rates.

The case, before the commission since last November 27, must be closed by October 26 as it is mandatory that the state utility board answer a plea within 11 months after filing.

Depending on the type of party line service, the rates would be increased, under the rate schedule sought by the company, from 25 cents to $1.85 a month on residential telephones and from 25 cents to $2.60 on business phones. In some cases this could amount to a 57 per cent rate increase.

The firm contends it needs the increase to restore its credit standing and financial stability and to expand its service.

Its maintenance costs have increased, since the company converted the Park Ridge and Des Plaines exchanges from manual to dial operation in May, 1950. Booth added that the maintainance costs have increased 140 per cent during that time.

Booth charged that "nearly all" company testimony was unreliable, based upon generalities, and full of conflicts. He termed one statement by Ross "scandalous."

ICC chairman Walter T. Fisher asked Booth exactly what statement that was and how it was scandalous. Booth then apologized for using the term.

However, Booth charged that the firm's inefficiency has resulted in higher operational costs for the company than for any other comparable phone company in the country.

At Booth's request, the commission earlier had extended to August 16 the time for filing of legal briefs in the rate dispute. The previous deadline for filing of briefs was August 2.

An appeal for a temporary increase by the company was denied last June 6 by the commission whereupon the firm asked for a permanent increase. Company officials have claimed the telephone system is now losing $1,000 a day.

ADLER PARK FUND PASSES $18,000 MARK

Contributions to the Adler Park fund passed the half-way mark this week, as new donations swelled the current total to $18,309.29, an increase of almost $1,000 over the previous figure of $17,325. Goal in the 1951 campaign is $35,000 to enable Libertyville to "make over" an estate into a municipal park.

Starling's cousin

In regard to the letter, "Help from the Starling" in last week's Herald:

A small bird called the cowbird is related to the starling. It is the cowbirds that flock near the cows, feeding on worms, caterpillars and ridding the field of parasites.

True, both birds are closely related, but let's not give the starlings credit for work done by their near cousins, the cowbirds.

Supply and demand

"The time has come" the Walrus said,
"To speak of many things.
Of ships and shoes and succotash
Of cabbages and kings" —
(Alice in Wonderland).

That's about what the versatile T. C. Hart does every week.

He speaks of the falling off in attendance at baseball games and other athletic events. Maybe there's a reason.

Now the supply of entertainment in late years, what with radio, night games and television, maybe the supply exceeds the demand. And so it goes. It's hard to collect subsidies from the customers like the bus companies are trying to do when business fails off.

Can You Tell Me...

How to Remove Dark Stain and Refinish in Light Oak?

I have two rooms that are finished with dark stain and varnish. I would like to remove the old finish and refinish in light oak, but I am not sure I can remove the old stain satisfactorily. If you think it possible, please advise me.

Remove the varnish with paint and varnish remover. Try to get as much of the stain off as possible while removing the varnish. When the surface is dry, bleach it with one of the prepared bleaches on the market. If you follow the manufacturer's directions you should be able to do a satisfactory job. After the surface has been bleached and has dried, apply one or two coats of thin shellac and follow this with a coat or two of varnish.

May we help solve your decorating problems?

The scores were 6-2, 6-3, 7-9, and 6-2. Helgeson had defeated Krambier and McElroy and dropped Irons in straight sets in the semi-finals. Twenty-one Palatine men competed in the tournament.

C. V. Baker new superintendent of Arlington school

June 25, 1937 — Announcement is made today of employment of C. V. Baker, assistant superintendent of schools of Park Ridge, as superintendent of schools in district number 25, Arlington Heights, to succeed the late D. Whitmore whose resignation was announced a few weeks ago.

Mr. Baker comes to Arlington Heights with a background of elementary school teaching and administration experience in Gurnee, Berwyn, and Park Ridge. For the past three years he has been assistant superintendent of Park Ridge elementary schools where his work as an educator and organizer was considered outstanding.

Pin ball machine operator offers Palatine twenty per cent cut

August 20, 1937—I. Ruttenberg, operator of various so-called pin ball machines that are operated for "amusement only" has instructed this paper to make a public offer to the village of Palatine of a twenty per cent cut on all machines that he is allowed to install within the village.

At present, so far as is publicly known, no cut for such machines is being made to any municipality in the northwest section of Cook county.

Mr. Ruttenberg was emphatic in his statement to the reporter that his machines should not be classed with gambling devices.

Schneberger gets additional police at $135 a month

June 25, 1937—In no uncertain words Monday evening, Alderman G. F. Schneberger made it plain that in his estimation the present number of police force is inadequate to properly police the town. He asked for and the board included in the appropriation ordinance, an item of $3,000 for additional police.

Mr. Schneberger was of the belief that two good men could be secured at about $135 each a month, which would permit full 24 hour service every day in the week with two men at special hours when they are needed.

A horse can't lie down for a peaceful little Sunday snooze anymore

September 10, 1937 — It's getting so that a horse can't lie down anymore without people getting anxious.

It all happened last Sunday morning when a solicitous Park Ridge man was driving north on Golf rd. At the Mobery farm, about a mile north of Algonquin rd., he saw a horse lying down.

Worried over the animal's welfare, he called the sheriff's police to investigate on the theory that the animal might have broken its leg and couldn't get up. Deputies Januszewski and Majewski responded.

The horse couldn't pronounce their names, so he got up and slowly walked away when they approached. And the farmer said the animal had pavement sores and it was good for it to lie down.

It's getting bad when a peaceful horse can't sleep late Sunday morning.

MOSQUITOES

About the largest topic of conversation for several weeks has been the mosquitoes.

We thought two years ago that we had a bad seige of them, but that epidemic was nothing to the hordes of pests that have spread all over everything this season.

In gardens, lawns, at the ball park, in fact about everywhere you go, the little pests greet you in great swarms.

At the ball game recently almost every fan was carrying along his bottle of mosquito dope. There were many varieties of the stuff, and if yours didn't seem to work, you could borrow some from your neighbor. There were anti-mosquito dope bottles all over the place.

Almost everyone was smoking, and a regular cloud of smoke rose over the stands.

This all helped some, but the blamed pests would rise out of the grass and weeds beneath the stands and sting you in unexpected places. Chuck Moore said the dope protected his arms all right, but that they bit him in the back.

Dick Welty's spraying with that little squirt gun didn't seem to do much good.

The way the pests grab a person anywhere makes it look as if Welty would have to spray the patrons all over instead of the grounds, or else he could rig up some sort of a dipping vat to run them through, the way they do down in the tick country to protect the cattle from ticks.

This is just about the worst mosquito invasion in the memories of the oldest of the old timers. Usually there is a little relief between broods, but this season there hasn't been any let up at all. Is this going to keep up until frost kills the pests, we wonder? If so, a lot of people who were anxious for summer to come will be hoping for an early frost.

The little pests have made life outdoors, especially in the evenings, anything but a pleasure.

4-H CLUB FAIR

There will be another big meeting at Arlington Park this week end, but it will be vastly different from the one which just closed a week ago.

This time, instead of fast running horses (or those that should be fast) dashing along that home stretch, there will be slow walking pigs, sheep, cows, calves and possibly a colt or two.

Under the huge stands in place of the mad rush of the betting ring, there will be a lot of people leisurely taking their time in looking over the exhibits of farm and garden produce, flowers and the big automobile show and commercial exhibits of household appliances and other gadgets useful on the farm.

For instead of a race meeting, this big gathering at Arlington Park will be the annual 4-H club fair of Cook county. The youngsters of the farms will show to the world that there is still a lot of farm land left in Cook county and that those farms produce some of the finest farm products in the land.

There will be big displays of poultry, cattle, sheep, hogs, etc. showing what the 4-H club members are doing in the raising of livestock.

There will be displays of vegetables and flowers showing what fine products the truck farms of the county can produce.

There will be many commercial displays by firms doing business with the farmers, and to top it all off there will be plenty of entertainment to keep the big crowds interested and happy.

It will be a farmers' fair, a young farmers' fair, showing what the farm youth of Cook county are doing for the public welfare.

And although it is primarily a farmers' fair, it will be plenty interesting to the folks from the towns and the cities. There will be thousands of them attending the fair to see what their "country cousins" are doing.

The big 4-H club fair opens Friday and continues through Sunday. It will be a great show and you'll enjoy it. Don't miss it. It's going to be both educational and entertaining.

SWEET PEAS

Once again Irene Mueller out there in Inverness has hit the jackpot this year with her sweet peas.

She has a row of beautiful profusely blooming sweet peas of many colors with big healthy blossoms and thrifty vines.

The growing of sweet peas in this area became pretty much of a lost art several years ago when the plant lice (aphis) began to infest the vines so badly that most people just gave up making any attempt to grow them.

Some sprayed with a nicotine spray that was too strong or wasn't washed off the vines in time and burned up their vines.

So a lot of people just gave up growing those beautiful flowers in disgust.

Strange as it may seem, Mrs. Mueller hasn't had any trouble with plant lice. She plants the seed early, as soon as the ground can be worked, late in March or early in April, and plants them in a deep trench.

As the plants grow, she adds a little soil around them so that the roots are deep in the ground where they will get plenty of moisture.

And for years her sweet peas have done very well, blooming from early spring until frost.

Of course she keeps the blossoms picked off as fast as they come. If allowed to go to seed, the vines would stop blooming in a hurry.

After seeing those beautiful sweet peas of Mrs. Mueller's we are tempted to try to grow some again ourselves

We used to grow a lot of them before the aphis invasion, and we haven't seen many of them since, but if Inverness can grow sweet peas so can Palatine, and we're going to try to prove it next year.

YOUNGSTER SOFTBALL

If you want to see some real softball played by players who really put their hearts in the game, you should watch some of the games played by the youngsters of the park district teams.

There was a game the other night bewteen "the intermediates," boys of the fifth, sixth and seventh grades, and Barrington that was a real thriller.

The local boys lost the game, but it was a beauty all the way. The pep and enthusiasm that those youngsters put into their play was really refreshing.

They made sparkling plays; they knew what to do with the ball when they got it, and they were on their toes every minute of the game.

Sure, they made some errors, but what ball players don't? Those green youngsters didn't make nearly as many as we have seen made by some of the seasoned big leaguers.

It was really fun to watch them, more fun than watching a "big" game.

The thing that surprised us was that there weren't more parents and friends of the kids in the stands to cheer them.

We've seen the days when the parents and all their friends would turn out whenever the youngsters played and would follow them to other towns.

But times aren't what they used to be, and neither apparently is the interest of the parents in the activities of the youngsters.

PSYCHOLOGY

Charley Folkerts is firmly convinced that there is a psychology about horse racing and that psychology is not applied by the owners, trainers or jockeys, but by the horses themselves.

"Buckets" sat in the stand one day at Arlington Park intently watching a parade to the post.

Suddenly he burst out with, "Now I know why all those front runners I've been betting on come in last or nearly last. There's one of them. He's last in the post parade, and when they get off, he'll get out in front. Then when they hit the stretch turn, he'll get to thinking, "What am I doing way out here in front. I don't belong here. Those other horses ought to be ahead of me." And he'll slow up and let them go past him. Then he'll come trailing in last where he thinks he belongs."

Well, there's a new one for you. One we'd never before heard advanced at a race track, but maybe brother Folkerts has something there after all. Maybe those post parades do give a horse an idea of where he belongs, and at the end of a race, he tries to keep himself in the proper position.

At any rate, watch Buckets next year at the track. His tickets won't have any 10, 11 or 12 figures on them. He'll be putting his change on the horses at the head of the procession and hoping that this horse psychology he has discovered will bring him a winner.

ORCHID CACTUS

People who have driven along Old Plum Grove rd. recently out there in the woods past Fred Kuester's place, have opened their eyes in amazement at the huge big orange-red blossoms that were blooming in his yard.

The plant which attracted a lot of interest and a lot of visitors is an orchid cactus and its big blossoms are larger than a tea cup.

It had over 100 blossoms this summer and was really a sensation.

Fred has had the plant for many years. It's set in a big tub and is left in the basement without any care during the winter and is placed out in the yard when the danger of frosts is over.

It's a hardy sort of thing, Fred says, and requires little attention.

One year he put it outdoors, and the hot sun scorched the leaves. A high wind blew it over and banged it around. Fred thought, "Here is the last of that old boy," and then in a few days he was surprised to see it was budding. A short time later it was in full bloom.

Fred has some younger plants of the same type which he thinks will be ready to bloom next year.

The orchid cactus is only one of many fine flower specimens that Fred grows. He is a farmer and gardener. He raises beautiful peonies and iris, luscious strawberries and right now has a fine crop of string beans and pickles just ready for canning or freezing.

An advance order will assure a customer of freshly picked produce right from the vine.

You'll find Fred's place out there on scenic Old Plum Grove rd. around the bend and down the hill, right in one of nature's natural beauty spots.

SURPRISE GARDENS

We have often seen surprise garden seed collections advertised and heard them promoted over the air, and we've wondered what sort of a mixed up mess of flowers they would produce.

Well, this season we found out. George Butler planted a package of those surprise flower seeds and he was interested in what would show up.

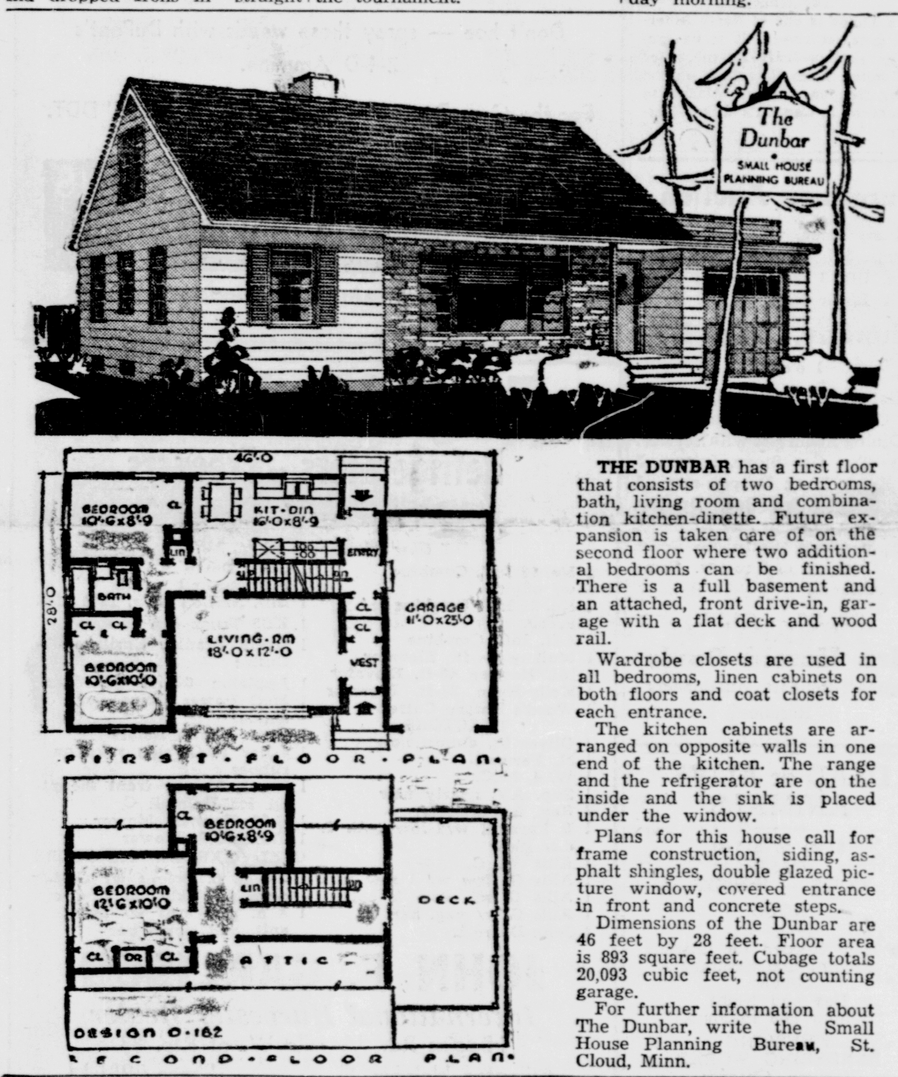

The seeds came up, and then George was kind of lost to know what kind of flowers they were going to be and which were flowers and which were weeds.

But at last those "surprise" flowers started to bloom and George has quite a collection of bright colored flowers.

There are poppies, cosmos, zinnia, Mexican zinnia, marigolds and many other varieties of flowers coming into bloom.

George is so well pleased with his surprise garden that he says that next year he is going to enlarge his surprise garden area. By then, with the education that he is getting as to which plants are which, he'll know what ones to leave and what weeds to pull up.

Interest in flowers is a great thing and it's never too late to begin being a flower lover.

THE DUNBAR has a first floor that consists of two bedrooms, bath, living room and combination kitchen-dinette. Future expansion is taken care of on the second floor where two additional bedrooms can be finished. There is a full basement and an attached, front drive-in, garage with a flat deck and wood rail.

Wardrobe closets are used in all bedrooms, linen cabinets on both floors and coat closets for each entrance.

The kitchen cabinets are arranged on opposite walls in one end of the kitchen. The range and the refrigerator are on the inside and the sink is placed under the window.

Plans for this house call for frame construction, siding, asphalt shingles, double glazed picture window, covered entrance in front and concrete steps.

Dimensions of the Dunbar are 46 feet by 28 feet. Floor area is 893 square feet. Cubage totals 20,093 cubic feet, not counting garage.

For further information about The Dunbar, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

About this time of the year, school kids are beginning to grow fidgety and cast longing eyes in the direction of the old school house. Vacation time, which had been looked forward to as a glorious time of freedom, and has by now grown to be just as tiresome and boring as the continuous round of lessons, perhaps more so, is nearly past. The boys are eager to don their freshly cleaned and repaired football togs, and go out on the fields to emerge, after a few evening of practice, with torn and soiled gear made pleasingly fragrant by the strong smell of perspiration.

All of the girls are thinking about dates, new dresses, dances, basketball and track. They long for the exciting competition for dates with the handsomest and most manly men in the school. Before long you will hear them discussing their conquests with varying degrees from utter disdain to worshipful adoration.

It will be routine once more, but it will mean places to be at certain times, something to do, the reopening of a world of gossip about "him and her." One will hear phrases, long since become cliches, such as "I don't see what He sees in Her, SHE's nothing but a cat," and "He's such a goof, or smoe," and so on. Teachers will come in for their share of criticism, abuse and praise.

But all of this routine of school will gradually impress upon the minds of these ganging, silly young live wires the impressive fact that life without planning is nothing but boredom. And that to be most happy, one must be busy all of the time in a life of balanced play and work. Life without routine, without time planned and utilized, is miserable.

For years I have watched children grow up, and there has always been a warm spot in my heart for them in their moments of exhilarating joy, extreme depression, their dreams and plans and hopes. A young person reminds me of a vine climbing a trellis. They reach out, and twist, and turn, until at last they find the firm foundations of truth to which they can cling and continue to grope upwards toward the light to new heights of attainment. When they have reached the top, their growing buds unfold, and behold! The flowering of youth on the trellis of life!

School is a trellis upon which to train the youth's ever inquiring, ever outreaching curiosity for life. What a child is or will become depends upon the foundation of that trellis, which is in the home, and the structure upon which it leans so heavily, the school.

Brides-to-be

Prevent Mastitis

Proper ventilation without drafts in the barn is essential in keeping cows' udders healthy. A barn door or window left open can seriously chill an udder, with mastitis resulting.

Weekly recipe

This week I want to have two new recipes for icing. As you read them, you will probably think they're surprising, but I assure you, they will be surprisingly good. Both recipes are easy to make.

Butter Cream Icing

4 cups brown sugar
2 tbspns. butter
2 cups butter cream (soured milk)

Method: Combine all ingredients and cook until it reaches the soft ball stage (drop in cold water-forms a soft ball) — remove from heat and beat until creamy and the right consistency to spread over cake.

Cottage Cheese Icing

2 cups powdered sugar
¼ tsp. salt
½ tsp. vanilla
Cottage cheese

Method: Sift sugar — add salt and vanilla. Add sufficient cottage cheese (approximately three tablespoons) to make a creamy consistency. Beat very well. Cocoa may be added or any desired flavoring.

In the future

A new machine for mass mailing that will collate, envelope, imprint, stamp, address or label 50 to 100 mailing pieces a minute . . . A razor blade made of glass, said to have a sharper cutting edge and to be more economical than conventional steel blades, has been awarded a patent . . . A lamp made as an integral part of a TV set, designed to produce "diffused lighting" has been put on the market . . . A lap-sized board for solitaire card games, with pockets for each row of cards . . . A liquid drain cleaner, claimed to be non-caustic and unharmful to children or pets . . . A squeeze-bottle packaging device that dissolves the gummy residue of adhesive tapes.

Accent to be on youth at Wisc. fair

Lending their welcome smiles, their enthusiasm, and their talents, over 3,000 youths from every part of Badgerland will take part in activities at the Wisconsin State Fair in Milwaukee from August 18 through August 26, announces W. M. Masterson, assistant manager and director of the Junior Fair.

These Future Farmers, Future Homemakers and 4-H club members will bring their livestock to place on exhibition and to compete for their share of the $35,310 in prize awards. They will enjoy every fair activity and the ever pleasing task of meeting new and old friends.

THEY WILL SLEEP in the supervised dormitories in the Youth Building and will eat three properly balanced meals each day, meals that are prepared in newly remodeled kitchens. The first thousand will exhibit livestock and will come to the fair on Friday, August 17, remaining until Tuesday afternoon. The next group, composed largely of 4-H members will arrive Tuesday to take part in special programs and their own demonstration events. They will remain on the grounds until Friday. The third and final aggregation of FHA and FFA members will arrive Thursday and stay until the end of the fair.

Many new installations in the Youth Building will greet both the boys and girls and every visitor. There will be a milk testing booth where boys from all over Wisconsin will run a complete milk test every hour. In addition to completing the Babcock test, they will also explain the proper way to keep production records.

A FARM and Home Safety booth will portray the safe operation of machinery and home appliances. New clothing cases have been added to enlarge the display facilities of this department. An electricity booth has been constructed with the primary theme of showing better lighting for homes and other farm buildings.

Possibly the outstanding exhibit in the Youth Building will be the garden and food storage displays. These will start with a hot bed in the spring of the year and will point out the tools needed and the proper methods of gardening. The growing periods will be shown, along with the harvest, itself. Varieties of vegetables that should be frozen will be differentiated from those that had better be preserved. There will also be a complete basement storage room.

THE FOUR-ROOM modern home, an innovation originating a year ago, will be continued and girls will cook, bake and serve meals—"keeping house" in the kitchen, dining room, living room and utility room. This very popular exhibit also features a sewing corner in the dining room.

A new "backyard area" will feature toys and equipment that can readily be made for the children at home with the utilization of ordinary tools. There will be a sand box, "Jungle Jim," swings, trapeze and other play equipment. Youngsters will be allowed to have fun in this playground under the supervision of adult leaders.

Every youth in the Youth Building will be supervised by leaders and junior leaders.

County board orders close of garbage dump near Park Ridge

The Cook county zoning bureau was told by the county board Wednesday to issue a notice of violation against the gravel pit that is being used as a garbage dump south of Algonquin road, east of Dee road, and west of Park Ridge.

County commissioners had received a formal protest from the city of Park Ridge about the dump. Mrs. Elizabeth Conkey, chairman of the board's public service committee, then asked the county highway and health departments to investigate.

Last Tuesday George Quinlan, county superintendent of highways, reported to the board that no approved measures of disposal are being used at the pit and objectional material has been dumped in the hole. The chief sanitary engineer of the county health department agreed.

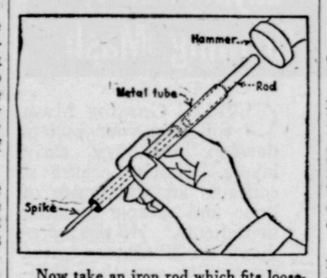

When the owners of the pit are served with the violation notice, they will either have to close the pit to further dumping or face prosecution on a nuisance charge. The board voted to send a copy of the decision to Park Ridge officials.

Commissioner Dan Ryan, chairman of the board's finance committee, says the problem of open garbage dumps will have to be met step by step by the board, but Mrs. Conkey's committee is going to consider ways and means of meeting the problem on a county-wide basis.

Hard Job Made Easy

DRIVING a nail into a hard-to-reach place is made simple by the use of the device illustrated. Simply use a short piece of metal tubing that is wide enough to accommodate the head of the nail to be driven.

Now take an iron rod which fits loosely in the tube. This rod should be square at both ends.

To use, place the nail in the tube followed by the rod. The nail can be driven into place readily by striking the rod with a hammer. — Illus., courtesy American Builder.

ICC delays decision on phone rate increase for Middle States

After hearing oral arguments, the Illinois Commerce commission Thursday took under advisement the petition by the Middle States Telephone company for an increase in its telephone rates.

The case, before the commission since last November 27, must be closed by October 26 as it is mandatory that the state utility board answer a plea within 11 months after filing.

Depending on the type of party line service, the rates would be increased, under the rate schedule sought by the company, from 25 cents to $1.85 a month on residential telephones and from 25 cents to $2.60 on business phones. In some cases this could amount to a 57 per cent rate increase.

The firm contends it needs the increase to restore its credit standing and financial stability and to expand its service.

Its maintenance costs have increased, since the company converted the Park Ridge and Des Plaines exchanges from manual to dial operation in May, 1950. Booth added that the maintainance costs have increased 140 per cent during that time.

Booth charged that "nearly all" company testimony was unreliable, based upon generalities, and full of conflicts. He termed one statement by Ross "scandalous."

ICC chairman Walter T. Fisher asked Booth exactly what statement that was and how it was scandalous. Booth then apologized for using the term.

However, Booth charged that the firm's inefficiency has resulted in higher operational costs for the company than for any other comparable phone company in the country.

At Booth's request, the commission earlier had extended to August 16 the time for filing of legal briefs in the rate dispute. The previous deadline for filing of briefs was August 2.

An appeal for a temporary increase by the company was denied last June 6 by the commission whereupon the firm asked for a permanent increase. Company officials have claimed the telephone system is now losing $1,000 a day.

ADLER PARK FUND PASSES $18,000 MARK

Contributions to the Adler Park fund passed the half-way mark this week, as new donations swelled the current total to $18,309.29, an increase of almost $1,000 over the previous figure of $17,325. Goal in the 1951 campaign is $35,000 to enable Libertyville to "make over" an estate into a municipal park.

Starling's cousin

In regard to the letter, "Help from the Starling" in last week's Herald:

A small bird called the cowbird is related to the starling. It is the cowbirds that flock near the cows, feeding on worms, caterpillars and ridding the field of parasites.

True, both birds are closely related, but let's not give the starlings credit for work done by their near cousins, the cowbirds.

Supply and demand

"The time has come" the Walrus said,
"To speak of many things.
Of ships and shoes and succotash
Of cabbages and kings" —
(Alice in Wonderland).

That's about what the versatile T. C. Hart does every week.

He speaks of the falling off in attendance at baseball games and other athletic events. Maybe there's a reason.

Now the supply of entertainment in late years, what with radio, night games and television, maybe the supply exceeds the demand. And so it goes. It's hard to collect subsidies from the customers like the bus companies are trying to do when business falls off.

Can You Tell Me...

How to Remove Dark Stain and Refinish in Light Oak?

I have two rooms that are finished with dark stain and varnish. I would like to remove the old finish and refinish in light oak, but I am not sure I can remove the old stain satisfactorily. If you think it possible, please advise me.

Remove the varnish with paint and varnish remover. Try to get as much of the stain off as possible while removing the varnish. When the surface is dry, bleach it with one of the prepared bleaches on the market. If you follow the manufacturer's directions you should be able to do a satisfactory job. After the surface has been bleached and has dried, apply one or two coats of thin shellac and follow this with a coat or two of varnish.

May we help solve your decorating problems?

Corn borer service bulletin

This is the eleventh of a series of weekly bulletins on corn borer development, seasonal progress, and control recommendations prepared by entomologists of the Illinois Natural History Survey and cooperating agencies.

General Observations. The second moth flight is well underway in southern Illinois and may be at its peak in a week or ten days. A few fresh egg masses can now be found on late corn as far north as Decatur and Springfield.

In central Illinois pupation ranges between 40 to 60 per cent in early sweet corn and 10 to 30 per cent in field corn. A few moths are in flight and rather heavy flights and some egg laying may be expected in about a week.

In the northern two tiers of counties most of the borers are in the fourth and fifth stages and pupation in some early fields ranges between 2 and 12 per cent.

With a continuation of the present warm to hot weather predicted for another week or two, pupation is expected to be high and it is very likely the second generation will be appreciably higher than last year.

Market garden corn in southern Illinois should be sprayed to protect it from corn borer and corn earworm from now on out. Late market and canning corn in northern Illinois may need protection soon after August 15.

We shall have another report on corn borers at the same time next week. Watch this space, then for the next up-to-the-minute report of the progress of the corn borer and suggestions on the proper timing and application and sprays and dusts. This report was prepared by G. C. Decker, Illinois Natural History Survey, in cooperation with the University of Illinois College of Agriculture and the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine.

Pullorum in poultry being whipped here

Better stock resulting from better business for poultrymen is the main achievement of the National Poultry Improvement Plan, a University of Illinois veterinarian said.

Dr. J. O. Alberts says the plan, started in 1935, has put the poultry business "on an economically sound basis largely by helping poultry men ship pullorum disease." With increased livability of poultry flocks, flock owners have gone in for better stock.

REFLECTING this rise in quality of stock is the greatly increased egg production United States poultrymen enjoy today. In the past 25 years there has been 40 per cent increase, and much of it has come since the improvement plan was started 15 years ago.

"Poultry is no longer a minor enterprise delegated to the farmer's wife," Dr. Alberts says. "Illinois is now first in incubator capacity in the forty-seven states participating in the plan, and second in the number of chicks hatched."

OF THE 243 Illinois hatcheries doing business in 1950, 24 had pullorum-clean ratings, 175 were rated pullorum-passed and 44 were pullorum-controlled. "Pullorum-clean" means that there were no reactors. "Pullorum-passed" means no reactors were found on the last test, and "pullorum-controlled" indicates less than 2 per cent reactors on the last test.

Dr. Alberts believes more hatcheries will get "clean" ratings as poultry raisers learn more about pullorum and insist on chicks from pullorum-clean hatcheries.

Feeder pig sale at St. Charles Friday

A large feeder pig sale is scheduled for this Friday night, August 10, at the St. Charles livestock center, two miles west of St. Charles on rte. 64. The exclusive pig sale is being put on by Postma Brothers of Elgin, with Col. G. C. Baker auctioneer, and H. Schnadt of Bartlett clerk. Weights of the pigs will be 50-140 pounds, with sale starting at 7 p. m., daylight saving time.

Farm safety year-round job

Farm safety is a year-around job 365 days of the year.

That's the urgent appeal of safety specialists in the Illinois College of Agriculture today as National Farm Safety Week ends.

Almost every day you read about accidents like these reported recently in newspapers.

A FARMER ran into a wire clothesline while driving a tractor and cut his eye.

A farm wife suffered minor burns on her legs while she was cleaning overalls with gasoline in the basement and the fumes exploded. Her husband beat out the flames with his hands. Luckily the only other damage on the concrete basement floor was from smoke.

In another case a farmer's tractor and disk went out of control on a soft shoulder of the highway. The man was thrown to the ground and one wheel of the tractor rolled over his shoulder. Fortunately he was only severely bruised.

THESE ARE only three examples. But think of the trouble they caused and how much more serious they might have been.

You'll be saving yourself trouble, expense and lost work time if you're careful 365 days a year. It's to your own advantage.

Farm investment $45,000 per man

What do you think is the total investment by the average Illinois farmer for each full-time worker—$5,000, $35,000, $75,000, or even higher? Chances are your guess is low.

The answer is $45,000, according to F. J. Reiss, farm management specialist in the Illinois College of Agriculture. He believes few people realize the large investment which farmers need to run their food production business.

THAT $45,000 is the average actual value of land, buildings, machinery and equipment for each full-time man, including working members of the family, on 282 east-central grain farms for 1950.

This investment per man by farmers is more than three times larger than the $12,500 investment per employee advertised by industry.

On beef, swine, dairy and general farms, the investment in land, buildings, machinery and equipment runs about $35,000 per full-time man. This figure does not include the investment in feed and livestock.

REISS EXPLAINS that at a recent visitors' day at the College of Agriculture 208 persons each made a guess as to investment made per full-time man by Illinois farmers. Their guessses average $32,000, or $13,000 below the actual amount. The guesses ranged all the way from a mere $2,000 to $150,000 per man. Four out of five guessed below the actual $45,000 figure.

Red spider mites damage green windbreaks

Watch out for red spider mite damage in your evergreen windbreak during periods of hot, dry weather.

Gordon R. Cunningham, extension forester at the Illinois College of Agriculture, says these little mites are extremely destructive to newly planted evergreens. But they will also injure established trees during drouthy weather.

RED SPIDER mites are dangerous because they multiply so rapidly. Their short life cycle—12 to 14 days—permits many broods to hatch during a dry summer. Wet, cool weather tends to keep them under control.

You can check for red spider mites by holding a white sheet of paper under a branch of your evergreens and striking the branch sharply. You will be able to see the mites as tiny red, yellow or black specks moving about on the paper. They are about one-fourth the size of the period at the end of this sentence.

NEEDLES injured by the mites turn gray or brown, and many drop off. Both needles and trunk of tree may be covered with silk strands or webs. If the infestation is severe enough, the tree is weakened or killed.

Control is simple, Cunningham says. If you have water under pressure, all you have to do is turn a hose on the trees and wash them off with a stream of water. This treatment is effective for two or one week. Or you can spray with specific "miticides" which you can buy under various trade names from reputable manufacturers.

Powder no good for preventing hay spoilage

Sodium bicarbonate may soothe a headache or upset stomach, but it's no good for preventing spoilage in high-moisture alfalfa.

That's the conclusion of J. H. Ramser, hay drying specialist, and K. A. Kendall, dairy feeding specialist, both from the Illinois College of Agriculture.

They've received many questions about whether various powdered preparations will prevent moist hay from spoiling during storage. So they tested a common one and found that it was n oeffetcit InweldN ..... was not effective in preventing mold in alfalfa with 32 per cent moisture.

IN THE TEST they used a powder containing over 85 per cent ordinary baking soda and over 12 per cent calcium carbonate. They put it on alfalfa cut in early-bloom stage which had been windrowed, field-chopped and stored for two weeks in air-tight wood stave silos 4x10 feet in size with open tops.

They left one silo untreated, applied the recommended 5 pounds per ton to another and 10 pounds to a third.

When the silos were opened, all the hay was brownish in color and was considered very poor quality. The upper four feet and a strip one inch thick all around the sides, from top to bottom, were badly molded. The rest had no visible mold but was fermented and unfit for feeding.

RAMSER EXPLAINS that any effect of the powder in preserving the forage should have shown up plainly because of the method of testing. But even with double the recommended amount, the sodium bicarbonate powder failed to stop spoilage.

The Yukon

The Yukon is one of North America's greatest rivers. It is navigable by shallow-draft steamers for 1,777 miles, from its mouth on the Bering Sea in western Alaska to Whitehorse in Canada's Yukon Territory.

Corn borer service bulletin

This is the eleventh of a series of weekly bulletins on corn borer development, seasonal progress, and control recommendations prepared by entomologists of the Illinois Natural History Survey and cooperating agencies.

General Observations. The second moth flight is well underway in southern Illinois and may be at its peak in a week or ten days. A few fresh egg masses can now be found on late corn as far north as Decatur and Springfield.

In central Illinois pupation ranges between 40 to 60 per cent in early sweet corn and 10 to 30 per cent in field corn. A few moths are in flight and rather heavy flights and some egg laying may be expected in about a week.

In the northern two tiers of counties most of the borers are in the fourth and fifth stages and pupation in some early fields ranges between 2 and 12 per cent.

With a continuation of the present warm to hot weather predicted for another week or two, pupation is expected to be high and it is very likely the second generation will be appreciably higher than last year.

Market garden corn in southern Illinois should be sprayed to protect it from corn borer and corn earworm from now on out. Late market and canning corn in northern Illinois may need protection soon after August 15.

We shall have another report on corn borers at the same time next week. Watch this space, then for the next up-to-the-minute report of the progress of the corn borer and suggestions on the proper timing and application and sprays and dusts. This report was prepared by G. C. Decker, Illinois Natural History Survey, in cooperation with the University of Illinois College of Agriculture and the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine.

Pullorum in poultry being whipped here

Better stock resulting from better business for poultrymen is the main achievement of the National Poultry Improvement Plan, a University of Illinois veterinarian said.

Dr. J. O. Alberts says the plan, started in 1935, has put the poultry business "on an economically sound basis largely by helping poultry men ship pullorum disease." With increased livability of poultry flocks, flock owners have gone in for better stock.

REFLECTING this rise in quality of stock is the greatly increased egg production United States poultrymen enjoy today. In the past 25 years there has been 40 per cent increase, and much of it has come since the improvement plan was started 15 years ago.

"Poultry is no longer a minor enterprise delegated to the farmer's wife," Dr. Alberts says. "Illinois is now first in incubator capacity in the forty-seven states participating in the plan, and second in the number of chicks hatched."

OF THE 243 Illinois hatcheries doing business in 1950, 24 had pullorum-clean ratings, 175 were rated pullorum-passed and 44 were pullorum-controlled. "Pullorum-clean" means that there were no reactors, "Pullorum-passed" means no reactors were found on the last test, and "pullorum-controlled" indicates less than 2 per cent reactors on the last test.

Dr. Alberts believes more hatcheries will get "clean" ratings as poultry raisers learn more about pullorum and insist on chicks from pullorum-clean hatcheries.

Feeder pig sale at St. Charles Friday

A large feeder pig sale is scheduled for this Friday night, August 10, at the St. Charles livestock center, two miles west of St. Charles on rte. 64. The exclusive pig sale is being put on by Postma Brothers of Elgin, with Col. G. C. Baker auctioneer, and H. Schnadt of Bartlett clerk. Weights of the pigs will be 50-140 pounds, with sale starting at 7 p. m., daylight saving time.

Farm safety year-round job

Farm safety is a year-around job 365 days of the year.

That's the urgent appeal of safety specialists in the Illinois College of Agriculture today as National Farm Safety Week ends.

Almost every day you read about accidents like these reported recently in newspapers.

A FARMER ran into a wire clothesline while driving a tractor and cut his eye.

A farm wife suffered minor burns on her legs while she was cleaning overalls with gasoline in the basement and the fumes exploded. Her husband beat out the flames with his hands. Luckily the only other damage on the concrete basement floor was from smoke.

In another case a farmer's tractor and disk went out of control on a soft shoulder of the highway. The man was thrown to the ground and one wheel of the tractor rolled over his shoulder. Fortunately he was only severely bruised.

THESE ARE only three examples. But think of the trouble they caused and how much more serious they might have been.

You'll be saving yourself trouble, expense and lost work time if you're careful 365 days a year. It's to your own advantage.

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "If anybody thinks it is true, they are wrong." Say, "If anybody thinks it is true, he is wrong."

Do not say, "My husband would have come, only he was too busy." Say, "but he was too busy."

Do not say, "He said for you to deliver this message." Say, "He said that you should deliver this message."

Avoid the use of "party" in the sense of a "person." Leave the word "party" to the legal documents and the telephone operators. Not, "Have you heard from that party yet?" Instead, say, "Have you heard from that person yet?"

Do not say, "Do not blame the error on us." It is better to say, "Do not blame us for the error."

Do not say, "She speaks with a slow drawl." This is a redundancy, and "slow" should be omitted.

Indispensable; absolutely necessary. "His services are indispensable."

Demonstrable; that can be made evident; capable of proof. (Accent second syllable). "These things which I have told you are demonstrable."

Embryonic; undeveloped. "The business is still in the embryonic state."

Squalid; dirty through neglect. "The family was found in squalid distress."

Peremptory; taking away a right of action, debate, etc.; conclusive. "The officer's peremptory command was obeyed."

Incipiency; beginning; commencement. "The disease w ; in its incipiency."

Irish to have day Aug. 15 at Riverview

"Our Lady Day in Harvest" will be observed in the tradition of the great Irish feast day Wednesday, August 15, when Chicago's annual Irish Day will be held in the picnic grove at Riverview, 3300 N. Western ave. The program will follow the pattern of the observance of the day each year in Ireland where the clans turn out to pay homage to the Blessed Virgin in thanksgiving for fountiful crops and other favors granted during the harvest.

The spiritual highlight will be a solumn high mass to be celebrated Wednesday morning at 9:30 in Holy Name Cathedral.

Proceeds of the outing will go to the Stritch School of Medicine and the American League for Undivided Ireland.

Lessons In .... English

by W. L. GORDON

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "If anybody thinks it is true, they are wrong." Say, "If anybody thinks it is true, he is wrong."

Do not say, "My husband would have come, only he was too busy." Say, "but he was too busy."

Do not say, "He said for you to deliver this message." Say, "He said that you should deliver this message."

Avoid the use of "party" in the sense of a "person." Leave the word "party" to the legal documents and the telephone operators. Not, "Have you heard from that party yet?" Instead, say, "Have you heard from that person yet?"

Do not say, "Do not blame the error on us." It is better to say, "Do not blame us for the error."

Do not say, "She speaks with a slow drawl." This is a redundancy, and "slow" should be omitted.

Words Often Mispronounced

Cache. Pronounce as though spelled cash.

Paramour. Pronounce par-a-moor, both a's as in at (second a unstressed), oo as in look, accent first syllable.

Diocese. Pronounce di-o-ses, i as in die, o as in no, e as in see, accent first syllable.

Melee. Pronounce as may-lay, accent on second syllable.

Detonate. Pronounce det-o-nat, e as in debt, o as in no unstressed, a as in ate, accent first syllable.

Hosiery. Pronounce ho-zher-i, not ho-zer-i.

Words Often Misspelled

Lightning (flash of light); lightening (relieving of weight). Heinous, although pronounced hay-nus. Millennium; observe the two l's and the two n's. Battalion; two t's, only one l; medallion; one d, and two l's. Misstatement; two s's. Encumbrance; not encumberance.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Indispensable; absolutely necessary. "His services are indispensable."

Demonstrable; that can be made evident; capable of proof. (Accent second syllable). "These things which I have told you are demonstrable."

Embryonic; undeveloped. "The business is still in the embryonic state."

Squalid; dirty through neglect. "The family was found in squalid distress."

Peremptory; taking away a right of action, debate, etc.; conclusive. "The officer's peremptory command was obeyed."

Incipiency; beginning; commencement. "The disease w ; in its incipiency."

Irish to have day Aug. 15 at Riverview

"Our Lady Day in Harvest" will be observed in the tradition of the great Irish feast day Wednesday, August 15, when Chicago's annual Irish Day will be held in the picnic grove at Riverview, 3300 N. Western ave. The program will follow the pattern of the observance of the day each year in Ireland where the clans turn out to pay homage to the Blessed Virgin in thanksgiving for fountiful crops and other favors granted during the harvest.

The spiritual highlight will be a solumn high mass to be celebrated Wednesday morning at 9:30 in Holy Name Cathedral.

Proceeds of the outing will go to the Stritch School of Medicine and the American League for Undivided Ireland.

Counter-Balance

The President can veto laws enacted by Congress, and his veto can be overridden only by a two thirds vote of each House.

Ronald Knollmueller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Knollmueller of 507 Elmhurst rd., Prospect Heights, received his wings in July after three week's intensive training as paratrooper at Bennington, Ga. He has now been transferred back to Camp Campbell, Ky.

In Caribbean

Midshipman Paul E. Ransdall, USNROTC, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Ransdell of 1010 N. Chicago ave., Arlington Heights, a student at the University of Illinois, Urbana, departed from Norfolk, Va., August 3 on a one-month cruise to U. S. and Caribbean ports. The cruise is part of the Navy's annual summer training program for reserve officer candidates.

The cruises provide "on-the-job" experience in all phases of Navy shipboard operations each summer for more than 9,000 U. S. Naval Academy and NROTC midshipmen from colleges and universities throughout the nation.

Five ships of the Atlantic Fleet, including the battleship USS Missouri, make up the training squadron that will visit New York, Colon, Panama, and Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Home from Korea

Pvt. Robert L. Lamping of Arlington Heights arrived in Seattle Friday aboard the troop ship General Miegs, after 27 months overseas including Korea.

Bob enlisted at 16½ years of age, going into service in November, 1948. He trained at Camp Breckenridge, Ky., and Camp Stoneman, Calif., before leaving for Japan in May of '49.

Bob is expected home this week on rotation furlough at 227 Williams st., Arlington Crest subdivision. The oldest of ten children, Bob attended Lane technical high school in Chicago and went into the army prior to his parents moving to this area.

In Missouri

Private Elmer Milka, son of Mr. Vincent Milka, Route 1, Arlington Heights, recently completed a 14-week training cycle at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. with a unit of the 6th Armored Division.

As a trainee, he received six weeks basic training in the fundamentals of Army life and the use of infantry weapons. He is now completing an additional eight weeks engineer training. Competent instructors are teaching him the use of pioneer and power tools, construction of fixed and floating bridges and related subjects besides additional combat skills.

At the end of the 14-week training cycle with the famed "Super Sixth," the men completing training here will be sent either to specialist schools or sent as replacements to other units.

In California

Robert Wolf of Mt. Prospect returned by plane to the naval air station at Alameda, California Monday night after spending a ten day leave at home with his mother, Mrs. Lilian Wolf, 208 S. Evergreen street.

He will board ship with his mates in August to join the Atlantic fleet, going by way of the Panama canal and the Carribbean sea.

Bob has been in the naval reserve three years. Fighter squadron 728 to which he was attached at Glenview air station was activated February 1, moving to Alameda April 1.

His address is S1c Robert Wolf, NAS 728, Alameda, Calif.

In Caribbean

Midshipman Kenneth A. Rash, USNROTC, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Rash Jr., of 19 S. William st., Mt. Prospect, a student at Northwestern university, Evanston, departed from Norfolk, Va., August 3, on a one-month cruise to U. S. and Carribbean ports. The cruise is part of the Navy's annual summer training program for reserve officer candidates.

Resident actors starred at Chevy Chase this week

Climaxing two years as the most popular supporting player in the resident company at the Chevy Chase Summer theater near Wheeling, the veteran character actress, Ilka Diehl, is this week being starred in "The Man," supported by Patrick O'Neal and Arline Kropp.

Miss Diehl, whose many years on the legitimate stage and in radio and motion pictures have taken her around the world, portrays an elderly woman whose life is threatened by a dangerous psychopath (Mr. O'Neal) whom she has hired as a handyman at her home.

Mr. O'Neal, resident leading man at Chevy Chase this season, has attracted sufficient favorable comment and attention by his work that he has been signed for a screen test by Columbia following the conclusion of his current contract.

"The Man," billed as a mystery-suspense chiller, will play through Sunday at Chevy Chase, with matinee and evening performances Sunday, and will be followed next Tuesday by Glenda Farrell, starring in "The Fatal Weakness."

The Chevy Chase management has announced that the theater's production last week (Joan Blondell in "Come Back Little Sheba") has broken all records, not only for Chevy Chase but for the entire country in summer theater attendance.

Resident actors starred at Chevy Chase this week

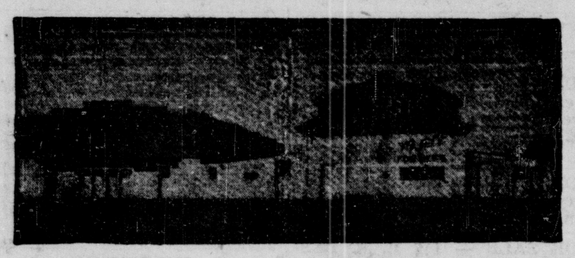

Climaxing two years as the most popular supporting player in the resident company at the Chevy Chase Summer theater near Wheeling, the veteran character actress, Ilka Diehl, is this week being starred in "The Man," supported by Patrick O'Neal and Arline Kropp.

Miss Diehl, whose many years on the legitimate stage and in radio and motion pictures have taken her around the world, portrays an elderly woman whose life is threatened by a dangerous psychopath (Mr. O'Neal) whom she has hired as a handyman at her home.

Mr. O'Neal, resident leading man at Chevy Chase this season, has attracted sufficient favorable comment and attention by his work that he has been signed for a screen test by Columbia following the conclusion of his current contract.

"The Man," billed as a mystery-suspense chiller, will play through Sunday at Chevy Chase, with matinee and evening performances Sunday, and will be followed next Tuesday by Glenda Farrell, starring in "The Fatal Weakness."

The Chevy Chase management has announced that the theater's production last week (Joan Blondell in "Come Back Little Sheba") has broken all records, not only for Chevy Chase but for the entire country in summer theater attendance.

Pre-inductees may still choose service

First class petty officer Wesley W. Wichmann recruiter-in-charge, Navy recruiting station in Elgin announced that men who have received their notices to report for pre-induction physicals still may enlist in the Navy until September 1, 1951. The new extension will permit secondary school graduates and college students and graduates who have had their notice to report for pre-induction physicals cancelled for the purpose of enlisting in the service of their choice to enlist in the Navy. Under the new extension men may enlist up to the time actual induction notices are received.

The new extension goes into effect immediately, and Petty Officer Wichmann is accepting applications at the Navy Recruiting Station at city hall building, in Elgin. The recruiter also visits the municipal building in Arlington Heights every Tuesday from 9:30 a. m. to 3 p. m.

At Roosevelt

Miss Helen C. McLaughry, 851 Harvard st., Arlington Hts., is among 60 students of Roosevelt college who received the school's highest scholastic honor by winning a place on the Dean's Honor List.

The list includes all Roosevelt college students who have maintained an "A" average each term, and represents students from both day and evening divisions of the college's three schools of Arts and Sciences, Commerce, and Music.

At DeKalb

Northern Illinois State Teachers College conferred degrees on 90 August graduates in the 1951 Summer Commencement program in the college auditorium Thursday, August 2.

Northern held a reception for the graduates, their families and friends, in the social club room immediately after the commencement program. The summer class of 90, together with the June graduating group of 328, brings the total number of 1951 graduates at Northern to 418.

Included was William George Kleiner and Mimi Margaret Reeb of Arlington Heights.

Begonia show next week in Chicago

Next week Wednesday and Thursday, August 15 and 16, the Chicago horticultural society is inviting home gardeners of the Chicagoland to bring in typical examples of their beautiful blossoms of home grown tuberous begonias. These exotic richly colored flowers are blossoming now in many local gardens. But the average person sees little of them because they are usually growing in some secluded or shady part of the yard where they are not readily noticed by an outsider.

So the Chicago horticultural society expects to have hundreds of examples of different varieties of these flowers in yellow, rich deep red, pink and other tints shading to pure white.

The exhibit will take place at the garden center hall, third floor, 116 S. Michigan ave., opening at noon Wednesday, August 16. If sufficient blooms are available, and the weather is favorable for keeping them, the display will remain in place Friday from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Among the well known Chicagoland gardeners who have been invited to display tuberous begonias from their gardens, is Mrs. Bernice Martin, 203 South George st., Mt. Prospect. Any gardener, though, is welcome to bring in his own blossoms to display.

Presenting the Younger Generation

Little creeper

Chubby cheeks, blue eyes, light brown hair and a sweet smile belong to the first little cherub in today's group of little folks. She is Roberta Lindgren, 8 month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett H. Lindgren of 911 N. Chestnut st., Arlington Hts.

"Roberta is a happy and smiling little girl all the time," declared her mother. She is in the creeping stage and manages to get where she wants to. Ricky, her 3 year old brother, is a favorite with this baby sister.

Packed with pep

Packed with pep and overflowing with energy is a suitable description for young Kenneth Meyer. He is 16 months old, has blond hair, blue eyes and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Meyer of 434 S. Vail, Arlington Heights.

The mischevious "just watch me operate" twinkle in his eye confirms his mother's statement, "He's into everything." Kenneth enjoys looking at animal picture books and prefers playing with kettles to his toys.

Both paternal and maternal grandparents reside in Arlington Heights. They are Mr. and Mrs. George F. Meyer, 209 S. Walnut and Mr. and Mrs. George F. Held, 706 N. Dunton.

One of the boys

Pretty blonde and blue-eyed Gretchen Zimmerman tries to keep pace with her big brothers, Michael, 8, and Scott, 6. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David A Zimmerman of 614 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights.

Although just 20 months old, this active little girl slides down slides and swings on the swings. "She's a friendly child," stated Mrs. Zimmerman, "and when not with the boy, enjoys her hobby horse."

Sunny disposition

A sunny disposition, blond hair and blue eyes are chacteristics of this young man. He is Randy Blaisdell, 4½ year old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Blaisdell of 631 S. State rd., Arlington Heights.

"Randy is very much a boy, active and full of pep," said Mrs. Blaisdell. "He loves to ride his bike and play with the other children."

Newcomer

This bundle of sweetness, Nancy Jean Thompson, is an 8½ month old newcomer to the Roy W. Thompson family of 514 S. Dryden place, Arlington Heights. She has brown hair, blue eyes and two new teeth.

"Nancy is a happy baby and such a good one," was Mrs. Thompson's comment. She sits up alone, creeps and has clearly said those long awaited sounds, Ma-ma and Da-da.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Who goes first down the aisle of a motion picture theater, the man or the girl?

A. The girl precedes. And unless the man she is with is her husband, fiance, or someone she knows real well, she should turn to him and ask, "Is this all right?" This gives him a chance — should he be near or far sighted — to suggest a seat that is closer or farther away.

Q. How would a bride, who has no parents or living relatives, word the announcements of her wedding?

A. "Miss Mary Jane Jones and Mr. John William Smith have the honor of announcing their marriage, etc."

Q. How does a man introduce another man to his wife?

A. "Mr. Brown, I should like to introduce you to my wife" is good form.

Q. Is a diamond the only really "correct" stone for an engagement ring?

A. The diamond is the conventional symbol of "the singleness and durability of love," but it is quite all right to use other stones. Sometimes the girl's birthstone is used in the ring, and this is entirely correct.

Q. Should a girl place her purse and gloves on the restaurant table while she is eating?

A. Never. She should keep them in her lap. Or, she may place them on a vacant chair if she feels sure they are safe.

Q. Are the members of a bereaved family supposed to return all visits of condolence?

A. This type of visit is never returned.

Q. How would a personal letter of invitation to a home christening be worded?

A. "Dear Mrs. Smith: The baby is to be christened here at home next Sunday at half-past three, and we hope you and Mr. Smith — and the children if they care to — will come. Affectionately, Ruth Jones."

Q. How should a fruit seed, or a small piece of bone, be taken from the mouth while at the table?

A. Between the thumb and forefinger. Never with the napkin, or by pushing it out into a spoon.

Q. When a bride has no family, near relatives or guardian, who should pay her part of the wedding expenses.

A. In this case the bride should meet these expenses herself.

Q. Is it proper for a woman to send flowers to a man?

A. Yes, to any man she knows when he is seriously ill or convalescing. Cut ones or plants are equally suitable.
